Report of the Board of Governors

In the Spring of 1923, The Society of the Lying-In Hospital distributed a special pamphlet describing in detail its obstetrical and educational work, in the hope of arousing public interest in the institution and acquainting the people of New York with its imperative need of financial assistance. Because of the issue of this pamphlet the usual Annual Report, which contains so much similar material, was omitted. The following Report, therefore, covers the years 1922 and 1923.

On December 31, 1923, The Society of the Lying-In Hospital closed its one hundred and twenty-fifth fiscal year. For a century and a quarter this institution has been rendering a very necessary service to the people of New York, a service the greater part of which has been without remuneration. Many thousands of babies have been born within its walls and other thousands under its careful supervision in the tenements. Every little citizen of our State and country thus brought into the world has been given a clean, fair start in life; every mother has been tenderly and properly cared for and has been offered such education as would best fit her for the responsibilities of motherhood. Doctors from all over the world have had opportunities here for study and experience and these doctors all over the world to-day, including every State in the Union, are giving to countless women the benefit of their training in modern obstetrical science.

But all this could not be accomplished without money, and money is our greatest need to-day. As a rule, the average American citizen is open handed, where the need is great, but the need must be brought sharply to his attention. The report of a sudden disaster, a widely published Christmas appeal for especially needy cases, appalling accounts of warworn and starving children, all find a ready response in warm and generous hearts. But it is difficult and very expensive to advertise the every-day work and the every-day needs of a maternity hospital and so to stir the imagination and arouse the generous impulses of the people that they will open their purses in support of this public necessity.

And so the Lying-In Hospital faces the prospect of an appalling deficit on the budget for 1924 of nearly $370,000. It has faced such a deficit in the past and but for the continued loyal and substantial support of a very small group of friends it would long ago have been forced to close its doors or at least seriously to curtail its work. It is most unfair, it is most unwise, that this heavy burden should be upon the shoulders of a very few generous hearted and public spirited men. The Board of Governors cannot too emphatically urge the people of New York and indeed—for ours is a National institution—the people of the United States generally, to come to the assistance of a work so worthy and so indispensable by providing an endowment. Is it right that a small group should pay a large percentage of the cost of bringing into the world one-tenth of all the babies born on the Island of Manhattan? We confidently appeal to the American spirit of fair play.

We ask our friends to read the subjoined Medical Report of our Chief Surgeon, Dr. Asa B. Davis, which contains especially interesting matter, notably the reference to the application to maternity cases of a method of relieving pain.

We also call attention to the Report of the Treasurer and to that of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

The Hospital is under obligation to the loyal and competent members of its Staff and to them as well as to the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary the Board of Governors expresses its appreciation of good work well done.

To the friends who have contributed money, and particularly to the faithful few who have so generously met the heavy deficiency in income, and also to those who have brought happiness and good cheer to our patients through their donations of many material comforts, we offer our warm thanks and appreciation.

The loyalty of our good friends and of the Hospital Staff encourages us to go forward but, without a much greater degree of public interest and cooperation, we cannot be expected to continue indefinitely our present efficient service.

Medical Report

THE report of the medical activities of the Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York from January 1, 1922 to December 31, 1923, and the one hundred and twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth years of service to this community, is herewith submitted. It should be noted that this report covers a period of two years instead of the usual annual report. During this period 12,315 cases were under medical care in the different departments of the hospital. In this number there were 10,766 births, and the remainder were general cases. The latter number includes pregnant women who leave the hospital before confinement; former patients returning for treatment or operation; and, to a very limited extent, sick babies who were born in the service of the hospital and readmitted for subsequent care and treatment. Distributed as follows:

Out-Door Department (patients treated in their homes)

Applications.....	4,647
Treated.....	4,119
Confinements.....	3,774

In-Door Department

Applications.....	8,465
Treated.....	8,196
Confinements.....	6,881

In 10,655 confinements we must record 60 maternal deaths, a maternal mortality of less than .6 of 1 per cent, from all causes, such as operations; hemorrhages; kidney disease; heart clots and so forth. In subsequent pages tables will be found which show separately the statistics for 1922 and 1923. In a former report we have called attention to the discrepancy between the number of patients who apply for treatment and those who are actually treated by the hospital. We find a considerable number of patients make application for treatment, are examined and carried along under systematic observation and instruction during a longer or shorter period of their pregnancy, and then disappear. Some of the cases are accounted for by the fact that they are later cared for by private physicians, by previous arrangement, while others become emergency cases and are unable to reach the hospital and seek the nearest aid. Yet, in some measure these patients have received care from the Lying-In Hospital. Of the 60 maternal deaths, 4 occurred in the Out-Door Department—two each year. In 1922, one death was caused by post-partum hemorrhage and one from rupture of the uterus. In 1923, both deaths were sudden and due to cardiac disease. One had been given every possible care, was near full term and not in labor. When the call for help came it was responded to promptly by the Hospital, but the woman was found dead on the floor of her home, undelivered. Conditions surrounding these deaths and the care given the patients, shows that the Hospital did everything possible under the circumstances. During the past year, in the In-Door Department, 3 patients who were up and about, ready to be discharged on the following day having given no evidence of complications, were suddenly seized and died within a few moments, of pulmonary embolism. In 1922, in 5,468 confinements there were 33 maternal deaths. In 1923, in 5,187 confinements there were 27 maternal deaths. Knowledge of the condition of a considerable number of these fatal cases, the circumstances under which they died and the duration of their care, gave the Hospital no opportunity to change the outcome in these fatal cases—due to non-obstetrical causes. For instance, during the past year there were two sudden deaths from heart disease in the tenements, and three from the same cause in the Hospital; besides the three cases of pulmonary embolism previously referred to. There were two cases of criminal abortion, hopelessly septic when admitted, who died within the first forty-eight hours. One patient was admitted suffering from the effect of hemorrhage and died in ten minutes. Two cases of toxemia of pregnancy, one the convulsive the other non-convulsive type, failed to respond to treatment and died forty-eight hours after admission. We find that the maternal mortality among patients who have been wholly under the care of the Hospital is being progressively reduced from year to year. This is being brought about, we believe, by better and more systematic care and education of patients during pregnancy, together with fuller co-operation on the part of the patients themselves. The results are strikingly seen in the matter of reduction of toxemia patients, either of the milder form, or where the condition has progressed to the stage known as eclampsia. Thus, during each year under consideration there was one death from toxemia of the convulsive type and one from the non-convulsive type—four deaths in all from this cause. It is not so many years since eclampsia was one of the frequent and dreadful complications of pregnancy, and it was not uncommon for the hospital to be able to show ten or twelve cases in various stages at one time. Now, this condition had almost disappeared among patients who have been under our care during pregnancy; so that we do not have enough cases exhibiting this complication to give our interne staff, pupils and nurses an adequate idea of what this meant a few years ago. We are glad to note that this record can be duplicated in other well conducted maternity services. It has always been the policy of this Hospital to admit maternity patients up to the limits of its capacity, regardless of their condition, or, in many instances the probable effect on its mortality records. We believe that this policy should continue, and that emergency cases should be admitted and given the advantages of a well equipped hospital, for, some of these apparently hopeless cases are cured. But, we are also of the opinion that no great impression will be made upon the fearful mortality in this country from child-birth until the “emergency” patient disappears. Some private practitioners and many of the well conducted maternity services have shown the way. This kind of service should be given every expectant mother. It requires education of the patients themselves, as well as better education and more conscientious care on the part of many physicians who are practising obstetrics. The three great outstanding causes of death in this country are Tuberculosis, Child-birth and Cancer in the order named. The cause of tuberculosis is well known. Many cures are being effected, and in many cases the disease is being arrested. There is no thoughtful physician today who does not believe that with sufficient work, financial support, education and co-operation of the patients, this disease cannot be eradicated. The cause of cancer is not known, and until it is discovered we cannot hope to make any decided progress in its limitation. As a rule it attacks people in middle or later life. Millions in money and many of the best minds in the world are working incessantly towards this end. The loss by death from child-birth exceeds the loss of life incident to war. It carries off women in youth or the prime of life, and in an economic sense the loss is greater, relatively, than from cancer because of the broken homes and too often motherless children. We know that the loss of life incident to child-birth is largely unnecessary. It will disappear when it is taken out of the realm of things ordained by Providence—and means which we know are successful come into general use. For far too long there has existed in the public mind, a paradox which is still largely responsible for the present day bad results in obstetrics. First, that human reproduction is a normal physiological process. This may have been true in pre-historic times—it is not true now. Secondly, by the early recognition of its risks as indicated by the provision for prayers for women in travail, and the mute but eloquent evidences to be found in the inscriptions in many of our old cemeteries. It is true that about ninety per cent of the cases of child-birth are uncomplicated and practically free from danger; but it is also true that at any time some from this larger class have a way of gradually or suddenly appearing in the remaining ten per cent class in moderate or greater danger. A great step forward will have been taken when physicians and the public so revise their ideas relative to child-birth, that they will recognize and act upon the conclusion that every prospective mother is potentially in danger, and is entitled to the protection of careful oversight, instruction and skillful, systematic observation during the entire process. The pace is all too slow for our present day needs. Many lives are being lost unnecessarily; but, on every hand hopeful evidence is appearing. One cannot be even remotely in touch with this situation and fail to recognize that new and large well equipped maternity hospitals are being built in many of our cities. Many general hospitals are adding a maternity department to their plant; small towns and villages now have hospitals with provision for the care of maternity cases. The modern well equipped hospital plant in itself is useless unless its staff of physicians and nurses are possessed of the requisite training. There has never been a time when the competition for positions where obstetrical training is to be had has been so keen as the present. In this Hospital we are able to secure as house surgeons, men who have had two, three and in some instances four years training in other hospitals before coming to us. Occasionally, candidates for these positions will wait two years in order to secure this obstetrical training. There is a growing demand for a longer term of interne service. The educational work of the hospital has various phases. The under-graduate pupils, of whom we have had in the past two years 259, receive three weeks of rather intensive practical training; not enough, however, to render them expert, but a great improvement over a generation ago when practically none of this training was to be had. In this time, 167 graduate pupils have taken advantage of this course which is one of observation entirely. Our most effective work is accomplished with the interne staff who serve for a period of four months and perform much of the actual work. Of this class we have had fifteen house surgeons and fifty-nine assistant house surgeons. In addition to this, 332 pupil nurses have been given three months training which includes lectures from the heads of the training school, two lectures a week by members of the attending staff of surgeons, practical nursing in the wards, nurseries, delivery rooms, care of patients after delivery and work in the tenements. There is another phase of teaching which we believe is not so readily recognized but which is far reaching in its influence. Each patient is required to return to the Hospital every two weeks, or oftener if necessary, during her pregnancy for observation and instruction by members of the attending and resident staff. After delivery and shortly before these mothers are to leave the Hospital, they are gathered into a class by a nurse who gives instructions as to the subsequent care of themselves and their mode of life.

On two afternoons in the week, women who have been treated by the Hospital are entitled to return to what is known as the post-partum or gynecological class. This work is carried on by two members of the attending staff with a corps of assistants and nurses. As a rule from 50 to 70 patients take advantage of this. All are former patients seeking relief for minor or more severe complications, sequences to their confinements. All babies born in any service of the Hospital are entitled to care and treatment until they are two years of age. This department has for years been under the direction of Dr. Emily L. Coolidge, and in our belief there is no greater or more important work than this accomplished by the Hospital. Three afternoons in the week this class is held, and it is not uncommon for the head of the department and a staff of assistant physicians, nurses and lay volunteer workers to treat 150 babies in an afternoon. In addition to this several nurses are assigned to this department, who when they are not actively in attendance, are occupied in following up, in their homes, the babies who require more especial care. With a result that beyond any doubt, a large number of infant lives are saved; still more who would have been inadequately nourished are properly fed and kept in a growing condition. Mothers who receive instruction during their pregnancy, who are cared for during labor and after delivery in the wards and in their homes, who are given helpful talks prior to leaving the Hospital; and especially those who bring their babies for treatment, cannot fail to have received an education that is invaluable and far reaching. The care of the immediate patients of the hospital is undoubtedly a great charity. It seems to us, however, that this is over shadowed by the greater results achieved in the training of doctors and nurses who at most remain only a short time in the service of the Hospital, but in that time see many normal cases as well as examples of almost every complication known to obstetrics. Soon, these young doctors and nurses are scattered all over this country and Canada, and in smaller numbers to other countries. They carry with them the training they have received and put it into practice to the benefit of those who come under their care. Some of them are to be found as teachers in the obstetrical department of our medical schools. The staff and nurses working in the In-Door Department are given training in the care of patients with every necessary appliance and equipment readily at hand. Not infrequently, the bad results of some private physicians are excused because of the lack of these advantages. In the past thirty years this Hospital, in its Out-Door Department, has conducted somewhat more than 85,000 confinements in tenements; in many cases in surroundings which could not conceivably be worse, yet with results as regards maternal and infant deaths, hemorrhage, fever and other complications, which rival those obtained in the best hospitals. Only a comparatively small number of the more complicated cases occurring in the Out-Door Department are referred to the In-Door Department of the Hospital. The Out-Door Department is a supervised private practice on a large scale, under most unfavorable conditions, but with remarkably good results. In the training school for nurses we have lost Miss Marie Steel who came to us several years ago at a critical time when our nursing situation threatened collapse and turned it into a success; quietly reorganizing and placing it on a firm foundation. Her services seemed indispensable; but in Miss L. J. Napier another Directress was found who is keenly alive to the necessities and responsibilities, and this work is being carried on progressively well. Too much appreciation cannot be expressed for the Board of Governors who have provided the sinews of war and given so generously of their time and means in conducting the executive management of the hospital, thus making it possible to maintain this work with its present scope. The Ladies Auxiliary is continuing, as it has for many years, its beneficent and invaluable work in providing baby clothing, social workers, nurses for the follow-up work, assistants in the babies class and scrub women who work in the homes of the patients. The work of the laboratory is maintaining its high standard. The attending staff of surgeons is doing excellent work in caring for patients and teaching. This report would be incomplete did it not refer to one who is internationally known in medical circles as one of our foremost anesthetists, one who has devoted his life to the study of means for the alleviation of pain. We refer to Dr. James Tayloe Gwathmey, who for something more than a year and a half has availed himself of the ample material of the hospital in working out what he terms synergistic analgesia, for the relief of pain during child-birth. Unless we are much mistaken his efforts are to be crowned with success. With tireless patience and tact he has experimented along a very definite line and has been successful in securing the cooperation of the interne staff, nurses and patients, without which he must have failed. We do not feel, as yet, that this method has been perfected to its full possibilities; nor, can we depend upon favorable results in every case. But, in a large majority of the cases where this is used, pain is diminished materially or abolished, the patient becomes quiet or sleeps, partially waking during the pains. Labor is not prolonged, the patient does not require constant observation, and in no instance has either mother or child shown any evidence of injury from the employment of this treatment. Its use does not call for special skill or knowledge and it is being employed in our Out-Door Department with good results.

Some Points of Interest 1922 and 1923

- ¶ Foundation of Hospital—1799.
- ¶ Number of births to December 31st, 1923—141, 419.
- ¶ Number of ward beds—117.
- ¶ Average number in daily use—104.
- ¶ Endowed ward beds—6.
- ¶ Babies born each day, Outdoor and Indoor—average 14.
- ¶ Total births in Manhattan, under physicians—81, 417.
- ¶ Births at the Lying-In Hospital, Outdoor and Indoor—10, 766.
- ¶ Actual cost per day in wards—1922—$4.03 and 1923—$4.69.
- ¶ Maximum ward charge per day—$2.50.
 - Analysis of 12,104 cases for the years 1922 and 1923 shows as follows:
 - Patients meeting this charge—5,418.
 - Patients paying less than this charge—902.
 - Patients paying nothing, free patients; Indoor, 1,659; Outdoor, 4,125; Total 5,784.
- ¶ Expenses 1922 & 1923—$697,545.22.
- ¶ Income from Endowment, 1922 & 1923—$110,728.95

Work of the Hospital

During the two years ending December 31st, 1923 the Society in the two branches of its service treated 12,315 cases. The number of births was 10,766. The number of births in the Borough of Manhattan according to the returns from the Health Department was 105,099, of which 81,417 were reported by physicians, 23,682 by midwives and others. The Society cared for over 10% of the entire number of confinements in the Borough and more than 12% of those treated by physicians. The total number of applications for treatment was 13,112. In the Outdoor Department the number of applications was 4,647; the number treated was 4,119; the number of confinements was 3,774. The number of applications for treatment in the Hospital was 8,465; the number treated was 8,196 and the number of confinements was 6,881. The ambulance service brought to the Hospital 311 cases. In all its departments the Society has worked to the limit of its resources. Detailed figures showing the hospital's work during the two years will be found in the following pages.

Of 9,746 patients concerning whom information was obtainable 9,498 lived in front and 248 in rear tenements. 205 patients resided in basements, 979 on stoop floors, 1,620 on first floors, 2,308 on second floors, 924 on third floors, 1,259 on fourth floors, 891 on fifth floors and 560 not noted.

Charter of the Society of the Lying-in Hospital of the City of New York

An ACT to incorporate the Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York, passed March 1, 1799, chapter xxiii. Laws of 1799.

WHEREAS, THOMAS PEARSALL, JOHN CHRISTOPHER KUNZE, ROBERT LENOX, CORNELIUS RAY, ARCHIBALD GRACIE, JOHN STARK ROBERTSON, HENRY REMSON, WILLIAM HOUSTOUN, ANDREW HAMERSLY, JOHN CHARLTON, DAVID M. CLARKSON, WILLIAM JAUNCEY, J. C. VANDEN HEUVEL and others, influenced by principles of benevolence and charity, associated as an institution, under the style of The Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York, for the useful purpose of establishing an asylum for the reception of women in a state of pregnancy who are unable to procure the necessary medical assistance and nursing during the period of their confinement in child-bed, by their petition presented to the Legislature, have prayed to be incorporated, the better to enable them to carry into effect the salutary object of their institution; therefore

Be it enacted by the People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly. That all such persons as now are, or hereafter shall be members of the said institution, shall be and hereby are ordained, constituted and declared, forever a body corporate and politic, in fact and in name, by the name of "The Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York" and by that name they and their successors shall and may have continual succession, and shall be persons in law, capable of suing and being sued, pleading and being impleaded, answering and being answered unto, defending and being defended, in all courts and places whatsoever, in all manner of actions, suits, complaints, matters and causes whatsoever; and that they and their successors may have a common seal, and may change and alter the same at their pleasure; and also that they and their successors, by the name of "The Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York," shall be in law capable of purchasing, receiving, holding and conveying any estate, real or personal, for the use of the said corporation. Provided that the lands, tenements and hereditaments which it shall be lawful for the said corporation to hold shall be only such as shall be requisite for the purpose of erecting a public building and such houses or other buildings as may be suitable and necessary to the nature of the said institution, or such as shall have been bona fide mortgaged to it by way of security, or conveyed to it in satisfaction of debts previously contracted in the course of its business, or purchased at sales, on judgment which shall have been obtained for such debts; and with regard to all such lands, tenements and hereditaments so to be held by the said corporation as aforesaid, except such as may be for its immediate accommodation as aforesaid, or such as it may hold by way of mortgage, and whereof the actual possession shall be and remain in the mortgagors, their heirs or assigns, the said corporation shall be bound to sell and dispose of the same respectively within five years after it shall acquire the same, and shall not be capable of holding the same after the expiration of the said five years.

And be it further enacted. That all persons who now are members of the said institution, or shall at any time hereafter subscribe to the same shall be deemed and taken for members of this corporation, and that the property and concerns of the said corporation shall be managed and conducted by thirteen governors, to be chosen by ballot, by and from the said subscribers; that the following persons (that is to say) Thomas Pearsall, John Christopher Kunze, Robert Lenox, Cornelius Ray, Archibald Gracie, John Stark Robertson, Henry Remsen, William Houstoun, Andrew Hamersly, John Charlton, David M. Clarkson, William Jauncey, J. C. Vanden Heuvel, shall be the present governors of the said corporation, and shall continue in office until the second Wednesday in April, in the year one thousand and eight hundred, when a new election shall be made at the hour and place, to be appointed by the said governors; that the election for governors after the year one thousand and eight hundred, shall be held annually on the second Wednesday of April, at such place and hour as the majority of the governors for the time being shall appoint, of which election, public notice shall be given by the said governors for the space of one week, in two of the daily newspapers, printed in the said City. That if any vacancy shall happen among the said governors (so elected) by death, resignation or removal, such vacancy shall be filled by a special election for the purpose, to be held in the same manner as the annual elections are made and at such time and place as shall be provided for by the by-laws of the said corporation, and in case it should happen that an election of governors should not be held on any day when pursuant to this act it ought to have been made, the corporation shall not for that cause be deemed to be dissolved; but it shall and may be lawful on any other day, to hold an election of governors in such manner as the by-laws of the said corporation shall prescribe.

And be it further enacted. That the governors shall not take or receive any compensation for their services; and for the time being shall have power, to make and prescribe such by-laws, rules and regulations, as to them shall appear needful and proper touching the management and disposition of the stock, property, estates and effects, of the said corporation, and touching the duties and conduct of the officers of the said corporation, and touching all other matters as appertain to the business, ends and purposes, for which the said corporation is by this act instituted; and shall also have power to appoint an apothecary, house pupils, matron, stewards, nurses and servants, for carrying on the business of the said institution.

Provided, that for the appropriation or disposal of any of the capital stock, a number not less than seven shall constitute a quorum, of which number the president, or in his absence, the vice-president of the board, to be appointed in virtue of this act, shall be one, provided also, that such by-laws, rules and regulations shall not be repugnant to the constitution and laws of the United States, or of this State.

And be it further enacted. That the governors, at their first meeting, and also at the first meeting in every year next after the said annual election on the second Wednesday in April, shall elect by ballot, from their number a president, vice-president, a treasurer and a secretary, and that the officers thus elected, shall immediately enter upon their respective offices and hold the same until the next election of governors, and it shall be the duty of the president or vice-president to preside at all meetings of the governors.

And be it further enacted. That the governors shall propose at one meeting and elect by ballot at the next a number of physicians, not exceeding four to attend the said hospital, and to render all necessary medical aid to the persons admitted to the benefit of this institution, and that the said physicians remain in office until the next election for governors. after which time they are to be annually elected.

And be it further enacted. That this act shall be and hereby is declared to be a public act, and shall be construed in all courts and places benignly and favorable for every beneficial purpose herein intended.

Chapter 468, Laws of 1897.

An ACT to amend chapter twenty-three of the Laws of seventeen hundred and ninety-nine entitled "An ACT to incorporate the Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York," relative to subscriptions, the election of subscribers as members, and the elections of physicians and surgeons.

Became a law May 17, 1897, with the approval of the Governor; passed three-fifths being present.

The people of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly do enact as follows:

SEC. 1. Section two of chapter twenty-three of the laws of seventeen hundred and ninety-nine, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, that all persons who now are members of the said institution, or shall at any time hereafter subscribe to the same, shall be deemed and taken as members of this corporation provided such subscription is received by the society, and such subscribers are elected members of the said society by the board of governors thereof, in such manner as shall be provided by the by-laws of the said society; and that the property and concerns of the said corporation shall be managed and conducted by thirteen governors, to be chosen by ballot by a majority of the governors from the said subscribers.

SEC. 2. Section five of said act is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, that the governors of the said society, or a majority of them, shall immediately after the annual meeting of the society in each year, elect by ballot such and so many physicians and surgeons as they shall judge necessary to attend the said hospital, and to render all necessary medical aid to the persons admitted to the benefit of this institution; and in case of a vacancy or vacancies, to elect other physicians or surgeons in their places.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

BY-LAWS

of the

Society of the Lying-in Hospital

of the City of New York

CHAPTER I

ELECTION OF GOVERNORS

1. There shall be an Annual Meeting of the Governors on the second Wednesday of April in each year for the purpose of choosing by ballot by a majority vote of the existing governors, from the members of the Society, thirteen governors who shall manage and conduct the property and concerns of said corporation for the ensuing year and until their successors are elected, the hour and place for the holding of such meeting shall be fixed by the Board from time to time.

2. A vacancy among the Governors may be filled at any Stated Meeting of the Board by a majority vote of quorum of the Board.

3. A person subscribing to the funds of the Society a sum not less than five dollars, provided his subscription is accepted by the Board, upon being duly nominated and elected by the Governors, may become a member of the Society.

A person subscribing at one time to the funds of the Society the sum of five thousand dollars shall become a Patron of the Society, and any person so subscribing the sum of five hundred dollars shall become a Benefactor of the Society.

4. No person shall be eligible for the office of Governor unless he shall have so subscribed to the funds of the Society at least three months previous to an election.

CHAPTER II.

1. If any Governor shall be absent from three successive stated meetings of the Board, or from three successive stated meetings of any committee of which he shall be a member, his place as Governor may be vacated.

CHAPTER III.

MEETINGS OF GOVERNORS

1. The Board of Governors shall hold stated meetings on the fourth Tuesday of each month, except in the month of April, when the Annual Meeting for the election of Governors for the ensuing year as provided in Chapter I shall be held. The hour and place of meeting shall be from time to time appointed by the Board.

2. Special Meetings may be called by the President, or in his absence by the Vice-President, or on a written requisition of two Governors.

3. A number of not less than five shall be a quorum for the transaction of ordinary business; but for the appropriation or disposal of any of the property or money of the Society, except for the payment of necessary expenses, a number of not less than seven shall be necessary to constitute a quorum, of which number the President, or in his absence the Vice-President, shall be one.

4. At the stated meeting in April of each year, the Board shall elect from its number, by ballot, the President, Vice-President, Treasurer and Secretary, and shall appoint the following standing committees, namely:

1. A Finance Committee, to consist of three Governors.

2. An Executive Committee, to consist of five Governors.

3. A Committee on Nominations, to consist of three Governors, to whom shall be referred the names of all candidates who may be proposed for election to the office of Governor, and of all nominations for vacancies occurring in any of the other offices of the Society, whenever they may occur.

4. A Law Committee, to consist of three Governors.

5. The following shall be the order of business at the meetings of the Board.

1. Reading of the Minutes of last meeting.

2. Reading of the Minutes of Standing Committees.

3. Reports of officers of the Board.

4. Reports of Standing or Special Committees.

5. Unfinished business.

6. Miscellaneous business.

CHAPTER IV.

DUTIES OF OFFICERS

1. The President, or Vice-President, together with the Secretary, may, on authority of the Board, upon the payment of the principal and interest of any Bond and Mortgage held by the Society, execute a certificate of satisfaction thereof, or an assignment of the same without recourse.

2. The Treasurer shall have the custody of the funds of the Society, which shall be deposited in a Bank or Trust Company to be designated by the Board, and he is authorized to receive the interest or dividends on all securities and to give receipt therefor. In case of his absence or disability, the President or Vice-President is authorized to receive such interest and dividends.

3. The Treasurer shall keep books of account, and at each stated meeting shall make a report of the several sums by him received and expended.

4. The secretary shall have the custody of the records and papers of the Society, other than the securities and medical records; he shall keep fair and accurate minutes of the proceedings of the Board, and notify the Governors of the meetings. He shall have the custody of the corporate seal of the Society.

CHAPTER V.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

1. The Finance Committee shall, from time to time, give directions to the Treasurer in regard to the investment of the funds of the Society, and no change shall be made in any investment without the authority of the said committee. They shall, as often as once in six months, examine the Treasurer's accounts and make a report to the Board of the condition of the finances of the Society.

2. The Finance Committee shall have and exercise such other powers as may from time to time be conferred upon them by the Board of Governors.

CHAPTER VI.

CUSTODY OF SECURITIES

1. All securities shall be kept in a Safe Deposit Company to be selected by the Board, to which access shall be obtained by the Treasurer when accompanied by a member of the Finance Committee.

2. A Record Book shall be kept in which all visits to the safe deposit box shall be entered, with full particulars of the object of the visit. This entry shall be signed by the visitors, and the Record Book shall be submitted to the Board at each meeting.

CHAPTER VII.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

1. The Executive Committee shall have the supervision of all buildings and improvements belonging to the corporation, and shall hold stated meetings at least once in each month, and as often as the exigencies of business may require.

2. They shall audit the bills on receiving them from the Superintendent, and make a draft on the Treasurer for the amount of the same. At their succeeding meeting they are to examine all such bills to see that they are duly receipted. They shall notify the Superintendent each month of the total amount of money which may be expected for all running expenses during the following month.

3. They shall keep a book of minutes, and enter therein such business as may come before them, which book must be laid before the Governors at every monthly meeting.

4. The Committee may direct the expenditure of money or clothes for the relief of patients who from extreme poverty or circumstances of peculiar distress, may need such aid.

5. Whenever they think it necessary that a special meeting of the Governors should be called they shall apply for that purpose to the President, or in his absence, to the Vice-President. In the absence or inability of both to act, such meetings may be called by the Chairman of the Executive Committee.

6. The Executive Committee shall have and exercise such other powers as may from time to time be conferred upon them by the Board of Governors.

CHAPTER VIII.

1. The Board of Governors, or a majority of them, shall, immediately after the Annual Meeting of the Board in each year, elect by ballot such and so many physicians and surgeons as they shall judge necessary to attend the said hospital and to render all necessary medical aid to the persons admitted to the benefits of the Institution, and to conduct the educational and medical work of the Hospital. In case of a vacancy or vacancies, the Board of Governors, or a majority of them shall elect other physicians or surgeons to fill the same.

2. No Surgeon, officer, nurse or servant of this Institution shall accept any gift or bequest from or on behalf of any patient in the Wards or Out-Patient Department.

CHAPTER IX

1. Persons may contribute toward the endowment of beds in the Society's Hospital by the payment of a sum not less than $7,500, the annual income from which will be applied to the cost of maintaining a free bed in one of the wards so far as such income will suffice to pay such cost. Persons making such payments shall have such rights in respect to naming patients to the Society for treatment as the Governors shall from time to time prescribe.

CHAPTER X.

AMENDMENTS TO BY-LAWS

1. Any alteration or amendment of these by-laws must be proposed in writing at a stated meeting of the Governors, but cannot be acted upon until a subsequent stated meeting; when the same may be adopted provided a majority of the Governors shall approve thereof.

2. These by-laws shall take effect immediately, and all other by-laws of the Society are repealed.

In-Patients' Committee

In the past year Committee One has cared for 291 cases, of these 94 have been unmarried mothers, 88 married and deserted or separated, 74 married, 24 widows and 11 children.

As will be noticed in the foregoing figures, our greatest problem is that of the unmarried mother. Longer and more far reaching care is required to secure the girl's confidence, to reveal to her the obligation she owes to her fellow citizens and to awaken in her the instincts of motherhood, and to bring to her an opportunity for honorable self support without separation from her child.

The number of cases registering as married but deserted has been increasingly large during the past year, and in many cases the woman is found to be unmarried.

Unsettled labor conditions have added to wife desertions and many newly arrived immigrants and non citizen foreigners, who have been for some time in this country, make up a large percentage of deserting husbands.

The relief given to married women consists of country convalescent care after the birth of the child and temporary board for an older child at home during the mother's confinement, etc.

For widows the "widow's pension" is secured, employment found for her and her other children placed in a day nursery during her working hours.

Should the mother die in confinement and the father have no relative who can assume care of the baby, temporary commitment is arranged for, or private board secured if the father can afford to pay for same.

(Signed)

MARGARET K. PORTER,

Chairman.

In-Patients' Committee

1923

Committee One, the In-Patients Committee has had a very busy year. We have relieved 431 cases, which is a larger number than the preceding year.

The work of this committee is to help the mother and child in every possible way. If there is real need of clothes, a simple layette is given to the baby. If there are other children in the family who are necessarily neglected on account of the mothers confinement, we see that they are taken care of in a day nursery.

The most difficult case is that of the unmarried mother. The mother is encouraged to keep the child and every effort is made to help her and make it possible for her to do so. Often a mother who at first is very unwilling to keep the baby, after a few months would not give it up for the world. If the mother is weak after her confinement we send her to a convalescent home or to a temporary shelter. If it is absolutely impossible for the mother to keep the child, we try to place it in a home or institution where it will be well looked after.

The following agencies have helped us greatly by their cooperation:

Association for Improving Condition of the Poor	Infantorium (Dr. Fischer's)
Brooklyn Bureau of Charities	Jewish Board of Guardians
Bryson Day Nursery	Jewish Clearing Bureau
Brightside Day Nursery	Joint Application Bureau
Betty Loeb Memorial Home	Lakeview Home
Burke Foundation	McMahon Temporary Shelter
Babies' Hospital	Municipal Lodging House
Catholic Big Sisters	Maternity Centre Association
Catholic Protective Society	Russian Refugee Society
Church Mission of Help	State Charities Aid
Children's Welfare Federation	State Board of Charities
Children's Aid Society	S.S.—Bellevue Hospital
Christodora House	S.S.—French Hospital
Department Public Welfare	Prospect Hill Nursery
Grace Hospital	St. Barnabas Home
Hartley House	Social Service Exchange
Henry St. Settlement	United Hebrew Charities

Out-Patients' Committee

During the past year our committee has taken care of 1972 mothers. These women were all confined in their own homes often under very trying circumstances. Our nurses made 5094 visits on these cases, giving all the care necessary besides nursing to both the mother and child, and where the need was required, also food and clothing. When a nurse reports the room in bad condition, a cleaning woman is sent, who besides the general house cleaning work, will cook food for the older children and wash all soiled linen, etc. Our cleaner made 904 of these visits. In 64 rooms she found the conditions so filthy it required several washings before any order could be restored.

A patient discharged by the hospital but still needing food or help is always left under the care of some Charity Relief Society by our own social worker.

Our nurses made 216 Pre-natal visits, giving advice to future mothers in regard to diet and cleanliness, also teaching them how to prepare for the arrival of the baby.

We gave away during the year to these women who had no clothing provided for either themselves or the child, the following garments:

125	Wrappers
192	Shirts
189	Bands
789	Diapers
19	Night gowns
15	Binders
12	Sheets
22	Blankets
66	Caps

A total of 1340 sewed garments and 189 unsewed.

The Hebrew Maternity Society helped 19 families with layettes and clothes for the mother, also $10. to each family. Same aid as above was given by the Ladies of Charity to three Catholic families.

The following cases were given relief:

M.....St.

Patient had been operated on for appendicitis in New York Hospital two months previous. New York Hospital Social Service referred patient to Lying-In-Hospital Out-Door Department for care at delivery. Eleven children ranging from 16 years to infant, oldest working for ten dollars weekly. Husband's right hand deformed due to an accident, therefore unable to work. Patient helped to support family by rolling cigars. Two months rent due, no gas. Rooms indescribably dirty. Emergency relief given and layette provided. Nursing care and cleaners services given for several days. Case reported to Social Agency.

D.....St.

Four children oldest five years. Husband left home two weeks before, presumably in search of work. Patient reluctantly admitted he had been a deserter from the Army and had served a prison sentence.

Mother of patient frail and weak apparently from insufficient food, scrubbing in order to pay her own rent and that of her daughter. Patient had had no milk for two days. Gave emergency relief, clothes for baby and mother. Called a relief organization and a basket of groceries was sent that night. Nursing care and cleaners services given daily. C. O. S. took over case.

T.....St.

Deserted by husband six months before birth of child. Patient a janitress, seven children ranging from fourteen years to infant. Oldest girl getting twelve dollars weekly, which was the family's support. Gave clothes for infant and asked cooperation of Hebrew Maternity Society. This organization gave layette, clothes for patient and older children, also $15. Children committed through United Hebrew Charities. Mother and infant to Carolyn Rest three weeks through our worker, and oldest girl sent to a Hebrew Home for girls for the small sum of $4.00 a week during the mother's absence.

Respectfully submitted,

ALICE BUDD,

Chairman.

Out-Patients' Committee 1923

We beg to report that during the last year October 31, 1922 to October 31, 1923, we have had a total of 4776 cases. Our work consists entirely in caring for the women who wish to be confined in their own homes. Often these cases occur under very trying circumstances and our nurses have to make several visits on the mother and child. Besides our three nurses we have a cleaning woman who made 862 visits. We often find the rooms in a filthy condition and the older children needing attention. In 44 cases the cleaner was obliged to make several visits before the rooms were restored to order.

We gave away 1428 sewed garments and 171 unsewed garments. 116 records of deliveries complete with final examination furnished nursing centres.

Among those given relief

Patient delivered; operative, transverse, breech extraction, P. P. hemorrhage, packed. Foot of bed elevated 3 days. Case visited daily, special treatment being given including alcohol sponges, irrigations, etc., for twelve days. At the end of that period patient had another very bad hemorrhage and was brought into the Hospital where she was given two transfusions. Patient was discharged two weeks later cured.

Patient delivered, blood pressure over 200, cardiac condition, face cyanosed, general color bad. Patient advised strongly by attending doctor to come to Hospital but refused. Pre-natal care (1 visit daily) given by Miss Foy, Christie St. Neighborhood House. Our nurse visited case daily after delivery. Heart condition improved. Patient was warned by Doctor in attendance never to have another baby. Condition of baby at discharge good, that of mother vastly improved.

Patient delivered. Family receiving support from A.I.C.P. Husband a victim of lung trouble in Riverside Hospital, but came home day after delivery. Nursing care given, clothes furnished. Cleaners services were badly needed as house was filthy. After 4 days scrubbing floors and washing, conditions were improved.

Patient delivered twins, no clothes for babies or mother, no bed linen. Husband would not work, sat beside the stove and refused to get up to wait on patient. Several notes were given to him to employer explaining his absence but none were delivered. Condition in home impossible to describe, 8 children hopelessly unclean. Such were the conditions under which the nurses and cleaner labored. Floors had not been cleaned since birth of last child when our cleaner had the same experience. Catholic Charities found they could do nothing as patient refused to co-operate and husband too lazy to go back to work. Visitor however left an order for food to be delivered.

Respectfully submitted,

ALICE BUDD.

Clothing Committee

On October 24th, 1921, Mrs. Sturtevant had on hand $19.89 for the current expenses of the Clothing Committee. In December she received $50 from the Treasurer for this purpose. As $62.07 was spent during the year for expressage of garments to and from the organizations who make the garments up for us, for carfare and for the various small necessities of the Committee, we had on hand on October 23rd, 1922, a balance of $7.82.

We were forced to buy materials this year, as our stock, which had not been replenished during the last couple of years, owing to the high prices, had run out, and the amount of $456.13, for these materials was paid by the Treasurer. Our budget for the year was $1600.00 and of this we used for petty cash, materials and Mrs. Ludwigson's salary $1254.74, leaving us a balance in our budget of $345.26.

We received the following donations: from Mrs. J. P. Morgan, 164 knitted caps; from Mrs. John Parsons, 54 knitted caps; from Mrs. Dickinson, 2 pr. women's bed socks; from Mrs. C. A. Coffin, 20 knitted sacques and 33 knitted caps; from Mrs. J. Lidgerwood, 7 pr. bootees, some old linen and 2 flannel squares; from Mrs. Nicholas Kelly, 1 bassinet and 1 baby chair which were turned over to the Babies' Class; and from Mrs.

Porter, Mrs. Pennoyer and Mrs. Davisson several articles of infants and children's wear.

During the year we gave out 2580 garments through the In-Patients and the Out-Patients Committees, and the Babies' Class. The In-Patients Committee gives out dresses, bands, shirts, caps, diapers and blankets of our regular store, as well as articles which have been donated to us, to babies whose mothers are too poor to provide clothing for them, or to extraordinary cases where the mother has had no opportunity to buy clothes for the baby before entering the hospital and has nobody to do it for her until she is discharged. The Out-Patients Committee provides clothing in the same way to their babies in the tenements, and also uses our women's nightgowns, abdominal binders and sheets. The Babies' Class uses chiefly the diapers, with an occasional requisition for a cap or a sweater.

Until last December the shirts which we donated were made of flannel, and tied with tapes down the front. They did not meet the usual requirements of a baby's shirt as they did not lap across the front and thus did not protect the baby's chest and abdomen adequately. The Committee made inquiries from various organizations which donate layettes and garments as we do to needy babies, as to the kind of shirts which they gave out, and we found that they all used a factory-made shirt of the usual style and mostly cotton and wool mixed. The Committee then asked the Board of Managers if they would be willing to authorize the purchase for our committee of wool and cotton shirts and they voted us the necessary money. The new shirts have been pronounced a decided improvement by Miss Barton and Mrs. Sturtevant and the Committee hopes that the Auxiliary will feel with us that the added expenditure has been well justified.

The sale, through the Pre-Natal Clinic of all the special layettes made during the summer by the Sewing Class at Glen Cove, L. I., has assured us that our time and work have not been wasted. Every stitch in the garments in these layettes is done by hand and the patterns are the simplest practical ones, the object being to encourage the mothers to make good, durable, and at the same time attractive clothing for their babies at far less cost than that at which such clothing can be procured in the stores. The Committee has felt, and has insisted in spite of repeated appeals from the members of the Sewing Class, that the garments should be made entirely by hand so that the woman who buys the layette cannot feel that there is any work upon them which she cannot readily duplicate.

The Committee is very grateful to the organizations which have co-operated with it this year in making up the garments which are cut out in the hospital from material supplied by the Ladies' Auxiliary. These organizations are:

The House of Industry, and the Sewing Societies of The Church of the Holy Communion,
The Church of the Incarnation, and All Angels Church.

Respectfully submitted,
HELEN P. DAVISSON, Chairman.

1923

In the year 1922-1923 the Clothing Committee gave out 2856 garments through the In-Patients and the Out-Patients Committees and the Babies' Class. Of these garments, the majority are made for us by the Sewing Societies of the Church of the Incarnation and the Church of the Holy Communion and by the House of Industry from materials provided by the Ladies' Auxiliary. The other garments which we gave out were donated by friends of the Auxiliary.

We received donations from: Mrs. Stanhope Nixon: 60 yds. cotton material for women's nightgowns, and material for 40 baby blankets (summer weight); Junior Emergency Relief Society; 6 layettes; Anonymous: 1 muslin cap, 1 sweater, 2 coat shirts, 6 shirt bands; A friend, through Mrs. Locke; 6 caps, 6 sweaters.

The budget of the Clothing Committee for the year was $1100 of which we spent $825.71, leaving us a balance of $274.29. Our expenses are Mrs. Ludwigsen's salary of $600, baby shirts, materials for layettes and for sheets, women's nightgowns and binders, and petty cash for expressage of materials to and from the people who sew for us, postage and carfare, as well as needles, thread, etc.

We wish gratefully to acknowledge the co-operation of the organizations who sewed for us and who helped us during the past year, and of our kind friends whose interest and assistance made possible our very successful year.

Respectfully submitted,

HELEN P. DAVISSON, Chairman.

The Sewing Class which was started in 1921 was continued last summer and had 33 members. The meetings were held weekly during the months of June, July, August and September and 229 garments were finished.

These garments were made into layettes and put on sale at the Lying-In-Hospital. The price of the layettes being $5.00, which was approximately the cost of the material used.

Through the Pre-Natal Clinic we sold 32 layettes and there is a large demand for more, as the prospective mothers realize what a bargain they are getting.

Due to the sale of these layettes and to the dues charged to belong to the Sewing Class, we were able to give $300.00 to the Ladies' Auxiliary.

We are hoping to continue the class next summer as it seems well worth while.

Report of the Ways and Means Committee

1922 and 1923

Through the courtesy of a friend, a matinee performance at the Metropolitan Opera House was offered to the Ladies' Auxiliary in the Autumn of 1922, with the privilege of selecting the date for the opera and with a choice of Tosca, Tannhauser or Thais. Tosca was selected, and on January 10th, 1923, we held our benefit performance, from which we received the gross amount of $19,642.64, of which sum we paid $9000 to the Opera Co. to cover the cost of the performance, $30.75 for advertising, and repaid a loan of $1000 from a friend who put up that amount to bind the contract with the Opera Co., leaving us a net profit of $9611.89. This sum in addition to our regular income from dues and our gifts from friends being about $1000 in advance of our budget for the year, a majority of the Board of Managers at the February meeting voted to give the sum of $1000 to the Society of the Lying-In-Hospital.

Respectfully submitted,

HELEN P. DAVISSON, Chairman.

Report of Special Layettes

1923

The summer sewing class had a most successful season. We had 40 members and the weekly attendance was very good.

Twelve complete layettes were made and 31 extra garments.

In spite of the fact that we had to buy an entire new lot of material, we closed the season with a balance of $225.62, out of which sum we presented the Ladies' Auxiliary with $100.

There is an enormous demand for these special layettes and they are sold almost as soon as they are finished.

We hope to continue the class next summer with an even better report.

Total Number of Old Patients treated	10,109
New Patients	2,125
Total Number of Visits to Class	12,234
Total Number of House Calls made by the two visiting nurses;	2,594

The past year has been the busiest we have had in the Babies' Class. The attendance of the Class has increased enormously, so much so, that we have far outgrown our present quarters. It has been necessary to add another Doctor to our staff and a consulting surgeon, in order to give the babies the attention they now require.

Many times we have been obliged to borrow an extra Nurse's Aid from the Wards as our regular staff of nurses was inadequate to handle the crowds that came to our Class.

A large percentage of our babies are ill in some way and require special medical directions, others are follow up cases and those who come to be weighed and given feeding formulas.

We have added another set of triplets to our list, this time three little girls and all doing wonderfully well. As the mother has very little breast milk they have to be artificially fed to a great extent, but they gain from one quarter to half a pound weekly on an average, so we feel very proud of them.

During the summer months it is very difficult to find anyone in the City who is willing to brave the heat and crowds of our Class rooms, but this year one of our Volunteers attended all through the hot months and we are more than grateful to her for her faithfulness. The routine clerical work which the Volunteers do, saves the doctors much valuable time and enables them to attend to the medical needs of each baby.

Since this report was written one of the triplets has died. This was the strongest baby and was found dead by its parents after taking its evening bottle.

The probability is that there was trouble with the thymus gland.

Number of old patients treated at the Class.....	9,643
Number of New Patients.....	2,249
Total number treated during the year.....	11,892

While most hospitals and societies caring for babies agree that the past year has been a very healthy one for this set of patients, we have been kept busy at the Babies' Class, as usual. A great deal of our work this year has been devoted to preventive medicine. Mothers, even of the poorer classes, realize more and more that to keep the baby well is far better than to allow him to become very ill and then have him treated.

We have always had many cases of rickets at the Class, especially among the Italians and Negroes. So much work on this disease has recently been done at Johns Hopkins Hospital, and other places where research work is extensively carried on, that more than the usual interest in the disease has been felt. We have treated our small patients at the Babies' Class, according to the general plan adopted by the latest and best authorities and have some very interesting and satisfactory results. We insist that the baby must have a certain amount of out of door air and exposure to the direct rays of the sun, as well as the correct food. It is often difficult to persuade a busy mother with a large family, that it is absolutely necessary for her to take her baby out every day, just to prevent rickets or to aid in the cure of a case. But little by little, we are succeeding in making them understand the value of sunshine in treating this disease. Rickets to them usually means "bow-legs," and when we tell them their babies will have bow-legs if they do not go out enough, they are more willing to do as we suggest. It is far easier to make them give the prescribed cod liver oil, than it is to feed the baby correctly and take him out enough. Mothers of the poor, and even of the better classes are, alas, very prone to give medicines. Often if we prescribe only right food, baths, clothing and fresh air, the more ignorant mothers at the Class think it is not worth while to come, they must have medicine, according to their ideas. As Cod liver oil is now looked upon as both a preventative and cure for rickets, in connection of course, with sunshine, right hygiene and food, we have considerable hold on the mothers, by giving a very small bottle of cod liver oil and making them come back often to the Class for a fresh supply. By constant reiteration and frequent visits to the Class, we are thus able to prevent and cure many, many cases of rickets.

We also urge mothers to have their babies vaccinated against diphtheria. This is a very simple procedure, and one which the New York Health Department strongly urge all agencies treating babies and young children to carry on. When they reach the school age they are given the Schick test in the Public Schools, but from the time they are six months of age up to six years, they are very susceptible to this dread disease. Practically all babies and young children are liable to take diphtheria if they are exposed to a case. Therefore, we are urged to give them the toxin-anti-toxin, while they are very young. We hope by this general vaccination, to stamp out diphtheria just as small pox has been stamped out by the other form of vaccination.

We have had our usual quota of tiny, premature babies, several of these weighing two pounds or thereabouts, and most of them have done very well.

We are badly handicapped by lack of room in the waiting room. The crowds are so great many days, that we are obliged to refuse to admit any more because there is actually not standing space for them. We hope in the future that some plan can be devised by which we may have a larger room for the patients, while waiting for the doctor's examination. It would also be a very great advantage, if we could have two or three small rooms for cases which we suspect may be of an infectious nature, and one room in which a doctor might vaccinate the babies and make special tests, collect specimens for the Laboratory, etc. As it is now, every inch of space is taken up by the mothers, patients and medical workers, without half enough room to do some of the work we would like to do, have larger quarters.

Report of the Board of Governors

The Board of Governors of The Society of the Lying-In Hospital submits herewith its Report for the one hundred and twenty-sixth and twenty-seventh fiscal years of the Society, ending December 31, 1925.

From year to year we have endeavored in our Annual Reports and by circular letters and pamphlets to bring home to the people of this great city the urgent need of funds wherewith to carry on our work, and have pointed out that, had it not been for the great generosity of a very few devoted friends, the Hospital would long ago have been compelled to close its doors or at least very seriously to curtail its work. The response to our appeals has been disappointing. But as constant dropping wears away a stone, so we live in hope that through steady repetition of our appeals the day will come when our fellow citizens will realize and meet our need and it will cease to be true that, as intimated in our last Annual Report, one-tenth of all the babies born on the Island of Manhattan come into the world largely at the expense of a small group of generous hearted and public spirited men.

Since our last Report important changes have taken place within the Hospital building. The entire steam heating and plumbing systems have been renewed, through the generosity of Mr. John Pierpont Morgan, who, in defraying the heavy cost of these substantial alterations, has completed the gift of the Hospital building made by his father and has very greatly contributed to the increased comfort of the patients and staff. It is much to the credit of the Medical Superintendent, Dr. Spiller, and the Chief Engineer, Mr. Hermes, that this extensive work was carried on through many months without closing a single ward and without inconvenience to or complaint by the patients.

During the past two years there has been an interesting change in the proportion of patients attended in their homes as compared with the number cared for in the Hospital. There has been a distinct falling off in the number of outdoor patients and more than a corresponding increase in the number of those entering the Hospital, showing a gratifying tendency on the part of expectant mothers to avail themselves of the great advantages afforded by Hospital comfort and care.

During the clinical Congress which was held in New York in 1924, many successful clinics were arranged at the Lying-In Hospital, to the great satisfaction of the visiting surgeons and of our own Medical Department.

We ask our friends to read with care the accompanying Medical Report of our Chief Surgeon, Dr. Asa B. Davis, as well as the Reports of the Treasurer and of the Ladies' Auxiliary. We feel confident that a study of these Reports will convince the reader of the high quality of the service which is being rendered and of the need of funds which we cannot too earnestly emphasize.

Again we thank our good friends—the many who have helped in a material way by gifts of fruit, flowers and other creature comforts, and the few who have so loyally and generously stood behind us in our efforts to perform a very necessary service to the community and have given freely of their means to enable us to carry on our work.

It is fitting that we should close this Report with an expression of the gratitude which the Board of Governors feels towards the members of the Hospital Staff who, day and night, week in and week out, have given all they could in the way of faithful service and loyal support.

Medical Report

THE report of the medical activities of the Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York from January 1, 1924 to December 31, 1925, and the one hundred and twenty-sixth and one hundred twenty-seventh years of service to this community, is herewith submitted. During this period 12,244 cases were under medical care in the different departments of the hospital. In this number there were 10,829 births, the remainder being general cases, including women admitted during pregnancy for observation and treatment who left the hospital before confinement; former patients returning for treatment or operation; and, to a very limited extent, sick babies who were born in the service of the hospital and readmitted for subsequent care and treatment. Distributed as follows:—

Out-Door Department (patients treated in their homes)

Applications.....	4,010
Treated.....	3,548
Confinements.....	3,245

In-Door Department

Applications.....	8,852
Treated.....	8,696
Confinements.....	7,475

While in the period covered by this report there were 10,720 confinements with 66 maternal deaths, a mortality of .61 of 1% from all causes, there were in the year 1924 5,508 confinements with 23 maternal deaths, a mortality of .4 of 1%, which is the lowest mortality record in any one year in the history of the Hospital. A knowledge of the circumstances under which these patients died makes the record more noteworthy. For instance, one patient (non obstetrical) who had been confined many years ago, returned for treatment and died of abscess of the liver. Three died from a clot in the heart or lungs. In such cases the patient is seized without warning and succumbs within a few minutes. There is no known way by which this condition can be foretold or by any means ameliorated. Four patients suffering from the convulsive form of toxemia of pregnancy were admitted in such desperate condition that they failed to respond to treatment. Two others died from chronic heart disease of such a marked type that they were unable to survive the added strain of labor. It has always been the policy of this hospital to admit maternity patients up to the limit of its capacity regardless of their condition, or in many instances the probable effect on its mortality records. In a number of instances patients have been so ill that they have died in transit from the ambulance to the wards. It is fair to call attention to the fact that a considerable number of apparently hopeless cases are admitted and under treatment recover, although their histories are not segregated and accounted for in tables to be found in subsequent pages which show the statistics for 1924 and 1925. In former reports attention has been called to the discrepancy between the number of patients who apply for treatment and those actually confined. In 1924 and 1925 there are recorded 4,010 applications and 3,245 confinements in the Out-Door Department, a difference of 765 between the number of applications and those actually confined. In the In-Door Department there were 8,852 applications, and 7,475 confinements, the difference being 1,377. All of these applicants had a careful history taken and were examined at least once. Many of them were under systematic observation during a large part of their pregnancy, and are to be accounted for as being confined by private practitioners, mid-wives or in other hospitals. Some of them were taken in labor which progressed so rapidly that they were unable to reach the hospital or call for assistance from the Out-Door Department. We count as morbid every case carrying a temperature of 100.5° F. for twenty-four hours or over. Eclampsia, or what is known as the convulsive type of toxemia of pregnancy, is now a very rare occurrence in patients who have been under observation and care of the hospital during their pregnancy. Several factors enter into the make-up of these results. First, the diminishing number of emergency cases. Second, the co-operation of the patients with the hospital in its effort to safeguard them, by applying early in their pregnancy for examination, returning at regular intervals for observation and advice, and, where serious complications threaten entering the hospital for treatment. And, third, by better, simpler methods and closer observation during delivery and the period of recovery. All but a comparatively small number of the patients confined in the various services of the hospital, in a sense, enter into a contract with the hospital for care during their pregnancy and confinement. We find that there is a growing intelligent understanding on the part of the patients themselves of the benefits to be derived from this care. The result is that the hospital is filled to its capacity most of the time, with patients who have been under its care during their pregnancy. Beyond any doubt there is progressive improvement in the care of obstetric patients. From the reports of those in charge of maternities conducted by the city, where neglected cases are frequently sent, and also from our observation in consultation, we cannot be oblivious to the fact that there is still a woeful lack of intelligent supervision, and a conscientious sense of responsibility, on the part of a considerable number of those who assume the care of obstetric cases. Otherwise, it would not be possible for us to see instances of women who have been in labor three or four days without progress, often mutilated and infected, with an undelivered child dead, or so nearly so, that embryotomy is the only justifiable means of delivery; and yet, exhibiting conditions which must have existed previously, and should have been detected early enough for the patient to have been delivered by some method comparatively safe for both mother and child. Other cases in coma alternating with convulsions, the patients being so surcharged with intoxication that they fail to respond to treatment and die. With rare exceptions there must have been a time when these conditions were minor and would have been readily amenable to treatment. To some extent this state of affairs must continue until the people themselves are educated to a point where they will demand that it shall cease, and, until some means is found by which the activities of incompetent and in some instances conscienceless doctors, are deterred from obstetric practice. Since very early in the history of the human race it is probable that attempts have been made to mitigate the pains incident to childbirth, employing various herbs—the poppy, alcoholic preparations and so forth—with varying degrees of success. In 1848 Sir James

Simpson began using chloroform for this purpose. From many directions he was assailed by fellow practitioners, the press and from the pulpit, as one attempting to interfere with the divine decree concerning women in travail. Chloroform has continued to be a valuable agent. It cannot be employed safely over a long period of time, and, except in the hands of those skilled in the administration of anaesthetics. Ardent search has been made for some agent or method which should be inexpensive, simple in application, readily available, without danger to the mother or unborn child, and which should not delay the progress of labor. The Lying-In Hospital, after three years of research and experimentation has, we believe, come nearer to meeting these requirements than anything as yet accomplished. It is inconceivable that too much credit can be given to Dr. James T. Gwathmey who has given freely of his time and great knowledge of anaesthetics, not only in the hospital but also in a research laboratory. For a time the wards and Out-Door Department of the hospital became to all intents a clinical laboratory. Practically no results could have been obtained without the ample material supplied, the co-operation of nurses, interne and attending staffs under direction. The success of this method has required much more than the ingenious combination of drugs, and their application. It has necessitated the co-operation of nurses, doctors and internes in its employment. It has also required observation of trained obstetricians, and their interpretation of the clinical results, together with the employment of authority in such a way that it was not a matter of indifference whether or not the interne staff employed the method. Co-operation and team work were developed, yielding enthusiasm and results far beyond our expectation, until now, an average of eighty-five percent of the patients in the wards and those cared for in their homes, receive this treatment. The effect on various individuals has not been uniform. In a few instances we can truly say that childbirth has been absolutely painless from half an hour after treatment was begun. In almost all cases great relief is experienced, but in some we must report complete failure. We have not observed nor can we find report that in any instance either mother or child has been in any way endangered. Such success as has been obtained did not come about simply by the happy combination of drugs and their application. It is the result of repeated experimentation and changes during many months and in a great number of cases. With the ample clinical material it was possible to learn soon if we were going in the wrong direction, or possibly using harmful or useless agents; and, from frequent consultations between the clinical observers and Dr. Gwathmey and his remarkable genius in the employment and combination of anaesthetic and analgesic agents, a simple and dependable method has been developed in the Lying-In Hospital, which has changed the course of labor in its patients and has reduced their suffering to a very remarkable degree. In principle we believe that this method cannot be successfully changed. We still hope, however, that it is susceptible to simplification and improvement. As proof that we are not unduly prejudiced in its favour, it may be stated that this method is being employed with reported excellent results in other maternity hospitals and by private practitioners. Some idea of the educational work of the hospital may be gathered from the fact that 87 internes were granted diplomas during the past two years, 279 pupil nurses from 47 different hospitals were given three months training in obstetric nursing, 174 graduate pupils from 85 different medical colleges took the postgraduate course, and 218 undergraduate pupils from 30 different medical colleges took the usual three weeks undergraduate course. These pupils and nurses not only helped to care for patients during their residence in the hospital, but scattered widely to their various home communities, carrying with them, we trust, some increased knowledge of successful obstetric procedure as observed by them while in the Lying-In Hospital. Our applicants are given periodic and systematic instruction as to their hygiene and general care during pregnancy. After delivery and shortly before being discharged from the wards, patients are gathered into a class and given instruction by a nurse as to their own personal care and that of their babies. Three afternoons during the week, members of the attending staff hold a class for the treatment of mothers subsequent to confinement, to which any patient delivered either in the hospital or Out-Door Department may come for instruction, treatment and, when necessary, be directed to return to the wards for operation. Any child born in the service of the hospital is entitled to expert care until it is two years old. Too much cannot be said of the great work which Dr. Emelyn L. Coolidge has carried on in this line for many years. On three afternoons in each week, with the assistance of a staff of women physicians, volunteer lay workers and nurses, Dr. Coolidge treats from one hundred to one hundred and fifty babies. Several nurses, under her direction, where it is necessary follow up babies in their homes. Beyond any question many infant lives are thus saved. It is inconceivable that the large number of mothers who bring their infants to the babies class can fail to absorb much beneficial information and education as to the care they should take of themselves and their children. The nursing situation continues to remain a difficult problem. At times it seems almost impossible, and yet, under Miss Lila J. Napier, Directress of Nurses, in some way the situation has always been met, and patients adequately cared for. The laboratory maintains its usual high standard of work and efficiency. The Ladies' Auxiliary, in supplying funds to be employed for definite purposes, namely: the salaries of social service workers, scrub women, and, where necessary, food and clothing for mothers and babies in the tenements, does a helpful and beneficent work. We are not unmindful that the Board of Governors annually supplies large sums of money to maintain the work of the hospital; and while a niggardly policy is not followed, we are certain that there is a spirit prevalent among those in a position to call for the expenditure of funds, to avoid lavish and unnecessary demands for equipment and current expenses, in order that the money provided may be used for the benefit of as large a number of patients as possible.

Some Points of Interest 1924 and 1925

- ¶ Incorporation of Hospital—1799.
- ¶ Number of births to December 31st, 1925—152,248.
- ¶ Number of ward beds—120.
- ¶ Average number in daily use—107.
- ¶ Endowed ward beds—6.
- ¶ Babies born each day, Outdoor and Indoor—average 14.
- ¶ Total births in Manhattan, attended by physicians—78,651.
- ¶ Births attended by Lying-In Hospital, Outdoor and Indoor—10,829.
- ¶ Actual cost per day in wards—1924—$3.73 and 1925—$4.62.
- ¶ Maximum ward charge per day—$3.00.
Analysis of 10,660 cases for the years 1924 and 1925 shows as follows:
Patients meeting this charge—5,288.
Patients paying less than this charge—808.
Patients paying nothing, free patients; Indoor,
1,319; Outdoor, 3,245; Total 4,564.
- ¶ Expenses 1924 & 1925—$747,873.44.
- ¶ Income from Investments, 1924 & 1925—$127,224.27

THE BIRTHDAY FUND

The novel appeal for contributions to this Fund was first made in March 1922, and has met with generous response; 191 of the above listed subscribers, in the period covered by this Report, having made donations aggregating $3,362.08 thereto, which amount was expended for the purposes designated.

The Governors take this opportunity to express their grateful acknowledgements to those who contributed to this, and to the General Fund of the Hospital.

Statistics

1924 and 1925

During the two years ending December 31st, 1925 the Society in the two branches of its service treated 12,244 cases. The number of births was 10,829. The number of births in the Borough of Manhattan according to the returns from the Health Department was 97,592 of which 78,651 were reported by physicians, 18,931 by midwives and others. The Society cared for over 11% of the entire number of confinements in the Borough and more than 13% of those treated by physicians. The total number of applications for treatment was 12,862. In the Out-door Department the number of applications was 4,010; the number treated 3,548; the number of confinements was 3,245. The number of applications for treatment in the Hospital was 8,852; the number treated was 8,696 and the number of confinements was 7,475. The ambulance service brought to the hospital 269 cases. In all its departments the Society has worked to the limit of its resources. Detailed figures showing the hospital's work during the year will be found in the following pages.

Of the 10,307 patients concerning whom information was obtainable 10,128 lived in front and 179 resided in rear tenements. 156 patients resided in basements, 1,324 on stoop floors, 2,990 on first floors, 2,140 on second floors, 784 on third floors, 1,056 on fourth floors, 1,468 on fifth floors and 389 not noted.

Charter of the Society of the Lying-in Hospital of the City of New York

An ACT to incorporate the Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York, passed March 1, 1799, chapter xxiii. Laws of 1799.

WHEREAS, THOMAS PEARSALL, JOHN CHRISTOPHER KUNZE ROBERT LENOX, CORNELIUS RAY, ARCHIBALD GRACIE, JOHN STARK ROBERTSON, HENRY REMSON, WILLIAM HOUSTOUN, ANDREW HAMERSLY, JOHN CHARLTON, DAVID M. CLARKSON, WILLIAM JAUNCEY, J. C. VANDEN HEUVEL and others, influenced by principles of benevolence and charity, associated as an institution, under the style of The Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York, for the useful purpose of establishing an asylum for the reception of women in a state of pregnancy who are unable to procure the necessary medical assistance and nursing during the period of their confinement in child-bed, by their petition presented to the Legislature, have prayed to be incorporated, the better to enable them to carry into effect the salutary object of their institution; therefore

Be it enacted by the People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly. That all such persons as now are, or hereafter shall be members of the said institution, shall be and hereby are ordained, constituted and declared, forever a body corporate and politic, in fact and in name, by the name of "The Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York" and by that name they and their successors shall and may have continual succession, and shall be persons in law, capable of suing and being sued, pleading and being impleaded, answering and being answered unto, defending and being defended, in all courts and places whatsoever, in all manner of actions, suits, complaints, matters and causes whatsoever; and that they and their successors may have a common seal, and may change and alter the same at their pleasure; and also that they and their successors, by the name of "The Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York," shall be in law capable of purchasing, receiving, holding and conveying any estate, real or personal, for the use of the said corporation. Provided that the lands, tenements and hereditaments which it shall be lawful for said corporation to hold shall be only such as shall be requisite for the purpose of erecting a public building and such houses or other buildings as may be suitable and necessary to the nature of the said institution, or such as shall have been bona fide mortgaged to it by way of security, or conveyed to it in satisfaction of debts previously contracted in the course of its business, or purchased at sales, on judgment which shall have been obtained for such debts; and with regard to all such lands, tenements and hereditaments so to be held by the said corporation as aforesaid, except such as may be for its immediate accommodation as aforesaid, or such as it may hold by way of mortgage, and whereof the actual possession shall be and remain in the mortgagors, their heirs or assigns, the said corporation shall be bound to sell and dispose of the same respectively within five years after it shall acquire the same, and shall not be capable of holding the same after the expiration of the said five years.

And be it further enacted. That all persons who now are members of the said institution, or shall at any time hereafter subscribe to the same shall be deemed and taken for members of this corporation, and that the property and concerns of the said corporation shall be managed and conducted by thirteen governors, to be chosen by ballot, by and from the said subscribers; that the following persons (that is to say) Thomas Pearsall, John Christopher Kunze, Robert Lenox, Cornelius Ray, Archibald Gracie, John Stark Robertson, Henry Remsen, William Houstoun, Andrew Hamersly, John Charlton, David M. Clarkson, William Jauncey, J. C. Vanden Heuvel, shall be the present governors of the said corporation, and shall continue in office until the second Wednesday in April, in the year one thousand and eight hundred, when a new election shall be made at the hour and place, to be appointed by the said governors; that the election for governors after the year one thousand and eight hundred, shall be held annually on the second Wednesday of April, at such place and hour as the majority of the governors for the time being shall appoint, of which election, public notice shall be given by the said governors for the space of one week, in two of the daily newspapers, printed in the said City. That if any vacancy shall happen among the said governors (so elected) by death, resignation or removal, such vacancy shall be filled by a special election for the purpose, to be held in the same manner as the annual elections are made and at such time and place as shall be provided for by the by-laws of the said corporation, and in case it should happen that an election of governors should not be held on any day when pursuant to this act it ought to have been made, the corporation shall not for that cause be deemed to be dissolved; but it shall and may be lawful, on any other day, to hold an election of governors in such manner as the by-laws of the said corporation shall prescribe.

And be it further enacted. That the governors shall not take or receive any compensation for their services; and for the time being shall have power, to make and prescribe such by-laws, rules and regulations, as to them shall appear needful and proper touching the management and disposition of the stock, property, estates and effects, of the said corporation, and touching the duties and conduct of the officers of the said corporation, and touching all other matters as appertain to the business, ends and purposes, for which the said corporation is by this act instituted; and shall also have power to appoint an apothecary, house pupils, matron, stewards, nurses and servants, for carrying on the business of the said institution.

Provided, that for the appropriation or disposal of any of the capital stock, a number not less than seven shall constitute a quorum, of which number the president, or in his absence, the vice-president of the board, to be appointed in virtue of this act, shall be one, provided also, that such by-laws, rules and regulations shall not be repugnant to the constitution and laws of the United States, or of this State.

And be it further enacted. That the governors, at their first meeting, and also at the first meeting in every year next after the said annual election on the second Wednesday in April, shall elect by ballot, from their number a president, vice-president, a treasurer and a secretary, and that the officers thus elected, shall immediately enter upon their respective offices and hold the same until the next election of governors, and it shall be the duty of the president or vice-president to preside at all meetings of the governors.

And be it further enacted. That the governors shall propose at one meeting and elect by ballot at the next a number of physicians, not exceeding four to attend the said hospital, and to render all necessary medical aid to the persons admitted to the benefit of this institution, and that the said physicians remain in office until the next election for governors, after which time they are to be annually elected.

And be it further enacted. That this act shall be and hereby is declared to be a public act, and shall be construed in all courts and places benignly and favorable for every beneficial purpose herein intended.

Chapter 468, Laws of 1897.

An ACT to amend chapter twenty-three of the Laws of seventeen hundred and ninety-nine entitled "An ACT to incorporate the Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York," relative to subscriptions, the election of subscribers as members, and the elections of physicians and surgeons.

Became a law May 17, 1897, with the approval of the Governor; passed three-fifths being present.

The people of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly do enact as follows:

SEC. 1. Section two of chapter twenty-three of the laws of seventeen hundred and ninety-nine, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, that all persons who now are members of the said institution, or shall at any time hereafter subscribe to the same, shall be deemed and taken as members of this corporation provided such subscription is received by the society, and such subscribers are elected members of the said society by the board of governors thereof, in such manner as shall be provided by the by-laws of the said society; and that the property and concerns of the said corporation shall be managed and conducted by thirteen governors, to be chosen by ballot by a majority of the governors from the said subscribers.

SEC. 2. Section five of said act is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, that the governors of the said society, or a majority of them, shall immediately after the annual meeting of the society in each year, elect by ballot such and so many physicians and surgeons as they shall judge necessary to attend the said hospital, and to render all necessary medical aid to the persons admitted to the benefit of this institution; and in case of a vacancy or vacancies, to elect other physicians or surgeons in their places.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

BY-LAWS

of the

Society of the Lying-in Hospital

of the City of New York

CHAPTER I

ELECTION OF GOVERNORS

1. There shall be an Annual Meeting of the Governors on the second Wednesday of April in each year for the purpose of choosing by ballot by a majority vote of the existing governors, from the members of the Society, thirteen governors who shall manage and conduct the property and concerns of said corporation for the ensuing year and until their successors are elected, the hour and place for the holding of such meeting shall be fixed by the Board from time to time.

2. A vacancy among the Governors may be filled at any Stated Meeting of the Board by a majority vote of quorum of the Board.

3. A person subscribing to the funds of the Society a sum not less than five dollars, provided his subscription is accepted by the Board, upon being duly nominated and elected by the Governors, may become a member of the Society.

A person subscribing at one time to the funds of the Society the sum of five thousand dollars shall become a Patron of the Society, and any person so subscribing the sum of five hundred dollars shall become a Benefactor of the Society.

4. No person shall be eligible for the office of Governor unless he shall have so subscribed to the funds of the Society at least three months previous to an election.

CHAPTER II.

1. If any Governor shall be absent from three successive stated meetings of the Board, or from three successive stated meetings of any committee of which he shall be a member, his place as Governor may be vacated.

CHAPTER III.

MEETINGS OF GOVERNORS

1. The Board of Governors shall hold stated meetings on the fourth Tuesday of each month, except in the month of April, when the Annual Meeting for the election of Governors for the ensuing year as provided in Chapter I shall be held. The hour and place of meeting shall be from time to time appointed by the Board.

2. Special Meetings may be called by the President, or in his absence by the Vice-President, or on a written requisition of two Governors.

3. A number of not less than five shall be a quorum for the transaction of ordinary business; but for the appropriation or disposal of any of the property or money of the Society, except for the payment of necessary expenses, a number of not less than seven shall be necessary to constitute a quorum, of which number the President, or in his absence the Vice-President, shall be one.

4. At the stated meeting in April of each year, the Board shall elect from its number, by ballot, the President, Vice-President, Treasurer and Secretary, and shall appoint the following standing committees, namely:

1. A Finance Committee, to consist of three Governors.

2. An Executive Committee, to consist of five Governors.

3. A Committee on Nominations, to consist of three Governors, to whom shall be referred the names of all candidates who may be proposed for election to the office of Governor, and of all nominations for vacancies occurring in any of the other offices of the Society, whenever they may occur.

4. A Law Committee, to consist of three Governors.

5. The following shall be the order of business at the meetings of the Board.

1. Reading of the Minutes of last meeting.

2. Reading of the Minutes of Standing Committees.

3. Reports of officers of the Board.

4. Reports of Standing or Special Committees.

5. Unfinished business.

6. Miscellaneous business.

CHAPTER IV.

DUTIES OF OFFICERS

1. The President, or Vice-President, together with the Secretary, may, on authority of the Board, upon the payment of the principal and interest of any Bond and Mortgage held by the Society, execute a certificate of satisfaction thereof, or an assignment of the same without recourse.

2. The Treasurer shall have the custody of the funds of the Society which shall be deposited with such Bankers, Bank or Trust Company as may be designated by the Board of Governors, and he is authorized to receive the interest or dividends on all securities and to give receipt therefor. In case of his absence or disability, the President or Vice-President is authorized to receive such interest or dividends.

3. The Treasurer shall keep books of account, and at each stated meeting shall make a report of the several sums by him received and expended.

4. The secretary shall have the custody of the records and papers of the Society, other than the securities and medical records; he shall keep fair and accurate minutes of the proceedings of the Board, and notify the Governors of the meetings. He shall have the custody of the corporate seal of the Society.

CHAPTER V.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

1. The Finance Committee shall, from time to time, give directions to the Treasurer in regard to the investment of the funds of the Society, and no change shall be made in any investment without the authority of the said committee. They shall, as often as once in six months, examine the Treasurer's accounts and make a report to the Board of the condition of the finances of the Society.

2. The Finance Committee shall have and exercise such other powers as may from time to time be conferred upon them by the Board of Governors.

CHAPTER VI.

CUSTODY OF SECURITIES

All securities shall be deposited with such Bankers, Bank or Trust Company as may be designated by the Board of Governors. Securities so deposited to be withdrawn only upon the written order of the Society of the Lying-In Hospital when signed and countersigned by any two of the following officers: President, Vice-President, Secretary or Treasurer, or upon the signature of any one of the above officers, when countersigned by any other Governor of the Society.

CHAPTER VII.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

1. The Executive Committee shall have the supervision of all buildings and improvements belonging to the corporation, and shall hold stated meetings at least once in each month and as often as the exigencies of business may require.

2. They shall audit the bills on receiving them from the Superintendent, and make a draft on the Treasurer for the amount of the same. At their succeeding meeting they are to examine all such bills to see that they are duly receipted. They shall notify the Superintendent each month of the total amount of money which may be expected for all running expenses during the following month.

3. They shall keep a book of minutes, and enter therein such business as may come before them, which book must be laid before the Governors at every monthly meeting.

4. The Committee may direct the expenditure of money or clothes for the relief of patients who from extreme poverty or circumstances of peculiar distress, may need such aid.

5. Whenever they think it necessary that a special meeting of the Governors should be called they shall apply for that purpose to the President, or in his absence, to the Vice-President. In the absence or inability of both to act, such meetings may be called by the Chairman of the Executive Committee.

6. The Executive Committee shall have and exercise such other powers as may from time to time be conferred upon them by the Board of Governors.

CHAPTER VIII.

1. The Board of Governors, or a majority of them, shall, immediately after the Annual Meeting of the Board in each year, elect by ballot such and so many physicians and surgeons as they shall judge necessary to attend the said hospital and to render all necessary medical aid to the persons admitted to the benefits of the Institution, and to conduct the educational and medical work of the Hospital. In case of a vacancy or vacancies, the Board of Governors, or a majority of them shall elect other physicians or surgeons to fill the same.

2. No Surgeon, officer, nurse or servant of this Institution shall accept any gift or bequest from or on behalf of any patient in the Wards or Out-Patient Department.

CHAPTER IX

1. Persons may contribute toward the endowment of beds in the Society's Hospital by the payment of a sum not less than $7,500, the annual income from which will be applied to the cost of maintaining a free bed in one of the wards so far as such income will suffice to pay such cost. Persons making such payments shall have such rights in respect to naming patients to the Society for treatment as the Governors shall from time to time prescribe.

CHAPTER X.

AMENDMENTS TO BY-LAWS

1. Any alteration or amendment of these by-laws must be proposed in writing at a stated meeting of the Governors, but cannot be acted upon until a subsequent stated meeting; when the same may be adopted provided a majority of the Governors shall approve thereof.

2. These by-laws shall take effect immediately, and all other by-laws of the Society are repealed.

In-Patients' Committee

The duty of Committee No. 1 is to look after the mother when she comes into the Hospital and to help her in every possible way. In many cases there are older children whose care at this time is a great problem to the mother. We, through the aid of other charities, see that these children are cared for while the mother is in the Hospital.

Our Social Service Workers' hardest problem is the unmarried mother. If it is possible the mother is urged to keep her baby and we help her in every way to do this. If, however, it is impossible, we place the baby in a home where it will be cared for. Sometimes special cases arise when an expensive bandage is needed. If it is quite beyond the patient's means, the Committee No. 1 pays for it or for part of it.

This past year, we had 718 cases of which 314 were married women, 215 separated or deserted and 189 unmarried girls. It is easy to see that to most of these girls help was an absolute necessity. We placed 169 children, sent 90 patients to convalescent homes, sent 22 babies to other hospitals for special treatment.

Our worker, Miss Goodman, had 2688 ward visits, 19 outside visits and 1761 office interviews.

REPRESENTATIVE CASES

Patient I. D. F.—Unmarried, 45 years, born in Rumania,—no relatives. Patient admitted to the Hospital when six months pregnant. Besides the foetus there was a large tumor in the uterus,—which was removed. Patient was transferred to Metropolitan Hospital. Caes. Sect. was done in February,—patient had a fine 9 lb. boy. Work was found for patient where she could keep her baby with her.

2. E. C.—Married, 22 years—husband deserted her when he knew she was pregnant. Patient worked until time of confinement. Sent to the country when she left the hospital. On her return baby was placed in Infanorium and mother returned to her work.

3. O. D.—Married, 30 years—admitted to the hospital for observation. Had tuberculosis of the throat. Husband had been ill in Presbyterian Hospital for three months. Patient was delivered in July,—and a month later was sent to Saranac. Family was very poor and Committee I gave her some heavy underclothes. Baby and the older child placed in a home. Patient died in September, and the father wanted the children home. Found a good reliable woman who would keep house for them and they are getting along nicely now.

Committee I cares for the women who are confined in the Lying-In Hospital. Through the help of outside cooperating agencies, it gives whatever aid is needed both to the mother and to the children.

In the past year, our social service worker helped 755 women. Of that number 288 were married, 262, unmarried, 205, deserted, reported as widowed. Our workers paid 2195 additional visits; had 1908 office interviews, 755 outside visits. This is a considerable increase upon last year's work. There were 37 more cases and a proportionate amount of visits to each.

We placed 162 children in shelter and sent 41 patients to convalescent homes.

REPRESENTATIVE CASES

Patient I. M. S. Married, 22 years. Husband in sanitarium with T. B. Patient placed in temporary shelter until confinement. On discharge from hospital she was given a winter coat and a complete layette for the baby. Husband meanwhile was discharged from sanitarium and had secured a position which aided them in restoring their home.

Patient II. M. M. Married, 25 years. Admitted to hospital; family in destitute circumstances, due to the husband's being out of work for a length of time. A worker was sent to her home and had her two children placed in temporary homes. A position was secured for the husband the next day, thus enabling him to draw a week's salary before patient returned home.

Patient III. R. T. Married, 27 years. Husband an ex-Service man, died in Naval hospital one month prior to patient's confinement. Three older children were placed in temporary shelter. Widow's pension was secured, thus permitting mother to stay at home and care for family.

Out-Patients' Committee

Committee II's work consists in the care and relief of women confined in their own homes. During the past year our nurses made 2886 visits on 901 women. Often these cases were delivered under most trying conditions. Our cleaner made 769 visits. She not only cleans the rooms, but does all the wash and cooking for the older children. We made 252 pre-natal visits, giving the prospective mother advice in regard to diet and preparation.

We gave away,

143	Dresses
124	Diapers
66	Bands
64	Shirts
30	Blankets
6	Shawls
188	Binders
27	Night gowns
6	Sheets

a total of 720 sewed garments and 66 unsewed.

Among the cases given relief,

A.....St.

Cause of still birth.

Out-door service doctors were called in after mid-wife was several hours on the case. Doctors arrived to find that in trying to deliver child the mid-wife had decapitated the baby and broken one arm. By that time the doctor could only go ahead and deliver the rest of the body. It was a very large baby. The head delivered after a great deal of effort on the part of the mother, but the shoulders became fast and in pulling the head, to get the shoulders free, the mid-wife had severed the head.

We carried the case and the patient made a very good recovery and was most grateful for the care the doctors had given her.

C.....St.

Five living children. Mother separated from her husband a few months ago because he gambled and did not support the family. Patient received $12. per week from Court of Domestic Relations. We reported case to Children's Welfare, as we had reason to believe mother was not giving children proper care. Boy of 10 was a cardiac case, also had rheumatism in his knees and received no treatment. Girl of two years had deformed lower extremities and boy of 14 months very much underfed.

F.....St.

Husband a cook in Broad Street Hospital. Had to give up his job because of mental condition. Worked two weeks in restaurant. Left that job at the time the baby was born. He kept asking everyone to do something to fix his head. Arrangements were made to have our doctors examine him. They decided he should be put under observation. While we were trying to get his brother-in-law to take him to Bellevue Hospital he tried to commit suicide by putting three small cuts in his neck with a razor. Committed to Bellevue and later transferred to Manhattan State Asylum. A. I. C. P. caring for mother and children.

East 13th St.

Mother living in two rooms in rear house. At the time the baby came it was so cold we found it almost impossible to heat the house. Baby had to be bathed on my knee and sitting as close as it was possible to get to the stove.

Two other children had bad colds.

Husband had just returned from Bellevue Hospital where he had undergone an operation. He had been shot twice through the liver in a street fight. On my second visit I found the two small boys eating tea and bread. We provided food for week-end. Reported case to A. I. P. C. who came in two weeks later.

However, a friend returned to City on Monday, gave them some money, took the husband back to Hospital for two weeks. On March 17th, saw him last. He appears to be much better, but has a fistula, which will take from six weeks to two months more to heal.

284 Elizabeth St.

On December 2nd/24—Twin boys. Three other boys in family. First child normal delivery. Second child, internal podalic version breech extraction. Mother and babies in good condition.

Case referred to Mrs. Kirchberger of the Ethical Culture Food Committee, who is giving them two quarts of milk a day for one month, as the husband said it was impossible for him to buy enough milk for two babies.

13 Spring St.

On December 8th/24—Delivery Breech Extraction. Baby found to have Spina-bifida, meningocele, spastic lower extremities. Bilateral club feet. Mother and baby transferred to Indoor Service. Catholic charities are looking after the family until Mother is home and husband returns to work.

738 E. 5th St.

On December 9th/24—Mid forceps delivery. Baby girl. Has hare lip and cleft palate. Baby fed breast milk for seven days with medicine dropper. Now fed with Brecht feeder. Will be operated on by Dr. Wing in a few weeks.

ALICE BUDD,

Chairman.

Out-Patients' Committee

1925

During the past year a total number of 2686 visits have been made by our nurses. 870 washings were made by our cleaner. A total number of 634 garments were given out. Of these there were:—

105	Dresses
274	Diapers
66	Bands
67	Shirts
35	Blankets
11	Shawls
10	Caps
18	Abdominal binders
34	Nightgowns
14	Sheets

Eleven sets of twins have been delivered in this district and cared for by the Out Patient department during the year 1925.

Among the unusual cases given relief this year were the following:—

284 Mulberry St.,

The mother, after a spontaneous delivery, had a normal recovery. The baby had severe conjunctivitis. The doctors visited the baby daily to prescribe for its eyes, until it was discharged. This was the second baby in the family who had bad eyes at birth, and the mother is almost blind. For five years the Children's Court kept her children in Spark Hill, N. J. They have been allowed home recently. The husband was arrested for peddling dope during the mother's illness, and will have to go to prison for five years. This is his second term. Last time he served three years.

256 E. 10 St.

Mother delivered spontaneously after a prolonged hard labor. She ran a temperature from the time of delivery March 17/25. Complained of severe headache, abdominal pain, pain in lumbar region, nausea and vomiting on the 12th day. Abdominal pain became localized, patient was brought to hospital, operated on for Acute Appendicitis. She died two days later.

Baby was normal—a beautiful big boy.

After the funeral, a friend who had cared for the mother all during her illness, and who had lost her own baby in January of this year on the 6th floor of the Lying In Hospital, took the baby to her home. The other three children are being cared for by friends and the husband who is a contractor in plaster and marble work. At the age of three months the baby was doing well.

331 E. 23rd St.

This mother was a patient of the out-door service eight months ago. Husband came to me asking to have her sent to the country as she was very nervous and rundown. I sent her to Caroline Rest March 27/25. She returned to city same night, after which she became worse. A Miss Zucker phoned me that she was in danger of killing her two children if something was not done for her.

Case was reported to Association for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. They placed the children; put mother under observation in Bellevue Hospital, after which she was sent to Sanitorium. The last report in case was that she was improving.

73 1st Ave.

Normal delivery, now 7 days P. P. Has had a temperature from 100 to 101 for two days. Had a left salpingitis or pelvic thrombo-phlebitis with a possible left pyelitis. She has had six visits—given sponge bath and alcohol rub. Cleaner is also giving her services.

245 E. 30th St.

Normal delivery. Mother has been quite ill. Temperature 100 or over for three days. Has a possible pyelitis. Given sponge bath and alcohol rub once daily. Baby in good condition.

In the year from December, 1923, to December, 1924, the Clothing Committee gave out to the patients of the Lying-In Hospital, whose babies were born either in the Hospital or in the tenements, 1256 garments. The fact that fewer were given away this year than last, is partially due to our efforts towards greater economy which we inaugurated about the middle of last year, and probably partially to greater prosperity among our patients, as the Committee assures the Auxiliary that clothing has not been refused in any case where it was needed. The Clothing Committee felt last year that it was being imposed upon in some cases where more garments were given to one patient than seemed quite necessary, so that in the year just past we have tried to stand as a friend in need without being too unduly lavish in our donations.

The Clothing Committee has received as donations: From Mrs. Morgan Hamilton, $50.; from Mrs. Robert A. Lovett, 100 summer weight baby shirts, and 100 winter weight baby shirts; from Mrs. Davisson, 50 summer blankets.

Of its budget of $1100, the Committee has spent $600 in salary to Mrs. Ludwigson, $335.17 for materials and $25. for express to and from the organizations which make up the garments for us, making a total expenditure of $980.17, and leaving us a balance in our budget of $119.83.

In closing, the Committee wishes gratefully to acknowledge the co-operation of the Friends, the House of Industry and the Sewing Societies of the Churches of the Incarnation and the Holy Communion, and All Angels Church, which organizations have sewn for us from materials supplied by the Ladies Auxiliary the garments which we, on their behalf, have given out to needy patients of the Hospital.

HELEN P. DAVISSON,
Chairman.

Clothing Committee 1925

The policy which was inaugurated last year by the Clothing Committee of economy in donations of baby clothing to patients and of giving only where investigation proved it necessary, has been so successful in the past year that we have cut down our donations from 2856 garments given out in 1923 and 1256 in 1924, to 993 in 1925. Having found that we were being more and more imposed upon by patients well able to provide clothing for their children, and that in many cases more clothing was given to one patient than was necessary or advisable, we began refusing all except the needy patients the complete layette which they had come to look upon as a perquisite, and we found that along with the consequent economy to the Auxiliary, there was apparently no dissatisfaction among the mothers, who are only too delighted to buy the more decorative special layettes at $5. apiece if they can afford them. Those who cannot afford these special layettes are still given warm, serviceable clothing of patterns which can be copied easily at home if the mother has the time or the inclination to copy them.

The price of $5. for the special layettes five years ago when we started them, covered the cost of the material in them, but now, owing partially to many improvements on the original layette, and partially to a rise in prices, the cost is not quite covered. The material and work on these layettes, however, is entirely provided by the Sewing Class at Glen Cove during the Summer.

Of the 993 garments given out, 410 were given through the In-Patients' Committee, Committee I, which provides for babies born in the Hospital; 557 were given through Committee II, the Out-Patients' Committee and these include sheets, women's nightgowns and abdominal binders as well as the babies clothes; and 26 were given through the Babies Class, whose nurses sometimes find a change or a supplementing of clothing necessary for the babies before they can be allowed to leave the building.

Our expenses were $693.19, of which $600. represents the salary of the woman who cuts the garments and sends them to the organizations which make them up for us, and who checks them upon their return. The fact that we have had to spend so little for materials is partially due to the generous donation of Mrs. Robert A. Lovett who gave us all the baby shirts.

In closing, the Committee wishes to thank Mrs. Robert A. Lovett for her donation of 100 summer shirts and 100 winter shirts, and also gratefully to acknowledge the invaluable assistance of the House of Industry and the Sewing Societies of the Church of the Holy Communion and All Angels Church in making up for us the garments which we give out, and for which the Auxiliary supplies the material.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) HELEN P. DAVISSON,

Chairman.

Report of the Glen Cove Sewing Class

1924

The Sewing Class was continued as usual last summer.

There were forty members and we had sixteen meetings with an average attendance of twenty-five members. The results of the work were very encouraging and quite an advance over any other summer.

We made—

37	Petticoats
37	Nightdresses
46	Dresses
114	Diapers
16	Wrappers
7	Squares

Being a total of 257 garments which means a little over 18 complete layettes. These layettes were sold for $5.00 at the Lying-In Hospital and the demand is much larger than the supply.

The Committee try to encourage the members of the class to also join the Ladies Auxiliary and to take an interest in the work of the Hospital. After closing the Sewing Class books for the summer, we were able to present the Auxiliary with a check for $150.00.

We hope to continue the class next summer with as satisfactory a record.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. JOHN C. HUGHES,

Treasurer.

Report of the Ways and Means Committee

1924 and 1925

The annual problem of raising money was made in 1924 by taking over Douglas Fairbanks film, "The Thief of Bagdad" for the performances matinee and evening of the second day of its run. Mr. Fairbanks was most generous in his terms and gave a 25% dividend as his own contribution. After all expenses were deducted we received the sum of $3,863.52 which was approximately the amount required.

In 1925 the amount needed being slightly less, it was decided to apportion it among the members of the Board. It was raised in this way—a membership list of children under ten years of age was formed and they donated $2.00 each towards the support of the babies class. This class corresponds in most of its work to the baby clinics in other hospitals.

There are now over 200 children in this membership and we hope that by increasing the list yearly to make it support the work of the babies class entirely.

Respectfully submitted,

DORIS RYER NIXON.

Report of the Babies' Class

December 1st, 1923—December 1st, 1924

Number of old patients treated at the class.....	9,108
Number of new patients.....	2,442
Total number treated during the year.....	11,550
Total number of calls made in the homes of babies, by Class nurses.....	2,971

During the warm months 75 mothers and babies were sent to the country or seashore. 250 mothers and babies were sent on day trips through the Mayor's Committee. These trips were on boats up the Hudson or on Long Island, usually. The trips, while short, were greatly enjoyed by the mothers and babies who could not leave their homes for a longer time. 16 colored mothers and their babies were sent to Midland Beach for outings, using a special donation for this.

100 free ice ticket books were given to poor mothers who were feeding their babies modified milk. The special fund provided for this purpose has been carefully used to assist poor mothers to obtain good milk, barley flour and other much needed food for babies.

The Class sessions have been more than crowded at the Hospital; it has been necessary to stop admitting patients on some days, as the waiting room would not hold any more mothers and babies.

Some interesting work was done by Dr. Zingher, from the Department of Health, in the Babies' Class. The new Dick test for Scarlet Fever was tried on many of our babies, and also on their mothers. Dr. Zingher also kindly gave us a lecture to the doctors on the Schick test and Diphtheria immunization. Many of our babies have already been immunized by the regular three injections of toxin antitoxin. The mothers are quite eager to have this work done now, sometimes even suggesting it themselves.

The National Tuberculosis Association offered to make a tuberculin skin test on the Class babies. This work is now being done every Class day by a physician sent by the Association. Interesting results are often found. When the test proves positive, we endeavor to have an X Ray taken of the baby's lungs and give special help regarding fresh air, sunshine and right food.

Several volunteers have been sent to us from the Red Cross Association. One of these ladies attended the class all through the hot months. We appreciate their help very much, as they save the doctors and nurses much routine history taking, giving the latter time for actual medical work.

Several new feeding methods have been tried out in the Class during the last year, and with very interesting results.

These figures are the highest we have ever had since the Class was organized.

During the past year the work of the Babies' Class has been conducted very much as usual. The attendance has been excellent and the mothers have seemed grateful for the care their babies have received. Two special features in the work of the past year stand out: they are the treatment of special diseases by means of the quartz lamp or ultra violet rays, and the testing the babies for tuberculosis by a physician whose time was donated by the New York Tuberculosis and Health Association. It was really the work of the Tuberculosis Association that decided us it was imperative to procure a quartz lamp, although we had felt for some time that one was greatly needed in treating Rickets and other diseases.

The tubercular test is made by the intradermal method, which gives no discomfort to the baby and is more accurate than the former method used, or the von Pirquet test. The Tuberculosis Association sent us a specially trained physician to make this test on our babies for some months,—only lack of funds compelled the withdrawal of the physician.

When the intradermal test was found positive, the baby was sent to some place where an X Ray could be taken, and if the lungs were found involved, the child was usually sent away to some institution at the seashore or in the country, but often this was very difficult to do, because thus far there is no special institution for just this class of cases. It is by very early diagnosis in the case of babies that we may hope to cure these small patients and eventually stamp out, at least in a large measure, "The Great White Plague." We have found a positive reaction in many cases where least expected. While waiting to transfer these positive cases and in many other cases where it is not possible to send the baby away, we at once begin systematic treatment with our ultra violet ray lamp.

In other cases, where there was no involvement of the lungs, a tuberculous gland, or nodule, or possibly some other hidden focus gave the positive reaction, the lamp treatment was used several times each week and special attention was given to home conditions by our visiting nurses.

In the great majority of cases it is wonderful to note how readily these babies respond to the ultra violet ray treatments. They first begin to gain in weight, then to sleep better, their color improves and the baby commences to look and act like a normal child. The mothers are delighted with the result and will make every sacrifice to come for the treatments. One colored mother took the long trip from West Englewood, three times weekly for a long period of time, just to have her baby get the benefit of the ray treatments. For a very nominal sum the testing might be continued, but thus far it does not seem available.

The babies who have rickets, also receive regular treatments with the quartz lamp and show very marked improvement. Some skin cases yield to this treatment very well. Very delicate, malnourished babies, anaemic babies, some of our premature babies who are not doing well, and various other classes of patients, receive the lamp treatments with great benefit.

One of our regular Class doctors, who has taken a course in electrotherapeutics, gives extra time to the Babies' Class for all the ray treatments.

Our very great need is still more room for our work. A number of times during the past year we have been obliged to close our doors to some of the late comers because it was impossible to find even standing room for the mothers. When we have 125 patients in the admitting room, this means that there are really 250 persons there, as each baby has to have one grown person with him; in addition to this there are always from twelve to fifteen little-run-about children too young to be left at home without care, and very often some older children who have to act as interpreter. Then we have our regular staff of seven doctors, one volunteer, one file clerk, and three nurses, which brings the total number of persons in the admitting room and in the two very small examination rooms very close up to 300 during the busy season. Not only lack of floor space, but lack of air prevents us from admitting more.

We wish to thank our faithful volunteer workers for all they have done to assist us during the past year. The tedious but very necessary clerical work which they do, saves the doctors much valuable time which they can devote to actual treatment of the patients.

EMELYN COOLIDGE,

Pediatrician and Chief of the Babies' Class.

Report of the Board of Governors

The Board of Governors of The Society of the Lying-In Hospital submits herewith its report for the One hundred and twenty-eighth fiscal year of the Society, ending December 31, 1926.

The Board records with great sorrow the death in 1926 of two of its members, Mr. Morton S. Paton and Mr. William H. Porter. Mr. Paton, besides his long service as a Governor of the Society, was for many years its Vice President and Chairman of its Executive Committee. He was at all times deeply interested in and in close touch with the affairs of the Hospital to which he was ever a loyal and valued friend. Mr. Porter was one of the benefactors of the Hospital, whose response to its needs was ready and generous and whom we hold in grateful remembrance.

Despite the amazing lack of support from the general public, the work of the Hospital has been continued without curtailment through the year, thanks to the generous gifts and unfailing interest of a few very liberal friends.

It is difficult to understand why the people of this City should permit a work so beneficent and so important to be supported by so small a group, particularly when attention is drawn to the extremely valuable educational work which is being done at the Hospital in addition to its daily care of mothers and babies. Not only does the hard working staff assist in bringing into the world from 5,000 to 6,000 babies every year, with every tender care for the mothers, but every year the Hospital sends out into all parts of the world physicians and surgeons trained and equipped to meet the problem of reducing maternal and infant mortality and alleviating suffering at childbirth.

Our graduate doctors are to be found in every part of the United States and in many foreign countries. Our nurses come to us for training from nearly fifty hospitals, among them leading hospitals of England, Scotland, Ireland and distant Australia, besides those of every section of our own country. Not only do we train doctors and nurses, but we give periodical instruction to mothers in the care and feeding of their babies up to the age of two years and this has proved of incalculable value in saving infant lives. Notwithstanding these important educational features, even that large section of the public which yearly gives most generously to other deserving charitable objects has thus far, with comparatively few exceptions, withheld its support. It may be that this is due in some measure to failure to appreciate the value and scope of our work, and to those who seek light on the subject we extend a hearty invitation to visit the Hospital, where upon application to our Medical Superintendent they will be given full information as to the details of our work and an opportunity to examine into the manner in which the Hospital is conducted.

To those who cannot arrange a visit we particularly commend an examination of the Medical Report and the Reports of the Treasurer and of the Ladies' Auxiliary, which are to be found on the following pages and which give an illuminating account of the Society's stewardship.

It is our annually recurring duty, as agreeable as it is easy of performance, to record, as we now do, our sense of obligation to the faithful members of the Hospital staff whose devoted service so largely contributes to the success of the benevolent work which we are striving to carry on and whose task is ennobled by its altruistic purpose.

The quiet but effective service of the Ladies' Auxiliary is of the greatest assistance and of a practical value which it is difficult adequately to appraise. To its members the Board of Governors owes and gladly tenders its warm thanks and appreciation.

Finally, to the generous helpers who have given of their means and to those who have lightened the burden of patients and toilers by timely gifts of material comforts, clothing, flowers, fruit, books and magazines, we render our grateful acknowledgments with the assurance that their kindly sympathy has not fallen by the wayside.

New York, December 31, 1926.

Medical Report

THE report of the medical activities of the Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York, from January 1, 1926 to December 31, 1926 inclusive, and the one hundred and twenty-eighth year of service to this community, is herewith submitted. During this period 5,690 cases were under medical care in the wards and Out-Door Department of the hospital. In this number there were 5,000 births, the remainder being general cases, including women admitted during pregnancy for observation and treatment who left the hospital before confinement; former patients returning for treatment or operation; and, to a limited extent, sick babies who were born in the service of the hospital, and readmitted for subsequent care and treatment.

Out-Door Department (patients treated in their homes)

Applications.....	1,664
Treated.....	1,425
Confinements.....	1,351

In-Door Department

Applications.....	4,275
Treated.....	4,265
Confinements.....	3,593

During the period covered by this report there were 4,944 confinements with 35 maternal deaths, a mortality of a little over .7 of 1 per cent. The difference between the number of births and the number of confinements (56) is accounted for by plural births. The 35 maternal deaths occurred in the hospital, there having been no maternal mortality in the Out-Door department. The causes of these deaths are set forth in a subsequent table. It is fair to state that a considerable number of patients who died arrived at the hospital in such condition that they were hopeless from the time of admission; others were admitted in deplorable condition and yet recovered. In former reports attention has been called to the discrepancy between the number of applications and those actually treated. This state of affairs has been experienced for many years, and in all probability will continue to some extent. We find that the same thing happens in private practice. The smaller total number of confinements than in previous years may be accounted for by the strict interpretation of the dispensary law which forced the closure of our sub-station for nearly a year. Patients in the lower part of the city seeking care during pregnancy and confinement in their homes, would not come to the main hospital to make application and be under the required regular observation. Suitable quarters have lately been acquired for a sub-station, half a block distant from the building in Broome Street which has been used by the hospital for this purpose since January 1, 1890. It will be slow work to rebuild the Out-Door department, owing to the difference in character of the population, housing situation and the change in habits among the people living in this region. At the present time few immigrants settle in our district; thousands of places on ground floors which were formerly used as tenements are now occupied as small shops. The people are better off financially and prefer to employ private physicians, some of whom this hospital has trained. There are many more hospitals in this part of the city which have added maternity departments, or have increased those already in existence. Moreover, the district is interspersed with small private hospitals which care for maternity cases. We find that what is true of the Out-Door department of this hospital is the case with such departments throughout the city, and in other large cities such as Chicago. More women are actually entering hospitals for their confinement, and fewer require care in their homes from the out-door departments of hospitals. Although records of each visit to the antepartum clinic have been placed on the pregnancy chart, this data has not been segregated. The number of such visits is large.

The Gynecological and Syphilitic clinics report from January 1, 1926 to December 31, 1926, visits, as follows:

Gynecological.....	4,411
Syphilitic	1,744
Total.....	6,155

Babies' Clinic report from January 1, 1926 to December 31, 1926.

Former patients.....	11,849
New patients.....	2,894

Total.....	14,743

Visits to babies in their homes by Babies' Clinic nurses. 2,972.

Another year of experience in the use of analgesia for relief of pain during childbirth by a method developed and employed in the Lying-In Hospital since February, 1923, serves to strengthen our belief that, thus far, it is the safest and most effective method known. Reports of the satisfactory results obtained from its use are coming to us constantly from near and far. We do not claim that perfection has been achieved, and we earnestly hope that something far better will be discovered. If, perchance, this should be developed in the Lying-In Hospital we shall be gratified; but from whatever source it shall come we will gladly employ it upon proof that it is superior to the method now in use. From a certain portion of continental Europe, born of the habit of assurance and ideas of infallibility not invariably founded on facts, this method of analgesia has been hedged about by contra-indications to its use which we believe to be unwarranted. It is stated that it is not suitable in the case of diabetics, eclamptics, diseases of the liver and kidney, circulatory disturbances and inflammatory changes in the large intestine; and that it is not to be used in confinements in the homes. These contra-indications have been published in this country. During the four years in which this analgesia has been employed, some twenty-one thousand women have been confined in the Lying-In Hospital. Including babies, more than forty thousand lives have been involved. In the earlier stages of the experiment comparatively few patients received this treatment. We now have records of over seven thousand cases in which it has been used. Again including babies, fourteen thousand lives have been involved. Approximately twenty per cent of this work has been in the homes of patients in the Out-Door department which, we consider, is private practice, under supervision, in most unfavorable surroundings. Admittedly, those in charge of the obstetrical work in the hospital have gained, in years gone by as well as during the four years here considered, reasonable experience and training as clinical observers. No valid grounds for the above contra-indications have, as yet, been observed in our service. Recently, a diabetic whose urinalysis continuously showed from three to five per cent sugar, was given relief by analgesia and we could not detect any injurious results. A patient in her seventh month of pregnancy was admitted to the hospital with cardiac decompensation so pronounced that her life was in jeopardy for seventy-two hours following admission. Thereafter her condition showed progressive improvement, she was kept in bed and went into labor at full term. Analgesia was given with good results and she was delivered of a large healthy child with whom she was discharged fourteen days after confinement. We do not hesitate to employ analgesia where needed in toxemias and eclampsias. In this we may be going far wrong but the evidences of it are not apparent.

Some idea of the educational activities of the hospital may be gathered from the fact that diplomas were awarded to eight house surgeons, thirty-four assistant house surgeons and one hundred and sixty-three pupil nurses, from thirty-three different hospitals. Also, seventy-three post graduate pupils from forty-nine different medical colleges, and ninety-two under graduate pupils from twelve different colleges. The experience and training given to interne house staffs is being more and more eagerly sought after. Especially is this so for the position of house surgeon. While there are but eight such positions available during the year, it is a conservative estimate to state that at least four applications each week are received from men who have had from two to three and sometimes four years previous hospital training. The positions of assistant house surgeons are also filled for many months in advance. The nursing course comprises bedside training, class room work and frequent lectures by members of the attending staff. A form of education, not usually classed as such, but which nevertheless we believe important, is the instruction acquired by the patients themselves in the various clinics of the hospital. It seems incredible that these women can repeatedly visit the antepartum, babies' and gynecological clinics, note the care taken in their behalf, receive instruction and advice for their guidance, without carrying away something which enables them better to care for themselves and their children. This also holds true of the ward patients and, probably to a lesser degree, women who are delivered in their homes. It has been the custom for several years for ward patients, shortly before leaving the hospital, to be gathered into a class and given instruction by a nurse as to their own personal care and that of their babies. Not infrequently private patients request and are allowed to attend this class. The ward service is running to capacity all of the time, so that it has been found necessary to limit the district from which applicants are accepted and, at times, applicants from any district. A portion of the hospital now serving as a dormitory for the male help could be more properly utilized in caring for an increased number of patients. In the original plan of the present building no provision was made for the care of babies after their discharge from the wards or the Out Door department. Dr. Emelyn L. Coolidge has built up and carried on for years what we regard as a very great, not only life saving, but health maintaining work in the care of babies of the hospital until they arrive at two years of age. In this she is aided by a staff of trained doctors, nurses and lay assistants who are constant in attendance and give freely their valuable assistance. For this work, the space originally designed as a waiting room for patients visiting the antepartum clinic, is utilized three afternoons in each week for a few hours, while corridors are employed as waiting rooms for the antepartum cases. Some crowding results from this plan, but we believe the end justifies the means in this instance. The laboratory maintains its high standard for excellent, reliable work. Through its aid, even in the small hours of the morning, it is possible within an hour to give a blood transfusion, the giving or withholding of which often determines whether a patient shall live or die. In some respects the nursing situation is easier. Under the assiduous care of the Directress, Miss Lila J. Napier, a sufficient number of pupil nurses and nurse's aids are available. At times there is a waiting list of post graduate nurses. Considerable difficulty is experienced owing to the nomadic tendencies which have developed in nurses available for supervisors and head nurses. To Miss Napier, very largely, belongs the credit for a safe method of caring for premature infants, which results in saving the lives of many of these unpromising patients. The Ladies' Auxiliary continues its helpful, efficient service in maintaining the Social service, scrub women in the homes of the Out-Door department patients; providing clothing for mothers and babies where required and nurses for the Babies' Clinic. These nurses, when not employed in the clinic, visit sick babies in their homes. We have a vivid appreciation of the part taken by the Board of Governors and their representatives in the Superintendent's office, in supervising and providing for the fiscal needs of the work. A well constructed dynamo runs almost noiselessly and without friction. Energy lost in noise and friction is not available for progressive efficiency. We are at all times aware of, and endeavor to avoid, that form of satisfaction which is the forerunner of degeneration and decay. Nevertheless, we are gratified to note a progressively better coordination, harmonious cooperation and team work throughout the mechanism of the whole working force of the hospital.

THE BIRTHDAY FUND

The novel appeal for contributions to this Fund was first made in March 1922, and has met with generous response; 63 of the above listed subscribers, in the period covered by this Report, having made donations aggregating $6,535.00 thereto, which amount was expended for the purposes designated.

The Governors take this opportunity to express their grateful acknowledgments to those who contributed to this, and to the General Fund of the Hospital.

Statistics

During the year ending December 31st, 1926 the Society in the two branches of its service treated 5,690 cases. The number of births was 5,000. The number of births in the Borough of Manhattan according to the returns from the Health Department was 44,199 of which 37,045 were reported by physicians, 7,154 by midwives and others. The Society cared for over 11% of the entire number of confinements in the Borough and more than 13% of those treated by physicians. The total number of applications for treatment was 5,939. In the Out-Door Department the number of applications was 1,664, the number treated 1,425; the number of confinements, 1,351. The number of applications for treatment in the Hospital was 4,275; the number treated was 4,265 and the number of confinements was 3,593. The ambulance service brought to the Hospital 107 cases. In all its departments the Society has worked to the limit of its resources. Detailed figures showing the Hospital's work during the year will be found in the following pages.

Of the 4,494 patients concerning whom information was obtainable 4,417 lived in front and 77 resided in rear tenements. 72 patients resided in basements, 541 on stoop floors, 1,190 on first floors, 1,142 on second floors, 219 on third floors, 500 on fourth floors, 530 on fifth floors and 1,189 not noted.

Charter of the Society of the Lying-in Hospital of the City of New York

An ACT to incorporate the Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York, passed March 1, 1799, chapter xxiii. Laws of 1799.

WHEREAS, THOMAS PEARSALL, JOHN CHRISTOPHER KUNZE, ROBERT LENOX, CORNELIUS RAY, ARCHIBALD GRACIE, JOHN STARK ROBERTSON, HENRY REMSEN, WILLIAM HOUSTOUN, ANDREW HAMERSLY, JOHN CHARLTON, DAVID M. CLARKSON, WILLIAM JAUNCEY, J. C. VANDEN HEUVEL and others, influenced by principles of benevolence and charity, associated as an institution, under the style of The Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York, for the useful purpose of establishing an asylum for the reception of women in a state of pregnancy who are unable to procure the necessary medical assistance and nursing during the period of their confinement in child-bed, by their petition presented to the Legislature, have prayed to be incorporated, the better to enable them to carry into effect the salutary object of their institution; therefore

Be it enacted by the People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly. That all such persons as now are, or hereafter shall be members of the said institution, shall be and hereby are ordained, constituted and declared, forever a body corporate and politic, in fact and in name, by the name of "The Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York" and by that name they and their successors shall and may have continual succession, and shall be persons in law, capable of suing and being sued, pleading and being impleaded, answering and being answered unto, defending and being defended, in all courts and places whatsoever, in all manner of actions, suits, complaints, matters and causes whatsoever; and that they and their successors may have a common seal, and may change and alter the same at their pleasure; and also that they and their successors, by the name of "The Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York," shall be in law capable of purchasing, receiving, holding and conveying any estate, real or personal, for the use of the said corporation. Provided that the lands, tenements and hereditaments which it shall be lawful for said corporation to hold shall be only such as shall be requisite for the purpose of erecting a public building and such houses or other buildings as may be suitable and necessary to the nature of the said institution, or such as shall have been bona fide mortgaged to it by way of security, or conveyed to it in satisfaction of debts previously contracted in the course of its business, or purchased at sales, on judgment which shall have been obtained for such debts; and with regard to all such lands, tenements and hereditaments so to be held by the said corporation as aforesaid, except such as may be for its immediate accommodation as aforesaid, or such as it may hold by way of mortgage, and whereof the actual possession shall be and remain in the mortgagors, their heirs or assigns, the said corporation shall be bound to sell and dispose of the same respectively within five years after it shall acquire the same, and shall not be capable of holding the same after the expiration of the said five years.

And be it further enacted. That all persons who now are members of the said institution, or shall at any time hereafter subscribe to the same shall be deemed and taken for members of this corporation, and that the property and concerns of the said corporation shall be managed and conducted by thirteen governors, to be chosen by ballot, by and from the said subscribers; that the following persons (that is to say) Thomas Pearsall, John Christopher Kunze, Robert Lenox, Cornelius Ray, Archibald Gracie, John Stark Robertson, Henry Remsen, William Houstoun, Andrew Hamersly, John Charlton, David M. Clarkson, William Jauncey, J. C. Vanden Heuvel, shall be the present governors of the said corporation, and shall continue in office until the second Wednesday in April, in the year one thousand and eight hundred, when a new election shall be made at the hour and place, to be appointed by the said governors; that the election for governors after the year one thousand and eight hundred, shall be held annually on the second Wednesday of April, at such place and hour as the majority of the governors for the time being shall appoint, of which election, public notice shall be given by the said governors for the space of one week, in two of the daily newspapers, printed in the said City. That if any vacancy shall happen among the said governors (so elected) by death, resignation or removal, such vacancy shall be filled by a special election for the purpose, to be held in the same manner as the annual elections are made and at such time and place as shall be provided for by the by-laws of the said corporation, and in case it should happen that an election of governors should not be held on any day when pursuant to this act it ought to have been made, the corporation shall not for that cause be deemed to be dissolved; but it shall and may be lawful, on any other day, to hold an election of governors in such manner as the by-laws of the said corporation shall prescribe.

And be it further enacted. That the governors shall not take or receive any compensation for their services; and for the time being shall have power, to make and prescribe such by-laws, rules and regulations, as to them shall appear needful and proper touching the management and disposition of the stock, property, estates and effects, of the said corporation, and touching the duties and conduct of the officers of the said corporation, and touching all other matters as appertain to the business, ends and purposes, for which the said corporation is by this act instituted; and shall also have power to appoint an apothecary, house pupils, matron, stewards, nurses and servants, for carrying on the business of the said institution.

Provided, that for the appropriation or disposal of any of the capital stock, a number not less than seven shall constitute a quorum, of which number the president, or in his absence, the vice-president of the board, to be appointed in virtue of this act, shall be one, provided also, that such by-laws, rules and regulations shall not be repugnant to the constitution and laws of the United States, or of this State.

And be it further enacted. That the governors, at their first meeting, and also at the first meeting in every year next after the said annual election on the second Wednesday in April, shall elect by ballot, from their number a president, vice-president, a treasurer and a secretary, and that the officers thus elected, shall immediately enter upon their respective offices and hold the same until the next election of governors, and it shall be the duty of the president or vice-president to preside at all meetings of the governors.

And be it further enacted. That the governors shall propose at one meeting and elect by ballot at the next a number of physicians, not exceeding four to attend the said hospital, and to render all necessary medical aid to the persons admitted to the benefit of this institution, and that the said physicians remain in office until the next election for governors, after which time they are to be annually elected.

And be it further enacted. That this act shall be and hereby is declared to be a public act, and shall be construed in all courts and places benignly and favorable for every beneficial purpose herein intended.

An ACT to amend chapter twenty-three of the laws of seventeen hundred and ninety-nine entitled "An ACT to incorporate the Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York," relative to subscriptions, the election of subscribers as members, and the elections of physicians and surgeons.

Became a law May 17, 1897, with the approval of the Governor; passed three-fifths being present.

The people of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly do enact as follows:

SEC. 1. Section two of chapter twenty-three of the laws of seventeen hundred and ninety-nine, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, that all persons who now are members of the said institution, or shall at any time hereafter subscribe to the same, shall be deemed and taken as members of this corporation provided such subscription is received by the society, and such subscribers are elected members of the said society by the board of governors thereof, in such manner as shall be provided by the by-laws of the said society; and that the property and concerns of the said corporation shall be managed and conducted by thirteen governors, to be chosen by ballot by a majority of the governors from the said subscribers.

SEC. 2. Section five of said act is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, that the governors of the said society, or a majority of them, shall immediately after the annual meeting of the society in each year, elect by ballot such and so many physicians and surgeons as they shall judge necessary to attend the said hospital, and to render all necessary medical aid to the persons admitted to the benefit of this institution; and in case of a vacancy or vacancies, to elect other physicians or surgeons in their places.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

BY-LAWS

of the

Society of the Lying-in Hospital

of the City of New York

CHAPTER I.

ELECTION OF GOVERNORS

1. There shall be an Annual Meeting of the Governors on the second Wednesday of April in each year for the purpose of choosing by ballot by a majority vote of the existing governors, from the members of the Society, thirteen governors who shall manage and conduct the property and concerns of said corporation for the ensuing year and until their successors are elected, the hour and place for the holding of such meeting shall be fixed by the Board from time to time.

2. A vacancy among the Governors may be filled at any Stated Meeting of the Board by a majority vote of quorum of the Board.

3. A person subscribing to the funds of the Society a sum not less than five dollars, provided his subscription is accepted by the Board, upon being duly nominated and elected by the Governors, may become a member of the Society.

A person subscribing at one time to the funds of the Society the sum of five thousand dollars shall become a Patron of the Society, and any person so subscribing the sum of five hundred dollars shall become a Benefactor of the Society.

4. No person shall be eligible for the office of Governor unless he shall have so subscribed to the funds of the Society at least three months previous to an election.

CHAPTER II.

1. If any Governor shall be absent from three successive stated meetings of the Board, or from three successive stated meetings of any committee of which he shall be a member, his place as Governor may be vacated.

CHAPTER III.

MEETINGS OF GOVERNORS

1. The Board of Governors shall hold stated meetings on the fourth Tuesday of each month, except in the month of April, when the Annual Meeting for the election of Governors for the ensuing year as provided in Chapter I shall be held. The hour and place of meeting shall be from time to time appointed by the Board.

2. Special Meetings may be called by the President, or in his absence by the Vice-President, or on a written requisition of two Governors.

3. A number of not less than five shall be a quorum for the transaction of ordinary business; but for the appropriation or disposal of any of the property or money of the Society, except for the payment of necessary expenses, a number of not less than seven shall be necessary to constitute a quorum, of which number the President, or in his absence the Vice-President, shall be one.

4. At the stated meeting in April of each year, the Board shall elect from its number, by ballot, the President, Vice-President, Treasurer and Secretary, and shall appoint the following standing committees, namely.

1. A Finance Committee, to consist of three Governors.

2. An Executive Committee, to consist of five Governors.

3. A Committee on Nominations, to consist of three Governors, to whom shall be referred the names of all candidates who may be proposed for election to the office of Governor, and of all nominations for vacancies occurring in any of the other offices of the Society, whenever they may occur.

4. A Law Committee, to consist of three Governors.

5. The following shall be the order of business at the meetings of the Board.

1. Reading of the Minutes of last meeting.

2. Reading of the Minutes of Standing Committees.

3. Reports of officers of the Board.

4. Reports of Standing or Special Committees.

5. Unfinished business.

6. Miscellaneous business.

CHAPTER IV.

DUTIES OF OFFICERS

1. The President, or Vice-President, together with the Secretary, may, on authority of the Board, upon the payment of the principal and interest of any Bond and Mortgage held by the Society, execute a certificate of satisfaction thereof, or an assignment of the same without recourse.

2. The Treasurer shall have the custody of the funds of the Society which shall be deposited with such Bankers, Bank or Trust Company as may be designated by the Board of Governors, and he is authorized to receive the interest or dividends on all securities and to give receipt therefor. In case of his absence or disability, the President or Vice-President is authorized to receive such interest or dividends.

3. The Treasurer shall keep books of account, and at each stated meeting shall make a report of the several sums by him received and expended.

4. The Secretary shall have the custody of the records and papers of the Society, other than the securities and medical records; he shall keep fair and accurate minutes of the proceedings of the Board, and notify the Governors of the meetings. He shall have the custody of the corporate seal of the Society.

CHAPTER V.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

1. The Finance Committee shall, from time to time, give directions to the Treasurer in regard to the investment of the funds of the Society and no change shall be made in any investment without the authority of the said committee. They shall, as often as once in six months, examine the Treasurer's accounts and make a report to the Board of the condition of the finances of the Society.

2. The Finance Committee shall have and exercise such other powers as may from time to time be conferred upon them by the Board of Governors.

CHAPTER VI.

CUSTODY OF SECURITIES

All securities shall be deposited with such Bankers, Bank or Trust Company as may be designated by the Board of Governors. Securities so deposited to be withdrawn only upon the written order of the Society of the Lying-In Hospital when signed and countersigned by any two of the following officers: President, Vice-President, Secretary or Treasurer, or upon the signature of any one of the above officers, when countersigned by any other Governor of the Society.

CHAPTER VII.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

1. The Executive Committee shall have the supervision of all buildings and improvements belonging to the corporation, and shall hold stated meetings at least once in each month and as often as the exigencies of business may require.

2. They shall audit the bills on receiving them from the Superintendent, and make a draft on the Treasurer for the amount of the same. At their succeeding meeting they are to examine all such bills to see that they are duly receipted. They shall notify the Superintendent each month of the total amount of money which may be expected for all running expenses during the following month.

3. They shall keep a book of minutes, and enter therein such business as may come before them, which book must be laid before the Governors at every monthly meeting.

4. The Committee may direct the expenditure of money or clothes for the relief of patients who from extreme poverty or circumstances of peculiar distress, may need such aid.

5. Whenever they think it necessary that a special meeting of the Governors should be called they shall apply for that purpose to the President, or in his absence, to the Vice-President. In the absence or inability of both to act, such meetings may be called by the Chairman of the Executive Committee.

6. The Executive Committee shall have and exercise such other powers as may from time to time be conferred upon them by the Board of Governors.

CHAPTER VIII.

1. The Board of Governors, or a majority of them, shall, immediately after the Annual Meeting of the Board in each year, elect by ballot such and so many physicians and surgeons as they shall judge necessary to attend the said hospital and to render all necessary medical aid to the persons admitted to the benefits of the Institution, and to conduct the educational and medical work of the Hospital. In case of a vacancy or vacancies, the Board of Governors, or a majority of them shall elect other physicians or surgeons to fill the same.

2. No Surgeon, officer, nurse or servant of this Institution shall accept any gift or bequest from or on behalf of any patient in the Wards or Out-Patient Department.

CHAPTER IX.

1. Persons may contribute toward the endowment of beds in the Society's Hospital by the payment of a sum not less than $7,500, the annual income from which will be applied to the cost of maintaining a free bed in one of the wards so far as such income will suffice to pay such cost. Persons making such payments shall have such rights in respect to naming patients to the Society for treatment as the Governors shall from time to time prescribe.

CHAPTER X.

AMENDMENTS TO BY-LAWS

1. Any alteration or amendment of these by-laws must be proposed in writing at a stated meeting of the Governors, but cannot be acted upon until a subsequent stated meeting; when the same may be adopted provided a majority of the Governors shall approve thereof.

2. These by-laws shall take effect immediately, and all other by-laws of the Society are repealed.

Report of In-Patients' Committee

(Com. I.)

November 15th 1925—November 13th 1926

The work of this committee has progressed favorably during the past year, as is proved by the following summary of its activities.

Social Service relief has been given to 673 cases; 1515 ward visits made; 1523 office interviews and 21 outside visits. Of the 673 cases, 381 were married women, 121 separated or deserted, 27 widows and 144 unmarried.

We have been very fortunate in receiving excellent co-operation from relief organizations and convalescent homes. We placed 200 children in temporary shelters during their mothers' stay at the hospital.

During the summer months we were able to send sixteen mothers and forty children to the country, giving each family two or three weeks enjoyment.

The following agencies with their kind co-operation have enabled us to accomplish excellent results.

Childrens' Welfare Federation	Childrens' Aid Society
State Charities Aid	Washington Square Home
Social Service Exchange	St. Barnabas House
Church Mission of Help	Heartsease Home
Free Synagogue Adoption Bureau	Maternity Centre Association
State Board of Charities	A. I. C. P.
Dept. of Public Welfare	Charity Organization
Catholic Charities	Caroline Rest
Dr. Fischer's Infanatorium	Sea Breeze Convalescent Home
Jewish Childrens' Clearing Bureau	Jewish Social Service
Burke Foundation	McMahon Memorial Shelter

REPRESENTATIVE CASES

Patient 1. H. W. Unmarried, 24 years. Girl admitted to hospital with idea of giving baby for adoption, as she had no one to help her. Plan suggested where she might secure work with her baby—delighted with this idea, she accepted position as nurse girl at St. Barnabas House and is now earning a fair salary as well as board for herself and baby.

Patient 2. E. S. Married, 30 years. Deserted by husband shortly before admission to hospital. Had one child 3 years old. Temporary shelter found for girl during mothers confinement. Patient gave birth to two beautiful boys, but was very unhappy at the twin birth, due to the fact she saw no way of supporting them. Case referred to Charity Organization and help secured as soon as patient was discharged from hospital. Relief Society reported four months after woman's discharge that family was getting along nicely on allowance provided by them, which would be continued until such a time when woman could help herself or husband be located.

Patient 3. N. C. Married, 42 years. Woman admitted to hospital for operation. Husband, a shoe-maker and earning a very small salary could not arrange care for four small children during mother's absence. Children placed in the country by Childrens' Welfare Federation for four weeks. Mother sent to a convalescent home for two weeks after her discharge from hospital, which aided family greatly and for which they were very grateful.

Respectively submitted

Annual Report of the Ways and Means Committee

(Com. IV)

This last year the board decided to raise the needed amount by dividing the yearly deficit of $3,000 among the members of the Board who were then responsible for that amount.

To date the Treasurer has received $2,002.00.

In addition $622.50 was raised from the Children's dues of The Babies' Class.

The sum raised in this way the previous year, $355.00, was also paid into this year's account, as it was received late in the year.

There also remains in The Babies' Class account at the Bankers Trust Company the sum of $19.00, left to keep open the account.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) DORIS RYER NIXON.

Practically all institutions have felt the scarcity of nurses for some years past, but during the last twelve months we have had more than our share of this difficulty. While our head nurse, Miss Mary MacRae has been hard at work as always, the assistant, or second nurse, has had to be changed several times and for six weeks we were without anyone to share the regular visiting work in the homes of our babies. At the present time, however, the position is filled in a satisfactory manner and we hope we shall not have to make another change for some time.

The Class sessions have been well attended, although since the first of August, a small fee has been required from all mothers able to pay. Since this has been charged, medicines have been given free. It was thought this new rule might cut down the attendance considerably, but only a little difference has been noted. We have very full classes and could treat many more, if we had the room for them; our quarters are still much too limited for our work.

In order to make the rooms a little less crowded, we have been giving our violet ray treatments an hour before the regular Class sessions three times weekly. As we usually have a special Class for this work, consisting of 16 to 18 babies, this plan lessens the congestion a little but not very much after all. This has become one of the most important parts of our work. Rickets, tubercular babies, malnutrition cases, some of the prematures and many different forms of skin diseases are very much improved by this sort of treatment. Several very severe cases of Impetigo, which were not doing at all well under the routine treatment for this disease, were given the ultra violet ray treatments and even after the first one, a remarkable improvement was noticed. In a very short time the cases were entirely cured.

Dr. Margaret Reynolds, who has charge of our quartz lamp and the work connected with it, has been appointed Electro-Therapeutist to the Hospital, and while she no longer attends all the Class Sessions, she is on call for special cases, and has instructed others to continue the work she began so well. We hope soon to have a second lamp for use in the nurseries of the Hospital, as it is much needed for special skin cases, premature and other delicate babies, before they are able to leave the wards and can be transferred to the Babies' Class.

Our Volunteers have continued to give us great assistance, both during the summer and the winter months. They take histories, patiently listen to the troubles of the mothers and in many cases act as interpreter. All this help is much appreciated by the mothers, as well as by the physicians.

One of our volunteers has been instructed to assist with the violet ray treatments, watching each baby carefully, while it is undergoing the special treatment which has been prescribed by the doctor. This saves much time for us all.

We are doing our share to immunize babies against Diphtheria, for we heartily endorse the slogan "No Diphtheria in New York State by 1930." To accomplish this result should be the aim of all agencies treating babies and little children.

Report of the Board of Governors

The Board of Governors of the Society of the Lying-In Hospital submits herewith its report for the One hundred and twenty-ninth fiscal year of the Society, ending December 31, 1927.

It has been the annual custom of the Board, in its report of the activities and achievements of the Hospital, to endeavor to drive home the lamentable fact that an institution so indisputably useful to the community is only enabled to continue its work through the liberality of a very few friends of long standing, and that the public at large does not appear to realize its opportunity and responsibility. In thus reiterating its surprise and regret that there should exist such a seeming lack of interest in a truly benevolent and necessary service, the Board indulges the hope that in time the bare justice of its appeal may induce some of the many generous people in this community to accept a share of the heavy burden now borne by so few.

The quality and amount of the maternity service rendered by doctors and nurses are indicated by the statistics set forth in the following pages of this report; and no words of the Board of Governors could more eloquently attest the high standard of efficiency upon which the Medical Staff rightly insists than do the revealing figures themselves. But the phase of our work which obviously cannot be expressed and emphasized by statistics, the incalculable importance of which must be apparent to the serious minded, is purely educational in its nature. We have taken occasion before, and more particularly in the Annual Report for 1926, to point out the far-reaching effect and influence of the training received in this Hospital by doctors and nurses and of the instruction given with painstaking care to mothers regarding the proper physical management of their babies. One might be justified then in thinking that those who are ever ready generously to respond to an appeal by educational institutions would, with a realization of the value of the teaching freely given by the Lying-In Hospital, be glad to have a share in its maintenance and support. However, a just appreciation of the nature and effect of the educational work of the Hospital is, largely because of the difficulty of statistical expression and demonstration, only to be obtained through an awakened personal interest, and this we urgently invite, pledging the hearty cooperation of the officials of the Hospital in furnishing information and in facilitating inspection of our building and a study of our methods.

Meanwhile, it should serve to stimulate the interest of those into whose hands this report shall come if they would spend a few moments in the examination of the Medical Report, the summary entitled "Some Points of Interest," and the portion headed "Statistics," to be found on the following pages. They furnish a brief but illuminating record.

The Board of Governors cordially acknowledges its debt to all the members of the Staff, to whose steadfast loyalty are due the results recorded in these pages. Their inspiring zeal is the foundation on which we build and they deserve and we freely accord them our gratitude and appreciation.

The Hospital is fortunate in having the constant aid of the Ladies' Auxiliary, whose social service, admirable alike in plan and performance, so greatly mitigates the suffering of the poor and provides relief where it is sadly needed. The Board gratefully recognizes the value of this strong and capable corps of helpers.

In closing this brief foreword, we record our ever deepening sense of obligation to the generous friends who by their very substantial contributions have enabled us year after year to meet our increasing expenses rather than permit the Hospital to suffer the slightest contraction of its benevolent work. To them as well as to those who by smaller gifts of money, materials, food and literature have aided our finances and eased and comforted our patients, we render heartfelt thanks. Their steady support enables us to look forward with courage to another year.

The death rate (42 adults) is higher than we have been obliged to report for many years. This is accounted for by the admission of more desperately ill and complicated cases, and operations upon non-obstetrical patients.

There were seventy-three fewer confinements than in 1926; a reduction of one hundred and twenty-eight in the Out-Door Department, an increase of fifty-five in the In-Door Department. The reduction is due to a decrease and change in the population living in this district, improved economic status of those remaining, and also to the fact that there are many more agencies and hospitals caring for maternity patients. This is commendable and indicative of an awakening to the importance and urgent need of caring for obstetric cases. Within the past twelve years, the bed capacity for maternity patients has increased in this country by many thousands, and during that time the cost of hospitalization has more than doubled. Funds are being provided, too often by a small portion of the community benefited. It is safe to say that nowhere are better obstetrics practiced and results obtained than in our well conducted maternities and in the experience of many private practitioners; and yet, those who are making a study of available statistics relative to childbirth throughout the world, assure us that for the country as a whole, obstetric results in the United States rank among the worst to be found. Also, that there has been no total improvement during the past quarter of a century. If this statement is only partially true it must be very evident that too many of our women are receiving woefully inadequate care.

The educational activities have been referred to and the number of internes, graduate and undergraduate pupils and nurses stated. This does not, however, take into account the doctors and nurses constantly visiting the hospital for a few hours or days who, of late, have been particularly interested in seeing cases treated by obstetric analgesia. Nor does it take note of the instruction which patients receive in their homes, in the wards, the ante-partum and post-partum clinics and the Babies' Class. The value of this work though great cannot readily be measured. For instance, some of the deaths from eclampsia were due to patients refusing to follow instructions and come to the hospital as they had been told to do, later being brought in by ambulance, in convulsions, and dying despite the fact that every known effort was made to save them. By timely admission and treatment of cases of toxemia of pregnancy, we have undoubtedly cured them or averted the convulsive type in many instances.

For many years the Lying-In Hospital has done pioneer work, limited only by its physical and financial capacity and endurance of the staff. During the past thirty-seven years over one hundred and sixty thousand women have been confined in its service, more than eighty-nine thousand of whom were attended in the tenements, free of expense. To many this is apparently the essential work of the hospital. We doubt if such is the case. With the urgent need for better obstetrics; knowing that each year in the neighbourhood of twenty-five thousand women die during childbirth, that as many more children fail to survive, not to mention the resulting invalids, it has recognized teaching as the more important phase of its work. The policy has been to give a greater number of doctors and nurses a working knowledge of obstetrics, rather than to train a few intensively over a longer period of time. Our pupils are scattered throughout the world and there is scarcely a village or town in this country where it is not possible to find a doctor or nurse who has received some training in the Lying-In. To a large extent this is also true of Canada. Many of our graduates occupy responsible positions as teachers and heads of maternity hospitals and departments, and are to be found in Cuba, the Philippines, Japan, China and Australia. The Belgian government maintained one doctor with us for a year. House surgeons come to us after from two to three and in some cases four years training in other hospitals and are, therefore, fitted to make the most of their opportunities. Undergraduate pupils have studied and heard didactic lectures on the theory and practice of obstetrics to the point of surfeit. We give few formal lectures. It is apparent that there is a wide difference between much talking and teaching. Members of the attending staff give informal talks and demonstrations continually in their rounds through the wards and in the operating rooms. They stand beside younger doctors directing or assisting them in deliveries and operations, and, in so far as possible, this procedure is followed in the Out-Door Department.

The work is as active by night as during the day. For the postgraduate pupil, the course is one entirely of observation and verbal instruction. We fail to comprehend how, with reasonable understanding, one can follow this active service observantly, live in its atmosphere, and not gain therefrom.

The Directress of Nurses, Miss Lila J. Napier and her assistants carry on the education of pupil and postgraduate nurses, by demonstration, class room work, lectures and actual obstetrical nursing. Each week members of the attending staff lecture to them, and their course includes work in the clinics and Out-Door Department.

In order to erase the stigma which rests upon obstetric practice in our country and achieve better results we must continue to educate the public and secure their cooperation. Patients in the ante-partum clinic are examined as soon as they apply and told to return at stated intervals for tests and further advice. It is impressed upon them that should warning signs appear they are to communicate with the hospital immediately. During confinement this instruction is continued, and their own observation of the care which is exercised for their benefit makes a lasting impression. Ward patients are gathered into a class shortly before leaving the hospital and instructed by a nurse as to the subsequent care they should take of themselves and their babies. Quite frequently private patients request permission to attend these classes. It is probable that the women who look to maternities for care during pregnancy and confinement are given a safer working knowledge in this respect than many women in the easier walks of life.

The Babies' Class, under the direction of Dr. Emelyn L. Coolidge, is doing remarkable work in caring for sick babies; where necessary, sending nurses to their homes, and in guiding mothers in the feeding and general care of their children. Any patient who has been under the care of the hospital is entitled to return to the Gynecological and Syphilitic Clinics.

The laboratory continues to render invaluable assistance and maintains its excellent standard for reliable work.

Obstetric analgesia for the relief of pain during childbirth is in constant use in the hospital service and no one competent to judge is willing that it shall be discontinued. Increased familiarity yields better results, and it is being more widely employed in other hospitals and by private physicians. Dr. James T. Gwathmey continues his interest and, from time to time, at his suggestion, we attempt to change and improve the technique—as yet without success. In our early experiments numerous drugs in various quantities and combinations were tried. With our large number of cases we were soon able to judge what was of value, what useless or possibly harmful. Of late we have received considerable attention from the lay and medical press. Some of it sensational and commendatory—some quite the reverse. Unfortunately, in two or three of the first publications the title "Painless Childbirth" was used. It has not been employed since. This caption is misleading and untrue, as it is probable that there never can be such a thing as painless childbirth. In the various articles which appeared in the press, two or three doctors were mentioned as being responsible for the development of obstetric analgesia. This is unwarranted. Dr. Gwathmey initiated the trial of anaesthesia and analgesia for the relief of pain, and has guided us all along the way in this respect. Too much credit cannot be given to him, but lacking the clinical knowledge, judgment, cooperation and direction of the attending staff and the assistance of internes and nurses, the whole plan must have failed. Success is not due to any one person or factor. The method is distinctly an output of the Lying-In Hospital and the result of team work. The notices in the press are beyond our control. None of us are seeking undying fame through this channel. I believe we all feel that our self respect has been assailed by this sensational advertising and that we have been forced, unwillingly, to acquire some of the attributes of the charlatan and the quack. When all has been said, we can confidently state that obstetric analgesia works in an effective, safe and beneficent way.

The Ladies' Auxiliary continues its helpful activities as indicated by the reports of various committees, by personal attention of members, raising funds, providing clothing, maintaining social workers and the upkeep of the Babies' Class.

We are appreciative of the interested supervision of the Board of Governors, for supplying the large sums of money necessary, and directing, through their superintendent, the fiscal work of the hospital.

Report of the Nurses' Training School

There was in the year 1927 a decided increase in the number of nurses admitted to the hospital for their obstetrical training. This increase is due largely to the greater number of students enrolling in general hospitals and to the desire of graduate nurses for more experience in the care of obstetrical patients.

It is interesting to note that general hospitals are requiring nurses who supervise their obstetrical departments to take post-graduate work in an obstetrical hospital before assuming that responsibility.

The development of the nursing service in our Out-patient Department has been greatly appreciated by the hospitals sending us their nurses and by the nurses themselves. The variety of the patients and the opportunities afforded by the clinics and home service make it a most valuable experience for the nurse.

The great number of patients on that service, however, require selection of the cases to be cared for by the pupil nurses, and emphasis has been placed on the quality of the service rendered rather than the quantity.

There is evidence of a much greater interest in the care of obstetrical patients by the nurses graduating the last few years and it is hoped that this interest will continue and that nurses leaving this hospital will be able to render valuable assistance in obstetrical work in the far reaching distances from which many come.

Graduate and pupil nurses awarded diplomas during the year.....178.

142 nurses received the training in the Out-patient Department which consisted of

3,531 Post-partum visits in homes

2,738 Ante-partum visits in homes

THE BIRTHDAY FUND

The novel appeal for contributions to this Fund was first made in March 1922, and has met with generous response; 71 of the above listed subscribers, in the period covered by this Report, having made donations aggregating $1,362.10 thereto, which amount was expended for the purposes designated.

The Governors take this opportunity to express their grateful acknowledgments to those who contributed to this, and to the General Fund of the Hospital.

Statistics

During the year ending December 31st, 1927 the Society in the two branches of its service treated 5,575 cases. The number of births was 4,925. The number of births in the Borough of Manhattan according to the returns from the Health Department was 43,946 of which 38,030 were reported by physicians, 5,916 by midwives and others. The Society cared for over 11% of the entire number of confinements in the Borough and more than 12% of those treated by physicians. The total number of applications for treatment was 6,035. In the Out-door Department the number of applications was 1,575, the number treated was 1,320, the number of confinements was 1,223. The number of applications for treatment in the Hospital was 4,460; the number treated was 4,285 and the number of confinements was 3,648. The ambulance service brought to the Hospital 116 cases. In all its departments the Society has worked to the limit of its resources. Detailed figures showing the Hospital's work during the year will be found in the following pages.

Of the 4,472 patients concerning whom information was obtainable, 4,438 lived in front and 34 resided in rear tenements. 115 patients resided in basements, 359 on stoop floors, 1,027 on first floors, 955 on second floors, 757 on third floors, 465 on fourth floors, 619 on fifth floors and 1,030 not noted.

Charter of the Society of the Lying-in Hospital of the City of New York

An ACT to incorporate the Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York, passed March 1, 1799, chapter xxiii. Laws of 1799.

WHEREAS, THOMAS PEARSALL, JOHN CHRISTOPHER KUNZE, ROBERT LENOX, CORNELIUS RAY, ARCHIBALD GRACIE, JOHN STARK ROBERTSON, HENRY REMSEN, WILLIAM HOUSTOUN, ANDREW HAMERSLY, JOHN CHARLTON, DAVID M. CLARKSON, WILLIAM JAUNCEY, J. C. VANDEN HEUVEL and others, influenced by principles of benevolence and charity, associated as an institution, under the style of The Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York, for the useful purpose of establishing an asylum for the reception of women in a state of pregnancy who are unable to procure the necessary medical assistance and nursing during the period of their confinement in child-bed, by their petition presented to the Legislature, have prayed to be incorporated, the better to enable them to carry into effect the salutary object of their institution; therefore

Be it enacted by the People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly. That all such persons as now are, or hereafter shall be members of the said institution, shall be and hereby are ordained, constituted and declared, forever a body corporate and politic, in fact and in name, by the name of "The Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York" and by that name they and their successors shall and may have continual succession, and shall be persons in law, capable of suing and being sued, pleading and being impleaded, answering and being answered unto, defending and being defended, in all courts and places whatsoever, in all manner of actions, suits, complaints, matters and causes whatsoever; and that they and their successors may have a common seal, and may change and alter the same at their pleasure; and also that they and their successors, by the name of "The Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York," shall be in law capable of purchasing, receiving, holding and conveying any estate, real or personal, for the use of the said corporation. Provided that the lands, tenements and hereditaments which it shall be lawful for said corporation to hold shall be only such as shall be requisite for the purpose of erecting a public building and such houses or other buildings as may be suitable and necessary to the nature of the said institution, or such as shall have been bona fide mortgaged to it by way of security, or conveyed to it in satisfaction of debts previously contracted in the course of its business, or purchased at sales, on judgment which shall have been obtained for such debts; and with regard to all such lands, tenements and hereditaments so to be held by the said corporation as aforesaid, except such as may be for its immediate accommodation as aforesaid, or such as it may hold by way of mortgage, and whereof the actual possession shall be and remain in the mortgagors, their heirs or assigns, the said corporation shall be bound to sell and dispose of the same respectively within five years after it shall acquire the same, and shall not be capable of holding the same after the expiration of the said five years.

And be it further enacted. That all persons who now are members of the said institution, or shall at any time hereafter subscribe to the same shall be deemed and taken for members of this corporation, and that the property and concerns of the said corporation shall be managed and conducted by thirteen governors, to be chosen by ballot, by and from the said subscribers; that the following persons (that is to say) Thomas Pearsall, John Christopher Kunze, Robert Lenox, Cornelius Ray, Archibald Gracie, John Stark Robertson, Henry Remsen, William Houstoun, Andrew Hamersly, John Charlton, David M. Clarkson, William Jauncey, J. C. Vanden Heuvel, shall be the present governors of the said corporation, and shall continue in office until the second Wednesday in April, in the year one thousand and eight hundred, when a new election shall be made at the hour and place, to be appointed by the said governors; that the election for governors after the year one thousand and eight hundred, shall be held annually on the second Wednesday of April, at such place and hour as the majority of the governors for the time being shall appoint, of which election, public notice shall be given by the said governors for the space of one week, in two of the daily newspapers, printed in the said City. That if any vacancy shall happen among the said governors (so elected) by death, resignation or removal, such vacancy shall be filled by a special election for the purpose, to be held in the same manner as the annual elections are made and at such time and place as shall be provided for by the by-laws of the said corporation, and in case it should happen that an election of governors should not be held on any day when pursuant to this act it ought to have been made, the corporation shall not for that cause be deemed to be dissolved; but it shall and may be lawful, on any other day, to hold an election of governors in such manner as the by-laws of the said corporation shall prescribe.

And be it further enacted. That the governors shall not take or receive any compensation for their services; and for the time being shall have power, to make and prescribe such by-laws, rules and regulations, as to them shall appear needful and proper touching the management and disposition of the stock, property, estates and effects, of the said corporation, and touching the duties and conduct of the officers of the said corporation, and touching all other matters as appertain to the business, ends and purposes, for which the said corporation is by this act instituted; and shall also have power to appoint an apothecary, house pupils, matron, stewards, nurses and servants, for carrying on the business of the said institution.

Provided, that for the appropriation or disposal of any of the capital stock, a number not less than seven shall constitute a quorum, of which number the president, or in his absence, the vice-president of the board, to be appointed in virtue of this act, shall be one, provided also, that such by-laws, rules and regulations shall not be repugnant to the constitution and laws of the United States, or of this State.

And be it further enacted. That the governors, at their first meeting, and also at the first meeting in every year next after the said annual election on the second Wednesday in April, shall elect by ballot, from their number a president, vice-president, a treasurer and a secretary, and that the officers thus elected, shall immediately enter upon their respective offices and hold the same until the next election of governors, and it shall be the duty of the president or vice-president to preside at all meetings of the governors.

And be it further enacted. That the governors shall propose at one meeting and elect by ballot at the next a number of physicians, not exceeding four to attend the said hospital, and to render all necessary medical aid to the persons admitted to the benefit of this institution, and that the said physicians remain in office until the next election for governors, after which time they are to be annually elected.

And be it further enacted. That this act shall be and hereby is declared to be a public act, and shall be construed in all courts and places benignly and favorable for every beneficial purpose herein intended.

Chapter 468, Laws of 1897.

An ACT to amend chapter twenty-three of the laws of seventeen hundred and ninety-nine entitled "An ACT to incorporate the Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York," relative to subscriptions, the election of subscribers as members, and the elections of physicians and surgeons.

Became a law May 17, 1897, with the approval of the Governor; passed three-fifths being present.

The people of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly do enact as follows:

SEC. 1. Section two of chapter twenty-three of the laws of seventeen hundred and ninety-nine, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, that all persons who now are members of the said institution, or shall at any time hereafter subscribe to the same, shall be deemed and taken as members of this corporation provided such subscription is received by the society, and such subscribers are elected members of the said society by the board of governors thereof, in such manner as shall be provided by the by-laws of the said society; and that the property and concerns of the said corporation shall be managed and conducted by thirteen governors, to be chosen by ballot by a majority of the governors from the said subscribers.

SEC. 2. Section five of said act is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, that the governors of the said society, or a majority of them, shall immediately after the annual meeting of the society in each year, elect by ballot such and so many physicians and surgeons as they shall judge necessary to attend the said hospital, and to render all necessary medical aid to the persons admitted to the benefit of this institution; and in case of a vacancy or vacancies, to elect other physicians or surgeons in their places.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

BY-LAWS

of the

Society of the Lying-in Hospital

of the City of New York

CHAPTER I.

ELECTION OF GOVERNORS

1. There shall be an Annual Meeting of the Governors on the second Wednesday of April in each year for the purpose of choosing by ballot by a majority vote of the existing governors, from the members of the Society, thirteen governors who shall manage and conduct the property and concerns of said corporation for the ensuing year and until their successors are elected, the hour and place for the holding of such meeting shall be fixed by the Board from time to time.

2. A vacancy among the Governors may be filled at any Stated Meeting of the Board by a majority vote of quorum of the Board.

3. A person subscribing to the funds of the Society a sum not less than five dollars, provided his subscription is accepted by the Board, upon being duly nominated and elected by the Governors, may become a member of the Society.

A person subscribing at one time to the funds of the Society the sum of five thousand dollars shall become a Patron of the Society, and any person so subscribing the sum of five hundred dollars shall become a Benefactor of the Society.

4. No person shall be eligible for the office of Governor unless he shall have so subscribed to the funds of the Society at least three months previous to an election.

CHAPTER II.

1. If any Governor shall be absent from three successive stated meetings of the Board, or from three successive stated meetings of any committee of which he shall be a member, his place as Governor may be vacated.

CHAPTER III.

MEETINGS OF GOVERNORS

1. The Board of Governors shall hold stated meetings on the fourth Tuesday of each month, except in the month of April, when the Annual Meeting for the election of Governors for the ensuing year as provided in Chapter I shall be held. The hour and place of meeting shall be from time to time appointed by the Board.

2. Special Meetings may be called by the President, or in his absence by the Vice-President, or on a written requisition of two Governors.

3. A number of not less than five shall be a quorum for the transaction of ordinary business; but for the appropriation or disposal of any of the property or money of the Society, except for the payment of necessary expenses, a number of not less than seven shall be necessary to constitute a quorum, of which number the President, or in his absence the Vice-President, shall be one.

4. At the stated meeting in April of each year, the Board shall elect from its number, by ballot, the President, Vice-President, Treasurer and Secretary, and shall appoint the following standing committees, namely.

1. A Finance Committee, to consist of three Governors.

2. An Executive Committee, to consist of five Governors.

3. A Committee on Nominations, to consist of three Governors, to whom shall be referred the names of all candidates who may be proposed for election to the office of Governor, and of all nominations for vacancies occurring in any of the other offices of the Society, whenever they may occur.

4. A Law Committee, to consist of three Governors.

5. The following shall be the order of business at the meetings of the Board.

1. Reading of the Minutes of last meeting.

2. Reading of the Minutes of Standing Committees.

3. Reports of officers of the Board.

4. Reports of Standing or Special Committees.

5. Unfinished business.

6. Miscellaneous business.

CHAPTER IV.

DUTIES OF OFFICERS

1. The President, or Vice-President, together with the Secretary, may, on authority of the Board, upon the payment of the principal and interest of any Bond and Mortgage held by the Society, execute a certificate of satisfaction thereof, or an assignment of the same without recourse.

2. The Treasurer shall have the custody of the funds of the Society which shall be deposited with such Bankers, Bank or Trust Company as may be designated by the Board of Governors, and he is authorized to receive the interest or dividends on all securities and to give receipt therefor. In case of his absence or disability, the President or Vice-President is authorized to receive such interest or dividends.

3. The Treasurer shall keep books of account, and at each stated meeting shall make a report of the several sums by him received and expended.

4. The Secretary shall have the custody of the records and papers of the Society, other than the securities and medical records; he shall keep fair and accurate minutes of the proceedings of the Board, and notify the Governors of the meetings. He shall have the custody of the corporate seal of the Society.

CHAPTER V.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

1. The Finance Committee shall, from time to time, give directions to the Treasurer in regard to the investment of the funds of the Society and no change shall be made in any investment without the authority of the said committee. They shall, as often as once in six months, examine the Treasurer's accounts and make a report to the Board of the condition of the finances of the Society.

2. The Finance Committee shall have and exercise such other powers as may from time to time be conferred upon them by the Board of Governors.

CHAPTER VI.

CUSTODY OF SECURITIES

1. All securities shall be deposited with such Bankers, Bank or Trust Company as may be designated by the Board of Governors. Securities so deposited to be withdrawn only upon the written order of the Society of the Lying-In Hospital when signed and countersigned by any two of the following officers: President, Vice-President, Secretary or Treasurer, or upon the signature of any one of the above officers, when countersigned by any other Governor of the Society.

CHAPTER VII.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

1. The Executive Committee shall have the supervision of all buildings and improvements belonging to the corporation, and shall hold stated meetings at least once in each month and as often as the exigencies of business may require.

2. They shall audit the bills on receiving them from the Superintendent, and make a draft on the Treasurer for the amount of the same. At their succeeding meeting they are to examine all such bills to see that they are duly receipted. They shall notify the Superintendent each month of the total amount of money which may be expected for all running expenses during the following month.

3. They shall keep a book of minutes, and enter therein such business as may come before them, which book must be laid before the Governors at every monthly meeting.

4. The Committee may direct the expenditure of money or clothes for the relief of patients who from extreme poverty or circumstances of peculiar distress, may need such aid.

5. Whenever they think it necessary that a special meeting of the Governors should be called they shall apply for that purpose to the President, or in his absence, to the Vice-President. In the absence or inability of both to act, such meetings may be called by the Chairman of the Executive Committee.

6. The Executive Committee shall have and exercise such other powers as may from time to time be conferred upon them by the Board of Governors.

CHAPTER VIII.

1. The Board of Governors, or a majority of them, shall, immediately after the Annual Meeting of the Board in each year, elect by ballot such and so many physicians and surgeons as they shall judge necessary to attend the said hospital and to render all necessary medical aid to the persons admitted to the benefits of the Institution, and to conduct the educational and medical work of the Hospital. In case of a vacancy or vacancies, the Board of Governors, or a majority of them shall elect other physicians or surgeons to fill the same.

2. No surgeon, officer, nurse or servant of this Institution shall accept any gift or bequest from or on behalf of any patient in the Wards or Out-Patient Department.

CHAPTER IX.

1. Persons may contribute toward the endowment of beds in the Society's Hospital by the payment of a sum not less than $7,500, the annual income from which will be applied to the cost of maintaining a free bed in one of the wards so far as such income will suffice to pay such cost. Persons making such payments shall have such rights in respect to naming patients to the Society for treatment as the Governors shall from time to time prescribe.

CHAPTER X.

AMENDMENTS TO BY-LAWS

1. Any alteration or amendment of these by-laws must be proposed in writing at a stated meeting of the Governors, but cannot be acted upon until a subsequent stated meeting; when the same may be adopted provided a majority of the Governors shall approve thereof.

2. These by-laws shall take effect immediately, and all other by-laws of the Society are repealed.

REPRESENTATIVE CASES

Patient 1. L. M. Married. Third child, eldest six years. Man janitor of house for which service he received free rent of three small rooms in basement. Children without proper clothing and no preparation made for confinement. Woman worked as long as able, managing to earn food for her family by doing days' work. Case referred to A. I. C. P. who helped family to move to better rooms and secured work for the man. Woman was given a complete layette for her baby. Family very thankful for advice and care.

Patient 2. J. K. Woman was left a widow three months before birth of baby. Had no relatives here as patient was in this country only two years and was nearly penniless. Case referred to State Charities Aid. Woman was placed in temporary shelter until after her delivery. Upon her discharge from hospital she was given three weeks' convalescent care and a position secured where she could work, keep her baby with her and earn fairly good wages.

Patient 3. J. S. Unmarried. Gave birth to a beautiful baby boy but very unhappy with the thought that she would be unable to support child. Case referred to Jewish Board of Guardians who helped locate father of the baby. Man very willingly arranged weekly allowance for support of child. Baby placed in temporary shelter and mother returned to her work.

REPRESENTATIVE CASES

Patient 1. S. A. 92 Elizabeth Street. Married. Family of five living in two small poorly lighted and ventilated rooms. Husband a laborer; work irregular; small income. Mother thin and tired looking. Social Service requested Catholic Charities to supply extra milk, which they are still giving daily. Nurse sent in for 9 days and cleaner 15 days. On third day post-partum patient had cough and doctor suggested tuberculosis. Social Service sent into home tuberculosis specialist who gave baby prophylactic treatment and arranged for an X-Ray at Bellevue Hospital for the mother. At present time we are arranging for country convalescent care for mother and four children.

Patient 2. R. T. 616 East 16th St. Husband had had throat operation few months ago which did not heal well. Family had lived up to time of delivery on savings and some little help from the family. Savings now exhausted. Sent husband back to Bellevue for examination and treatment. Bellevue Hospital reported possible malignancy. Referred family to Catholic Charities, who is supplying necessary money with some little assistance from members of the family. Sent nurse and cleaning woman for nine days. Patient refused convalescent care for herself because of husband in hospital.

Patient 3. 144 Hester Street Triplets born at home. Home conditions fairly good, but babies were very small and required special nursing care, so mother and babies were brought into the hospital. Complained that husband had been ill and unable to work for three years. Sent husband to Bellevue Hospital for observation and referred family to A. I. C. P. for financial relief. A. I. C. P. paid one month's rent, light and food and considered plans for the future of the family. After husband had been in Bellevue two days his sisters insisted on his being discharged, and said that they could assume full responsibility for the family and wanted no further interference. A. I. C. P. had arranged for convalescent care for mother and triplets, but withdrew entirely from the case upon learning that the mother and father were planning to go to Italy for a year. Triplets are in excellent condition and follow-up work is being done in the home by baby class nurses.

During the year we have sent fifteen families to Caroline Rest for three weeks' vacation.

Annual Report of Clothing Committee

(Com. III)

In the year 1926-1927 the Clothing Committee has continued its work of providing necessities for needy babies and their mothers, and has given out 1097 garments.

The articles we provide are women's nightgowns and binders, as well as sheets for the bed when the patient whose baby is born at home has not enough to tide her over her confinement; and for the baby we can provide dresses, shirts, bands, diapers, caps, shawls, and blankets. These are given to mothers in cases of extreme poverty, and it is interesting to note that in the last five years we have had a decrease of nearly 50 per cent in the number of garments asked for by our patients.

We gratefully acknowledge the assistance and cooperation of the House of Industry and the Sewing Circle of All Angels Church who have made for us the garments which we have supplied to those who are depending on us.

Respectfully submitted,

HELEN P. DAVISSON,

Chairman.

Annual Report of the Ways and Means Committee

The fourteen members of the Board raised $200 each in three instalments making a total of $2,800. The Babies' Class raised $643 for this year and $180 owed in dues from last year—a total of $823. Of these sums the Ways and Means collected $3,046. That is $2,275 of the quota and $771 of the Babies' Class. The balance we paid directly to the Treasurer. In addition, the Ways and Means received $100 from a dance on Long Island and $18 additional on quota, making a total of $3,164. These checks were sent to Mrs. Mitchell:—$1,640, $1,240, and $266. There remains a balance of $18 in the Bankers Trust Company.

Respectfully submitted,
DORIS RYER NIXON,
Chairman.

Annual Report of the Sewing Class

During the year 13 complete layettes were delivered to the hospital. Each layette consists of

- 2 nightgowns
- 2 gertrudes
- 2 dresses
- 1 wrapper
- 1 blanket
- 1 wrapping blanket
- 12 diapers
- 1 cap and
- 1 sack contributed by a "friend of the auxiliary"

Respectfully submitted,
FRANCES T. PENNOYER,
Chairman.

Annual Report of the Babies' Class

January 1st, 1927 to December 31st, 1927.

Number of former patients treated at the Class.....	11,943
Number of New Patients.....	2,896
Total Number treated during the year.....	14,839
Total number of visits made by the Babies' Class nurses to babies in their own homes.....	2,985

The work of the Babies' Class during the past year has been carried on very much as usual and we have had full clinics. During the month of May so many mothers wanted their babies vaccinated for small pox, that we organized a special Class for this purpose. One doctor was engaged to vaccinate babies during each Class session, devoting her entire time to this work. One hundred and fifty babies were vaccinated. It is interesting to note that even the poor and ignorant mothers in New York City are fast becoming educated in the preventive work being done for babies. They request vaccination for small pox and in many cases also for immunization against diphtheria. Some years ago we had to urge the mothers to have this preventive treatment given. All babies vaccinated or inoculated were given a certificate thus enabling them to enter school later on. Many mothers think that May and September are the only months in the year suitable for vaccination!

The care of triplet boy babies was devolved on the Babies' Class recently. These baby boys were born in a tenement but they were removed to the wards of the Hospital almost at once as home conditions were very poor. The babies were given a special care in the premature nursery and did remarkably well. They were fed on breast milk obtained from several different women and fed to the babies by means of a small bottle or Brecht Feeder, as their own mother had very little milk at first and soon none at all for them.

The mother did well and was sent home when able to be about, but the babies were kept longer in order to give them a good start. Modified milk was gradually given until they could take it in place of breast milk, then the strongest boy was sent home to his mother's care, while the other two babies were kept some time longer. All three babies gained well and became very lively, normal boys. Finally the other two boys were sent home and our Class nurses went very often to their home to teach the mother about their care. Milk, bottles and nipples were given them, also some needed clothing. They are now being brought back to the Babies' Class to be weighed and watched by our doctors and nurses there.

The parents of the triplets are Italians and have one other older child. They are not very much pleased to have the additional burden of three boys, the father especially thinking it is a little too much to expect of him to support three new babies all at once! He now is planning to take his entire family back to Italy as soon as possible. He refused to allow the mother and children to go to a very fine place in the country for a few weeks of rest and care, although this help was offered him by a social service worker.

Our Class for Ultra Violet Ray treatment is full all the time and has done much good in treating rickets, premature and delicate babies, anaemic cases, skin cases, and tuberculosis cases, as well as many others. Mothers are always glad to have this treatment prescribed for their babies, many of them claiming the children sleep so much better after the treatments.

Our Volunteer workers have been very faithful in attendance and we much appreciate their help.

Report of the Board of Governors

The Board of Governors of The Society of the Lying-In Hospital submits herewith its report for the 130th fiscal year of the Society, ending December 31, 1928.

The Board records with sorrow the death since the last report of two of its members, Mr. Elbert H. Gary and Mr. Francis R. Appleton. Both of these gentlemen had been Governors of the Hospital since 1909 and had been deeply interested in its affairs.

In quality and amount the maternity service rendered by the doctors and nurses has equaled the record of preceding years, and the high standard of efficiency which has characterized this service is an eloquent tribute to the ability and devotion of the staff. The educational work conducted by the institution has also continued to be of great significance and value. The details of both of these activities are set forth in the statistics attached to this report. The Governors acknowledge gratefully what has been accomplished by all the members of the medical and hospital staffs. To them are due the admirable results recorded in this report.

The constant aid of the most efficient Ladies' Auxiliary has been of great value, and their continued interest in and devotion to this important branch of the Hospital's work are warmly appreciated by the Governors.

During the year an important agreement was made by the Governors with The Society of the New York Hospital. As a result the Lying-In Hospital will be included in the medical centre of the New York Hospital-Cornell Medical College Association, and as soon as the new buildings are completed will move from its present site to the maternity building at the southwest corner of Seventieth and Exterior Streets. In consideration of the Governors of the Lying-In providing, through generous friends, the cost of this new maternity building and adequate additional endowment for maternity work, the New York Hospital has supplied a site for the building and agreed to erect the building and to operate permanently therein the Lying-In Hospital, including its educational work, to an extent at least equal to its present scale and standard of efficiency. In view of that contract the Governors of the Lying-In Hospital thought it best to resign, and their successors have been elected. These successors will do their best to continue the admirable work, both in hospital operation and medical education, which has been so ably conducted, and to allow no diminution either in the amount or the quality of that work. They feel that the community owes an immense debt to the retiring Governors for their untiring efforts and supreme generosity in making this notable hospital service possible for so many years.

There is interesting historic precedent for this new affiliation between the two Hospitals. The Lying-In Hospital started its work in August 1799 in the house No. 2 Cedar Street, but the income from its funds proving insufficient to maintain a separate hospital, an agreement was made in January 1801 with the New York Hospital, by which that institution was to receive the Lying-In income and to establish and maintain a Lying-In ward in the New York Hospital building on Broadway between Duane and Worth Streets. The Lying-In Governors had free access to the ward and were also given a room for their meetings. This arrangement continued from 1801 to 1827 when the Lying-In ward was closed and the Lying-In Hospital Governors withdrew.

Medical Report

THE report of the medical and educational activities of the Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York, from January 1, 1928 to December 31, 1928, inclusive, is herewith submitted.

In all Departments the Society has worked to the full capacity of its resources. Throughout the entire personnel there is evident a spirit of good co-ordination, co-operation and team play, actuated by the endeavor to improve results in the work of the hospital as a whole. A greater service is being rendered than is readily realized, not only to this community but to the nation. It is much to have given thousands of women and their children good obstetrical care. It is far more to have provided practical training for doctors and nurses in this, as yet, too neglected branch of medicine. As these doctors and nurses go out from the training which the Lying-In has given them, they become widely scattered in this and other countries, especially Canada. A considerable number of doctors who began their training in obstetrics with us are professors of this branch in medical schools in different cities; others are heads of or workers in obstetrical departments of hospitals. The nurses become directresses of training schools and supervisors in obstetrical departments. Both doctors and nurses serve not only the poor in their localities but all grades of society. They undoubtedly do much towards raising the standard of care given to patients, and exert no small influence in procuring maternity hospitals and better facilities for teaching, and the home and hospital care of patients during childbirth.

During the past year, five thousand seven hundred and forty-five patients have been treated, not including new born babies and those visiting the dispensary classes. Of these, five thousand were confinements, among whom were many seriously ill and complicated cases such as toxemias, serious cardiac and pulmonary conditions, a few infections and a considerable number who required major operations; and yet, all but twenty-five of these women were discharged from the hospital alive. The various clinics have been well conducted and attended. The Babies' clinic under the direction of Doctor Emelyn L. Coolidge has earned and still deserves highest praise for its life-saving work for babies and the education of mothers. The ante-partum clinics at the substation and at the hospital; the post-partum, gynecological, syphilitic and cardiac clinics are doing good and helpful work and deserve much credit. The training school for nurses, under the direction of L. J. Napier, R. N., is maintained at a high standard of excellence and efficiency. This is a much more difficult thing to accomplish than in a general hospital, owing to the short term of service and frequent changing of graduate and under-graduate pupil nurses; and also to the fact that the service is as active by night as by day, caring for what amounts to emergency cases. The laboratory has maintained its usual standard of good work and reliability. The X-Ray department is undergoing reconstruction, and is being modernized under the direction of Doctor Harry M. Imboden, Roentgenologist to the hospital. Fuller statistics are to be found in the succeeding pages and in the reports of heads of different departments.

Great and rapid progress is being made in teaching and providing facilities for the care of obstetrical patients and yet, there are far too many doctors practising this branch of medicine who do not believe in or do not realize the importance of close supervision of women during pregnancy, and who attend confinements and the after care of such patients in a hurried, careless and surgically unclean manner. As an example of the results of closer supervision, in the eight years from 1914 to 1922, the incidence of convulsions was reduced from 11.4 to 1.6 per thousand cases confined in the Lying-In Hospital by recognition and treatment of the early symptoms of toxemia. These results have been maintained. Other complications have been proportionately reduced by a like course. Such results are being obtained in maternities of the better sort, and in the cases of careful and well equipped private obstetricians. No small factor in arriving at these results is the co-operation of the "instructed" patients who are periodically examined and advised in the ante-partum clinics. These women note the care exercised during labor and the lying-in period, and before leaving the hospital they are given class instruction, thereafter returning to the babies', post-partum and other clinics. They seek this instruction eagerly as something of value to themselves and their children. The undergraduate medical students serve for a period of three weeks, employing their time in ward rounds, delivery and operating rooms, the ante-partum clinics and in the out-door department where they deliver patients under supervision of members of the house staff and attending surgeons. The course for graduate pupils is one entirely of observation, limited according to the wish of the pupil from a few days to several months. Many of these pupils make it a practise to return to the hospital every year or two. The interne staff receives the most valuable training. Appointments are for periods of four months each, except in the case of the house surgeon to the out-door department who serves for six months. Thus, there are two house surgeons appointed each year to the out-door department and six to the in-door department. These men have had from two to three and in some cases four years hospital training prior to their appointment to the Lying-In. These positions are much in demand, and it is conservative to estimate that every year at least two hundred well trained candidates apply for the six places on the in-door staff. Not infrequently all of these vacancies are filled for two or more years in advance. The assistant house surgeons serve for three months in the out-door department and one month in the wards where they receive good training. The requirements as to previous hospital training are not as exacting as in the case of house surgeons, yet many of these assistants have had considerable hospital experience. During the past year the following have availed themselves of this training:

House surgeons	7
(One house surgeon served for two periods)
Assistant house surgeons.....	37
Graduate students.....	58
Under-graduate students.....	100
Graduate and pupil nurses.....	192

The attending staff is made up of nine attending surgeons, one adjunct attending and a chief surgeon. All but one of the above have, in years gone by, served as house surgeons in this hospital. Several are rather young in years of service on the attending staff, the others have for many years been caring for large numbers of normal and abnormal obstetrical patients and demonstrating this work for doctors and nurses. It is not for us to speak of the character of work and results obtained in the Lying-In—they must speak for themselves. We can, however, state with assurance that there is no other group of attending surgeons of like number in America, possibly not anywhere, who have had and continue to have such opportunities to acquire experience, trained judgment and operative skill in clinical obstetrics. These men are working together loyally and with enthusiastic and sustained effort.

In February, 1923, the development of obstetric analgesia was begun at the Lying-In Hospital and has been in constant use up to the present time in suitable cases, having been employed in some twelve thousand instances, leaving no doubt that it is safe for mother and child and of great value. We must believe from frequent letters and verbal reports that this method is being employed more widely and with increasing satisfaction by those who are responsible for the care of women in childbirth. It has met with adverse criticism and some opposition. Any radical change that is worth while has been treated in the same way. It is not perfection but it is progress. Not long since, eight patients were seen in two rooms in the hospital in different stages of progressing labor. No out-cry was heard. They were being treated with analgesia and at least relieved of much of their pain. We know of no other safe method of treating such patients which will produce like results.

The Ladies' Auxiliary continues its helpful work in providing means for carrying on the Babies' clinic with its nurses; scrub women who are employed cleaning up homes in the out-door department when mothers are confined to bed, and providing clothing for those in need. Through the social service worker, patients are followed up after they cease to require obstetrical care, and where necessary, mothers and children are placed in homes or suitable institutions. Further details of the work of the Ladies' Auxiliary will be found in the reports of the various committees.

In the merging of the Lying-In and New York Hospitals there has come a readjustment in the Board of Governors of the former. As this change took place, and it was realized that the men who had given of their time, ripened experience, means and sympathetic, helpful care for years in carrying on this work, were to give place for others, we could not escape a poignant sense of loss. The present board, all Governors of New York Hospital—men of affairs with long experience in hospital management have assumed their duties and are giving assistance and support in a way that is very much appreciated. The Governors' fiscal and executive representative, the medical superintendent, a one time interne of the hospital, is worthy of special mention. His knowledge of medicine, long years of service in the hospital, his acquaintance with the details of its history and those who have been connected with it; his close touch with the work and his experience have made him a valued officer, co-worker and counselor.

ASA B. DAVIS, M. D.

Chief Surgeon.

Report of Nurses' Training School

More students were admitted to the Lying-In Hospital during the year 1928 than during the previous year, in spite of the fact that two schools discontinued affiliations. Several schools sent their pupils very irregularly because of the shortage of third year pupils, illness, etc. One school discontinued affiliation because of the opening of an Obstetrical Department of their own, the second because this hospital allows no remuneration to the affiliating nurse.

The student classes on the whole have been larger, the Post-Graduate applicants have increased. It is interesting to note the number of Post-Graduate students who have been sent to us from General Hospitals with the understanding that they will return as supervisors in their own Obstetrical Departments. It has been our privilege, on completion of their courses, to place a number of our graduate students in hospital positions. There has been a noted increase in the number of recent graduates in the private duty field of Obstetrics.

We have put much thought and effort into the revision of our Curriculum and teaching methods. The suggestions and co-operation of our Staff of Lecturers, the support and encouragement of our Chief Surgeon and Supervising Nurses in the improvement of our nursing technique are fully appreciated. Without this interest and co-operation, advancement in this work would be impossible.

Supervisors' Staff meetings have been held monthly, at which the nursing problems of the hospital have been discussed with much interest. The result of these meetings has been most gratifying. Most helpful suggestions for the improvement of our services have been offered and better co-operation between departments has been secured.

We believe the opportunity in our Out-Patient Department for nursing in the homes of patients has been invaluable for our students. While the amount of work done has been less than last year, we believe the quality has improved.

THE BIRTHDAY FUND

The novel appeal for contributions to this Fund was first made in March 1922, and has met with generous response; 67 of the above listed subscribers, in the period covered by this Report, having made donations aggregating $1,442 thereto, which amount was expended for the purposes designated.

The Governors take this opportunity to express their grateful acknowledgments to those who contributed to this, and to the General Fund of the Hospital.

Statistics

During the year ending December 31st, 1928 the Society admitted to the two branches of its service 5,745 cases. The number of births was 5,065. The number of births in the Borough of Manhattan according to the returns from the Health Department was 42,382 of which 38,169 were reported by physicians, 4,213 by midwives and others. The Society cared for over 11% of the entire number of confinements in the Borough and more than 13% of those treated by physicians. The total number of applications for treatment was 6,052. In the Out-Door Department the number of applications was 1,511, the number treated was 1,331, the number of confinements was 1,175. The number of applications for treatment in the Hospital was 4,541; the number treated was 4,581 and the number of confinements was 3,825. The ambulance service brought to the Hospital 124 cases. In all its departments the Society has worked to the limit of its resources. Detailed figures showing the Hospital's work during the year will be found in the following pages.

Of the 4,360 patients concerning whom information was obtainable, 4,248 lived in front and 112 resided in rear tenements. 102 patients resided in basements, 376 on stoop floors, 693 on first floors, 934 on second floors, 637 on third floors, 517 on fourth floors, 660 on fifth floors and 1,714 not noted.

REPORT OF THE BABIES' CLINIC

Number of former patients treated at the Clinic.....	9,480
Number of New Patients.....	2,881
Total number treated during the year.....	12,361
Total number of visits made by the Babies' Clinic nurses to babies in their own homes.....	2,978

On the whole the year 1928 has been a good one for babies. We have not had so many seriously ill babies as usual, this with the fact that we now charge a small fee for treatment, accounts for the slightly lower figures given above.

Many of the poorer classes of New York families, are moving into the suburbs, as they can take advantage of the very moderate rentals and easy payment plans to purchase homes there, that are now being offered to them. Some years ago this class of people could not be induced to leave New York City, no matter how small and uncomfortable their homes might be. Now they are fast becoming educated to the fact that fresh air and sunshine mean everything to their babies and they are willing to go where these can be obtained. They have heard so much about rickets and the necessity of sun baths and fresh air for the prevention and cure of this disease that they welcome the opportunity the cheaper real estate developments give them, to bring their babies up in the sunshine out of the crowded city. We have patients who come to our Babies' Clinic from many of these suburban places, but naturally they cannot come quite as often as if they lived nearer by.

We had two special vaccination classes this year and vaccinated 188 babies for smallpox. The toxin-antitoxin for preventing Diphtheria is given regularly each session the Clinic is held.

The Ultra-Violet ray lamp has been used regularly except during the warmest months. The sun is then considered enough as a preventive and curative agent for the average case of rickets. Mothers are instructed how to give sunbaths out of doors as long as the weather permits.

We have given free milk, free ice and trips into the country or to the seashore as usual this past year to mothers having babies who need this special help and cannot obtain it otherwise.

Several Volunteer workers have greatly assisted us in taking histories, interpreting and giving the violet ray treatments under the supervision of one of our doctors. We are very grateful to them for this help.

Charter of the Society of the Lying-in Hospital of the City of New York

An ACT to incorporate the Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York, passed March 1, 1799, chapter xxiii. Laws of 1799.

WHEREAS, THOMAS PEARSALL, JOHN CHRISTOPHER KUNZE, ROBERT LENOX, CORNELIUS RAY, ARCHIBALD GRACIE, JOHN STARK ROBERTSON, HENRY REMSEN, WILLIAM HOUSTOUN, ANDREW HAMERSLY, JOHN CHARLTON, DAVID M. CLARKSON, WILLIAM JAUNCEY, J. C. VANDEN HEUVEL and others, influenced by principles of benevolence and charity, associated as an institution, under the style of The Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York, for the useful purpose of establishing an asylum for the reception of women in a state of pregnancy who are unable to procure the necessary medical assistance and nursing during the period of their confinement in child-bed, by their petition presented to the Legislature, have prayed to be incorporated, the better to enable them to carry into effect the salutary object of their institution; therefore

Be it enacted by the People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly. That all such persons as now are, or hereafter shall be members of the said institution, shall be and hereby are ordained, constituted and declared, forever a body corporate and politic, in fact and in name, by the name of "The Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York" and by that name they and their successors shall and may have continual succession, and shall be persons in law, capable of suing and being sued, pleading and being impleaded, answering and being answered unto, defending and being defended, in all courts and places whatsoever, in all manner of actions, suits, complaints, matters and causes whatsoever; and that they and their successors may have a common seal, and may change and alter the same at their pleasure; and also that they and their successors, by the name of "The Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York," shall be in law capable of purchasing, receiving, holding and conveying any estate, real or personal, for the use of the said corporation. Provided that the lands, tenements and hereditaments which it shall be lawful for said corporation to hold shall be only such as shall be requisite for the purpose of erecting a public building and such houses or other buildings as may be suitable and necessary to the nature of the said institution, or such as shall have been bona fide mortgaged to it by way of security, or conveyed to it in satisfaction of debts previously contracted in the course of its business, or purchased at sales, on judgment which shall have been obtained for such debts; and with regard to all such lands, tenements and hereditaments so to be held by the said corporation as aforesaid, except such as may be for its immediate accommodation as aforesaid, or such as it may hold by way of mortgage, and whereof the actual possession shall be and remain in the mortgagors, their heirs or assigns, the said corporation shall be bound to sell and dispose of the same respectively within five years after it shall acquire the same, and shall not be capable of holding the same after the expiration of the said five years.

And be it further enacted. That all persons who now are members of the said institution, or shall at any time hereafter subscribe to the same shall be deemed and taken for members of this corporation, and that the property and concerns of the said corporation shall be managed and conducted by thirteen governors, to be chosen by ballot, by and from the said subscribers; that the following persons (that is to say) Thomas Pearsall, John Christopher Kunze, Robert Lenox, Cornelius Ray, Archibald Gracie, John Stark Robertson, Henry Remsen, William Houstoun, Andrew Hamersly, John Charlton, David M. Clarkson, William Jauncey, J. C. Vanden Heuvel, shall be the present governors of the said corporation, and shall continue in office until the second Wednesday in April, in the year one thousand and eight hundred, when a new election shall be made at the hour and place, to be appointed by the said governors; that the election for governors after the year one thousand and eight hundred, shall be held annually on the second Wednesday of April, at such place and hour as the majority of the governors for the time being shall appoint, of which election, public notice shall be given by the said governors for the space of one week, in two of the daily newspapers, printed in the said City. That if any vacancy shall happen among the said governors (so elected) by death, resignation or removal, such vacancy shall be filled by a special election for the purpose, to be held in the same manner as the annual elections are made and at such time and place as shall be provided for by the by-laws of the said corporation, and in case it should happen that an election of governors should not be held on any day when pursuant to this act it ought to have been made, the corporation shall not for that cause be deemed to be dissolved; but it shall and may be lawful, on any other day, to hold an election of governors in such manner as the by-laws of the said corporation shall prescribe.

And be it further enacted. That the governors shall not take or receive any compensation for their services; and for the time being shall have power, to make and prescribe such by-laws, rules and regulations, as to them shall appear needful and proper touching the management and disposition of the stock, property, estates and effects, of the said corporation, and touching the duties and conduct of the officers of the said corporation, and touching all other matters as appertain to the business, ends and purposes, for which the said corporation is by this act instituted; and shall also have power to appoint an apothecary, house pupils, matron, stewards, nurses and servants, for carrying on the business of the said institution.

Provided, that for the appropriation or disposal of any of the capital stock, a number not less than seven shall constitute a quorum, of which number the president, or in his absence, the vice-president of the board, to be appointed in virtue of this act, shall be one, provided also, that such by-laws, rules and regulations shall not be repugnant to the constitution and laws of the United States, or of this State.

And be it further enacted. That the governors, at their first meeting, and also at the first meeting in every year next after the said annual election on the second Wednesday in April, shall elect by ballot, from their number a president, vice-president, a treasurer and a secretary, and that the officers thus elected, shall immediately enter upon their respective offices and hold the same until the next election of governors, and it shall be the duty of the president or vice-president to preside at all meetings of the governors.

And be it further enacted. That the governors shall propose at one meeting and elect by ballot at the next a number of physicians, not exceeding four to attend the said hospital, and to render all necessary medical aid to the persons admitted to the benefit of this institution, and that the said physicians remain in office until the next election for governors, after which time they are to be annually elected.

And be it further enacted. That this act shall be and hereby is declared to be a public act, and shall be construed in all courts and places benignly and favorable for every beneficial purpose herein intended.

Chapter 468, Laws of 1897.

An ACT to amend chapter twenty-three of the laws of seventeen hundred and ninety-nine entitled "An ACT to incorporate the Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York," relative to subscriptions, the election of subscribers as members, and the elections of physicians and surgeons.

Became a law May 17, 1897, with the approval of the Governor; passed three-fifths being present.

The people of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly do enact as follows:

SEC. 1. Section two of chapter twenty-three of the laws of seventeen hundred and ninety-nine, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, that all persons who now are members of the said institution, or shall at any time hereafter subscribe to the same, shall be deemed and taken as members of this corporation provided such subscription is received by the society, and such subscribers are elected members of the said society by the board of governors thereof, in such manner as shall be provided by the by-laws of the said society; and that the property and concerns of the said corporation shall be managed and conducted by thirteen governors, to be chosen by ballot by a majority of the governors from the said subscribers.

SEC. 2. Section five of said act is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, that the governors of the said society, or a majority of them, shall immediately after the annual meeting of the society in each year, elect by ballot such and so many physicians and surgeons as they shall judge necessary to attend the said hospital, and to render all necessary medical aid to the persons admitted to the benefit of this institution; and in case of a vacancy or vacancies, to elect other physicians or surgeons in their places.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

BY-LAWS

of the

Society of the Lying-in Hospital

of the City of New York

CHAPTER I.

ELECTION OF GOVERNORS

1. There shall be an Annual Meeting of the Governors on the first Tuesday of April in each year for the purpose of choosing by ballot by a majority vote of the existing Governors, from the members of the Society, thirteen Governors who shall manage and conduct the property and concerns of said corporation for the ensuing year and until their successors are elected, the hour and place for the holding of such meeting shall be fixed by the Board from time to time.

2. A vacancy among the Governors may be filled at any Stated Meeting of the Board by a majority vote of quorum of the Board.

3. A person subscribing to the funds of the Society a sum not less than five dollars, provided his subscription is accepted by the Board, upon being duly nominated and elected by the Governors, may become a member of the Society.

A person subscribing at one time to the funds of the Society the sum of five thousand dollars shall become a Patron of the Society, and any person so subscribing the sum of five hundred dollars shall become a Benefactor of the Society.

4. No person shall be eligible for the office of Governor unless he shall have so subscribed to the funds of the Society at least three months previous to an election.

CHAPTER II.

1. If any Governor shall be absent from three successive stated meetings of the Board, or from three successive stated meetings of any committee of which he shall be a member, his place as Governor may be vacated.

CHAPTER III.

MEETINGS OF GOVERNORS

1. The Board of Governors shall hold stated meetings on the first Tuesday of each month. The hour and place of meeting shall be from time to time appointed by the Board.

2. Special Meetings may be called by the President, or in his absence by the Vice-President, or on a written requisition of two Governors.

3. A number of not less than five shall be a quorum for the transaction of ordinary business; but for the appropriation or disposal of any of the property or money of the Society, except for the payment of necessary expenses, a number of not less than seven shall be necessary to constitute a quorum, of which number the President, or in his absence the Vice-President, shall be one.

4. At the stated meeting in April of each year, the Board shall elect from its number, by ballot, the President, Vice-President, Treasurer and Secretary, and shall appoint the following standing committees, namely.

1. A Finance Committee, to consist of three Governors.

2. An Executive Committee, to consist of five Governors.

3. A Committee on Nominations, to consist of three Governors, to whom shall be referred the names of all candidates who may be proposed for election to the office of Governor, and of all nominations for vacancies occurring in any of the other offices of the Society, whenever they may occur.

4. A Law Committee, to consist of three Governors.

5. The following shall be the order of business at the meetings of the Board.

1. Reading of the Minutes of last meeting.

2. Reading of the Minutes of Standing Committees.

3. Reports of officers of the Board.

4. Reports of Standing or Special Committees.

5. Unfinished business.

6. Miscellaneous business.

CHAPTER IV.

DUTIES OF OFFICERS

1. The President, or Vice-President, together with the Secretary, may, on authority of the Board, upon the payment of the principal and interest of any Bond and Mortgage held by the Society, execute a certificate of satisfaction thereof, or an assignment of the same without recourse.

2. The Treasurer shall have the custody of the funds of the Society which shall be deposited with such Bankers, Bank or Trust Company as may be designated by the Board of Governors, and he is authorized to receive the interest or dividends on all securities and to give receipt therefor. In case of his absence or disability, the President or Vice-President is authorized to receive such interest or dividends.

3. The Treasurer shall keep books of account, and at each stated meeting shall make a report of the several sums by him received and expended.

4. The Secretary shall have the custody of the records and papers of the Society, other than the securities and medical records; he shall keep fair and accurate minutes of the proceedings of the Board, and notify the Governors of the meetings. He shall have the custody of the corporate seal of the Society.

CHAPTER V.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

1. The Finance Committee shall have power, from time to time, to direct the purchase, sale or exchange of investments of the Society and may authorize the Treasurer to execute and deliver in the name and under the seal of the Society all necessary papers in connection therewith, and no change shall be made in any investments without the authority of said Committee. They shall as often as once in six months examine the Treasurer's accounts or cause the same to be examined.

2. The Finance Committee shall have and exercise such other powers as may from time to time be conferred upon them by the Board of Governors.

CHAPTER VI.

CUSTODY OF SECURITIES

1. All securities shall be deposited with such Bankers, Bank or Trust Company as may be designated by the Board of Governors. Securities so deposited to be withdrawn only upon the written order of the Society of the Lying-In Hospital when signed and countersigned by any two of the following officers: President, Vice-President, Secretary or Treasurer, or upon the signature of any one of the above officers, when countersigned by any other Governor of the Society.

CHAPTER VII.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

1. The Executive Committee shall have the supervision of all buildings and improvements belonging to the corporation, and shall hold stated meetings at least once in each month and as often as the exigencies of business may require.

2. They shall audit the bills on receiving them from the Superintendent, and make a draft on the Treasurer for the amount of the same. At their succeeding meeting they are to examine all such bills to see that they are duly receipted. They shall notify the Superintendent each month of the total amount of money which may be expected for all running expenses during the following month.

3. They shall keep a book of minutes, and enter therein such business as may come before them, which book must be laid before the Governors at every monthly meeting.

4. The Committee may direct the expenditure of money or clothes for the relief of patients who from extreme poverty or circumstances of peculiar distress, may need such aid.

5. Whenever they think it necessary that a special meeting of the Governors should be called they shall apply for that purpose to the President, or in his absence, to the Vice-President. In the absence or inability of both to act, such meetings may be called by the Chairman of the Executive Committee.

6. The Executive Committee shall have and exercise such other powers as may from time to time be conferred upon them by the Board of Governors.

CHAPTER VIII.

1. The Board of Governors, or a majority of them, shall, immediately after the Annual Meeting of the Board in each year, elect by ballot such and so many physicians and surgeons as they shall judge necessary to attend the said hospital and to render all necessary medical aid to the persons admitted to the benefits of the Institution, and to conduct the educational and medical work of the Hospital. In case of a vacancy or vacancies, the Board of Governors, or a majority of them shall elect other physicians or surgeons to fill the same.

2. No surgeon, officer, nurse or servant of this Institution shall accept any gift or bequest from or on behalf of any patient in the Wards or Out-Patient Department.

CHAPTER IX.

1. Persons may contribute toward the endowment of beds in the Society's Hospital by the payment of a sum not less than $7,500, the annual income from which will be applied to the cost of maintaining a free bed in one of the wards so far as such income will suffice to pay such cost. Persons making such payments shall have such rights in respect to naming patients to the Society for treatment as the Governors shall from time to time prescribe.

CHAPTER X.

AMENDMENTS TO BY-LAWS

1. Any alteration or amendment of these by-laws must be proposed in writing at a stated meeting of the Governors, but cannot be acted upon until a subsequent stated meeting; when the same may be adopted provided a majority of the Governors shall approve thereof.

2. These by-laws shall take effect immediately, and all other by-laws of the Society are repealed.

REPORT OF IN-PATIENTS' COMMITTEE

(Com. I)

November 13th, 1927—November 17th, 1928

In the year just completed this committee proposes to give a brief resumé of its activities during this time, mentioning some of the difficulties encountered as well as results achieved.

Through the courtesy of co-operating agencies we have been able to give excellent care to 187 patients.

Eighty-one women were placed in homes after their discharge from hospital.

There were about 1, 172 ward rounds made and 1,501 office interviews.

604 cases have come under our care—126 unmarried—118 deserted or separated—351 married—9 widows.

Another great demand upon this department is the temporary placement of children during the mothers' stay at the hospital, as it is difficult to ascertain the exact time of confinement, but which has been successfully dealt with through the immediate help of the Children's Welfare Federation.

The unmarried mother is still a difficult problem as it is not easy to secure reliable information both from the girl and her family. It requires the use of the utmost caution to safeguard their best interests.

The question of when an unmarried mother shall keep her baby and when it shall be given up has been and still will be a most difficult one which only can be solved upon an individual consideration of each and every case. This we have been able to care for satisfactorily through the co-operation of various agencies with follow up work, and every effort is made to keep the babies with their mothers.

REPRESENTATIVE CASES

Patient 1. C. C., age 22 years, unmarried. Girl seemed fond of her baby but was influenced by her mother who advised her to surrender the child for adoption. Girl's step-father was willing to have her return home without the baby. On the advice of a Psychologist who said girl is a Dull Normal with a Mental age 13, the baby was placed at board and girl went to her own home. After a rest she returned to her former place of employment where she had worked as a file clerk for seven years. Girl was given about a month to make up her mind as to what she wished to do about the child. She decided she would like to keep in touch with him. An effort was made to locate the father of the child without success. Through the Department of Public Welfare the baby was placed in a private boarding home where he is at present. Girl visits him twice a month. He is having good care and is a good natured, attractive baby. He has made a slow steady gain and is normal weight. A nurse visits him once a week. His mother hopes to be able to take him home when he is older.

Patient 2. A. M., age 24 years, unmarried, discharged to State Charities Aid. Girl very anxious to surrender her baby for adoption. She however, consented to remain with the child until they were both stronger. She took care of her and each day became more interested. She was homesick for her family but could not take her baby home. Although she had given a history of marriage she admitted after a few days that it was false. Mother and baby were sent to the country and while there girl communicated with her family and told them about her child. Her brother and sister called immediately to see her and assured her that they all wanted her at home. After two months she returned home and the baby was placed in a nearby nursery where mother visited several times a week. When the child was 10 months old she was taken home where she now is the pet of the grandparents and several uncles and aunts. Girl has returned to her former employment as saleswoman in a dress shop. The baby is bright and attractive and is normal weight. Both mother and baby are in good physical condition.

Patient 3. M. B. age 20 years, unmarried. Girl very anxious to keep baby and plan made where this could be accomplished. After discharge from hospital both mother and baby placed in temporary shelter. Girl secured position and the baby cared for during the day in the nursery of the shelter. This plan enabled the girl to have her baby during the night and on Saturday afternoons and Sundays. She took a great interest in her baby and gave him good care. He was nursed for six weeks. When he was about 5 months old he had an intestinal disturbance and was a patient at St. Luke's Hospital. He had one transfusion. When discharged he was placed in a private boarding home where he had special care until he returned to his mother in about five weeks time. He made a rapid recovery from his illness. He is a bright, happy baby, and in good physical condition.

REPRESENTATIVE CASES

Case No. 1. B. B., 285 Grand Street, New York City.

Mother of four children, including nursing baby. Mother a janitress of tenement in which she resided. She worked up to the day she was confined, then the thirteen year old son assumed the responsibility. Her husband has been drinking for the past six years, not physically unable to work. Home conditions very poor. Post-partum care was given for nine days, cleaner sent in, and family referred to the C. O. S. for financial aid.

Case No. 2. V. R. New York City.

Family of six, including a new born baby. Father worked in fish market when he was able. Out of work now, owing to rheumatism and heart trouble. Lying-In Hospital doctor reported mother in exhausted condition owing to lack of food. Catholic Charities gave financial aid. Nursing care given for nine days and baby clothes sent by Lying-In Hospital.

Case No. 3. N. K. 98 Willet Street, City.

Patient had five children, including a new baby. Husband, a laborer, has been sick for two years. The mother and children were without food. Neighbors had been donating soups, tea, etc. A nurse from the Lying-In Hospital gave a small sum of money to aid in immediate relief.

Upon investigation, this case was found to be a former one of the C. O. S. The supervisor of that organization and the supervisor of the Lying-In Hospital Outdoor Service visited the family. Immediate aid was given by the C. O. S. The Mother and children were sent to Caroline Rest a short time later.

In November, 1928, Bertha Ludwigsen, who did the cutting and sorting of garments, for this Committee, was taken seriously ill. When it became apparent that she would be unable to continue her work, the Committee recommended to the Board that some appreciation of her long and faithful service to the Hospital and to the Auxiliary be shown. The Board accordingly voted that a small pension be paid her monthly until further action of the Board.

Respectfully submitted,

DORIS DIXON.

REPORT OF THE WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE

During the year 1927 it was suggested that various members of the Ladies' Auxiliary would be glad to pledge themselves to give annually amounts larger than the ten dollars membership dues, and that if other classes of membership were created with this idea in view, the income from dues would be materially increased.

Accordingly, the classes

Patron.....	with annual dues of	$100
Associate Member...	with annual dues of	50
Contributing Member	with annual dues of	25
Sustaining Member..	with annual dues of	10 were created, and a notice to this effect was sent out with the notice for the dues of the year 1928.

The response was most gratifying. 11 members became Patrons, 5 Associate, and 19 Contributing, thus adding $1475 to the annual income from dues of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Respectfully submitted,

HELEN PORTER PRYBIL,
Chairman.

Report of the Board of Governors

The Board of Governors of The Society of the Lying-In Hospital submits herewith its report for the 131st fiscal year of the Society, ending December 31, 1929.

While the amount of the maternity service rendered by the doctors and nurses is a little less than in the preceding years, the high standard of efficiency which has always characterized this service has been admirably maintained. The reasons for this slight diminution in the demand for such service are set forth in the report of the Chief Surgeon. As he shows, the educational work of the Hospital has diminished neither in amount nor quality. The Governors again gratefully acknowledge all that has been accomplished by the members of the medical and hospital staffs. To these devoted workers we are indebted for the admirable results recorded.

The Chief Surgeon sets forth our obligation in this regard, but the Governors wish to emphasize the able and devoted accomplishment of the Chief Surgeon himself. His wise and guiding influence is seen in all that the institution has accomplished.

The activities of the Ladies' Auxiliary have continued as efficiently and successfully as ever. Their continued participation in this essential branch of the Hospital's operations is highly appreciated by the Governors.

During the year a contract of sale of the property on Second Avenue between 17th and 18th Streets was made by the Lying-In Hospital with the New York Skin and Cancer Hospital. The latter institution, which has conducted its large and valuable work at the northeast corner of Second Avenue and 19th Street, found it necessary to have substantially enlarged accommodations. Instead of constructing a new set of hospital buildings on another site it was decided to buy the spacious and well constructed Lying-In Hospital. Possession of this building will be given the Skin and Cancer Hospital when the Lying-In Hospital moves to its new building now in process of construction at 70th and Exterior Streets.

Medical Report

THE report of the medical and educational activities of the Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York, from January 1, 1929, to December 31, 1929, inclusive, is herewith submitted.

The number of cases treated is somewhat smaller than during 1928. This is notably true of the out-door department. The diminishing demand for such services as the hospital offers to patients seeking confinement and obstetrical care in their homes has been in progress for the past fifteen years and will probably continue. We need not seek far to find the reason for this change. Immigration has practically ceased. The population which we served has largely moved to other parts of the city and families are smaller. Thousands of tenements in our district have been converted into shops and places of business, while bridge approaches and street widening have displaced many others. More maternity hospitals and departments have come into existence. The people who now occupy the district are different racially, not so poor, and more of them are able to pay for the services of private physicians. The out-door maternity departments in this and other cities are passing through a similar experience. The quality of service which the Lying-In provides has no way deteriorated. Cooperation and friendly team-work are outstanding features throughout the entire personnel of the hospital, with unyielding endeavor to do better work and secure better results. More of our patients recover rapidly without fever or other complications. Eclampsia, the convulsive form of toxemia, has almost disappeared in patients whose pregnancies have been supervised by the hospital.

Seven years have passed since we began to develop and employ obstetric analgesia. This method had its origin in the Lying-In Hospital. We can assert that it is an agent which is safe and of great value, and that it does decidedly alleviate the pain incident to child-birth. It is not yet conceivable that the delivery of a child can be an entirely painless and, at the same time a safe process for the mother and baby. In a few cases we have patients who know nothing of their labor from within a few minutes after medication has begun and yet delivery goes on undelayed. Thousands have received great relief and in no instance have we met with unfavorable results which could be attributed to the use of analgesia. We have our full share of complicated cases, many of whom require radical and operative treatment; that some die is inevitable, but many recover. During the past year there have been an unusual number of cases complicated by badly damaged hearts; a large proportion of these, although desperately ill, have been carried through, to ultimate obstetric recovery.

The premature nursery is worthy of note. The percentage of loss of these infants has been materially diminished, and more of them, developed sufficiently to give promise of surviving, are saved. Mainly this result is obtained by the plan of the nursery, its cribs, method of safely maintaining a proper temperature, circulating fresh air and the general care and method of feeding. No small factor is the devoted care given by attendants who spend their whole working time in this service and are not changed about from place to place at short intervals.

It is now forty years since the work of the out-door department began under an organization known as the Midwifery Dispensary. During the first year—1890, it confined 199 women in their homes, the second year 955, and when it merged with the Society of the Lying-In Hospital in 1893, there were records of something over 2600 confinements. At the time of the merger, the older organization gave its name, charter, board of governors and a considerable much needed fund. Thus far we have not been able to learn that the Lying-In Hospital did any obstetrical work or had a medical staff from the time that relations were severed between it and the New York Hospital; nor, are we able to find authentic record that New York Hospital treated maternity cases or was affiliated with any other organization which did this work after the dissolution of the arrangement between it and the Lying-In. The Midwifery Dispensary, as its part of the combination, supplied a going organization with an active attending, consulting and resident staff, pupils and a rapidly increasing demand for its services. Space does not permit of a history of the phenomenal changes and improvement in the teaching and practice of obstetrics which have taken place during the past forty years. In 1890, there were only a few out-patient obstetric departments in the country whereas now there are many. It is safe to say that there are one hundred or more hospital beds available now for maternity cases where there was but one at that time. Hundreds of medical students were graduated and began practice without any clinical knowledge whatsoever of obstetrics.

Some twenty years ago an independent investigator reported that the Lying-In Hospital in New York ranked fourth in the list of maternities of the world reckoned by the number of patients confined. The active work began on January 1, 1890, as the Midwifery Dispensary, with headquarters in two small tenements at No. 312 Broome Street. We had no telephone. As if to inculcate the idea that obstetricians should not sleep much or comfortably, the resident physician was provided with a bed which had been donated, and was much too short; the remainder of the staff and students being lodged in double deck beds. The fuel supply was gathered somewhat after the plan of the Israelites' manna in the wilderness. Each week day, except Saturday, we bought a bucket of coal and a bundle of kindling. On Saturday the supply was doubled. Added to this there was a gas log in the office which sometimes functioned. Not infrequently the entire staff were called out to active duty in the tenements and at such times the establishment was locked, a card being tacked on the door stating where the resident physician could be found. As stated, the work grew rapidly. One month we confined 357 women in the tenements. Later, with the in-door department, we treated in one year over seven thousand cases, sixty-three hundred of whom were confinements, and in the forty years this hospital has confined more than one hundred and seventy thousand women, some ninety thousand in their own homes. In fancy we sometimes see the many thousands of doctors, medical students and nurses who have been trained, and patients who have been treated in the Lying-In, gathered into one vast assemblage. To this number would be added children and grandchildren. Whatever its shortcomings, and we recognize some of them, the Lying-In Hospital in New York has held a position which is unique in this country. It has done pioneer work and has undoubtedly been an influence to stimulate better obstetric teaching and practice and the development of other maternities which in turn do excellent work in education and the care of patients.

During the past year the hospital has treated 5,443 obstetrical or allied cases. There were 4,653 confinements with 4,695 births, including plural births. In following pages will be found detailed statistics, reports of the various departments and clinics which are self-explanatory.

Some idea of the educational work of the hospital can be obtained by careful study of the following table:

House surgeons.....	9
Assistant house surgeons.....	38
Graduate pupils.....	45 from 36 Colleges
Undergraduate pupils.....	117 from 19 Colleges
Nurses.....	188 from 44 Training Schools

The nine house surgeons have had two or three and in some cases more years of training as internes, chiefly in surgery, before taking up the intensive four months' training in obstetrics as house surgeons in the Lying-In Hospital. This work is so exacting that, should the course be prolonged to six months, it is probable that a considerable number would break down before finishing. This has occurred in a few instances during the four months' course. Yet these positions are eagerly sought, and it is rare for a house surgeon to leave the hospital without giving assurance that he has acquired a training of great value. In a degree somewhat less this holds true of the training given assistant house surgeons. These forty or more internes who serve as house surgeons and assistant house surgeons, each year constitute our best post-graduate class. The course for graduate pupils is one entirely of observation and ward rounds. They are under no control and remain for a short or long period as suits their convenience. Under existing conditions this number is not liable to increase. Years ago there was no other place in the country, apart from Lying-In, where these doctors could see as great a number and variety of cases in a short time. Now, there are many new maternity hospitals and departments scattered over a wide area, which means an increased capacity for training young doctors and nurses in good obstetric practice, and greater facilities for the better care of patients. Not long since, one of our older post-graduates who has been accustomed to return every year or two stated:—"The doctors in my city would like to come to Lying-In. They are busy and it is three days to New York. It is twelve hours to another large city where they can now secure this experience." Even though the hospital may lose somewhat by this change we look upon it with grateful hope. We find it reassuring to note that greater interest is being evidenced in this very important branch of medicine, and that the public are gradually becoming educated to an appreciation of the value of good obstetric care. We believe that much of the teaching, practice and results in this country are unexcelled, and it may very well be that the time will come when the oft repeated stigma:—"For the country as a whole there has been no improvement in obstetric results for the past quarter of a century"—will be erased. The course for undergraduate pupils is of three weeks' duration. They serve the first week in the hospital and the last two weeks in the out-door department, making visits and attending births under supervision of an attending surgeon and members of the interne staff. This is in no sense adequate clinical training, but it should add meaning and an understanding interest to their theoretical teaching in the medical schools. Pupils and post-graduate nurses, under the supervision of the Directress of the training school, are given a course difficult to excel in the time allotted for it.

Statements which appeared in last year's report concerning the attending surgeons, Directress of Nurses, Chief of the Babies' Clinic and their staffs remain true today. They are doing excellent work. The Ladies' Auxiliary, as indicated by their report, is conducting work of great value to the hospital. Much credit is due the Medical Superintendent and those whom he directs, for his part in the smooth and efficient running of the hospital. If briefly stated, we nevertheless sincerely appreciate the great part which the Governors take in their helpful supporting attitude.

ASA B. DAVIS, M. D.

Chief Surgeon.

Report of Nurses' Training School

The year 1929 has been a progressive one in the Nursing Department of the Hospital. There has been little sickness and the number of nurses received from the affiliating hospitals has been consistent.

The same number of Post Graduate students was admitted during the year as in 1928, but we have noticed a decided improvement in this group of students. Most of them have very definite reasons for seeking this service, namely, better knowledge of Obstetrics for use in the supervising field.

The students as a whole have been unusually enthusiastic and cooperative in the application of new methods we have incorporated in our teaching program. Most encouraging results have been achieved in the care of our patients and in the attitude of the students toward the study of Obstetrics.

The opportunity offered in the service of the Out Patient Department has been sincerely requested by the majority of the students and 151 received this training. There were 475 antepartum and 2192 postpartum visits made in the homes by the students; they also assisted at 205 deliveries in the homes of patients. The students in the clinics talk to the mothers regarding their personal hygiene, using the demonstration outfit to help them plan their layettes and the equipment necessary for home delivery and the care of babies. This contact with patients is most valuable for the nurses, giving them a different point of view to that usually acquired in hospital wards.

In addition to our regular staff of nurses, the services of 69 graduates were required to care for ill patients, 42 were called for adults, 14 for infants and 13 to relieve on the floors when large classes were leaving—a total of 258 days service from this group.

Miss Mary S. Power gave a series of lectures at this hospital to the supervising nurses of Willard Parker, Manhattan Maternity and Lying-In Hospitals. These lectures covered a wide range of subjects important in practical supervision and were well attended and appreciated by these nurses.

The cooperation and loyalty of the staff nurses has been noteworthy; exceptional demands have been made on them and they have met their additional responsibilities efficiently. The monthly meetings held by the supervising nurses have been productive of many helpful suggestions. Improvement in ward procedure has been worked out and discussion of costs of ward supplies has made the requisitions of these materials more economical.

The support given the Nursing Department by the Chief Surgeon and the Staff of Lecturers has enabled us to progress along many lines. Their understanding of our particular problems in a constantly changing nursing service has facilitated greatly the work in this hospital.

Through the generosity of a friend of the nurses, one hundred dollars worth of new books were added to the reference and fiction libraries of the school. These are a valuable addition and, with a new radio which was given to the nurses by the hospital, have been very popular.

Owing to the opening of an Obstetrical Department at St. Francis Hospital in Poughkeepsie, that hospital discontinued their affiliation. Charlesgate Hospital, in Cambridge, Massachusetts, discontinued theirs because of the expense involved in sending the students to New York.

During the year 190 students were admitted, 145 were pupil nurses and 45 Post Graduate nurses. One pupil was recalled to her own school, two resigned, and three Post Graduate students left before completion of the course.

Respectfully submitted,

LILA J. NAPIER, R. N.

· Directress of Nurses.

THE BIRTHDAY FUND

The novel appeal for contributions to this Fund was first made in March 1922, and has met with generous response; 51 of the above listed subscribers, in the period covered by this Report, having made donations aggregating $1,026 thereto, which amount was expended for the purposes designated.

The Governors take this opportunity to express their grateful acknowledgments to those who contributed to this, and to the General Fund of the Hospital.

Charter of the Society of the Lying-in Hospital of the City of New York

An ACT to incorporate the Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York, passed March 1, 1799, chapter xxiii. Laws of 1799.

WHEREAS, THOMAS PEARSALL, JOHN CHRISTOPHER KUNZE, ROBERT LENOX, CORNELIUS RAY, ARCHIBALD GRACIE, JOHN STARK ROBERTSON, HENRY REMSEN, WILLIAM HOUSTOUN, ANDREW HAMERSLY, JOHN CHARLTON, DAVID M. CLARKSON, WILLIAM JAUNCEY, J. C. VANDEN HEUVEL and others, influenced by principles of benevolence and charity, associated as an institution, under the style of The Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York, for the useful purpose of establishing an asylum for the reception of women in a state of pregnancy who are unable to procure the necessary medical assistance and nursing during the period of their confinement in child-bed, by their petition presented to the Legislature, have prayed to be incorporated, the better to enable them to carry into effect the salutary object of their institution; therefore

Be it enacted by the People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly. That all such persons as now are, or hereafter shall be members of the said institution, shall be and hereby are ordained, constituted and declared, forever a body corporate and politic, in fact and in name, by the name of "The Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York" and by that name they and their successors shall and may have continual succession, and shall be persons in law, capable of suing and being sued, pleading and being impleaded, answering and being answered unto, defending and being defended, in all courts and places whatsoever, in all manner of actions, suits, complaints, matters and causes whatsoever; and that they and their successors may have a common seal, and may change and alter the same at their pleasure; and also that they and their successors, by the name of "The Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York," shall be in law capable of purchasing, receiving, holding and conveying any estate, real or personal, for the use of the said corporation. Provided that the lands, tenements and hereditaments which it shall be lawful for said corporation to hold shall be only such as shall be requisite for the purpose of erecting a public building and such houses or other buildings as may be suitable and necessary to the nature of the said institution, or such as shall have been bona fide mortgaged to it by way of security, or conveyed to it in satisfaction of debts previously contracted in the course of its business, or purchased at sales, on judgment which shall have been obtained for such debts; and with regard to all such lands, tenements and hereditaments so to be held by the said corporation as aforesaid, except such as may be for its immediate accommodation as aforesaid, or such as it may hold by way of mortgage, and whereof the actual possession shall be and remain in the mortgagors, their heirs or assigns, the said corporation shall be bound to sell and dispose of the same respectively within five years after it shall acquire the same, and shall not be capable of holding the same after the expiration of the said five years.

And be it further enacted. That all persons who now are members of the said institution, or shall at any time hereafter subscribe to the same shall be deemed and taken for members of this corporation, and that the property and concerns of the said corporation shall be managed and conducted by thirteen governors, to be chosen by ballot, by and from the said subscribers; that the following persons (that is to say) Thomas Pearsall, John Christopher Kunze, Robert Lenox, Cornelius Ray, Archibald Gracie, John Stark Robertson, Henry Remsen, William Houstoun, Andrew Hamersly, John Charlton, David M. Clarkson, William Jauncey, J. C. Vanden Heuvel, shall be the present governors of the said corporation, and shall continue in office until the second Wednesday in April, in the year one thousand and eight hundred, when a new election shall be made at the hour and place, to be appointed by the said governors; that the election for governors after the year one thousand and eight hundred, shall be held annually on the second Wednesday of April, at such place and hour as the majority of the governors for the time being shall appoint, of which election, public notice shall be given by the said governors for the space of one week, in two of the daily newspapers, printed in the said City. That if any vacancy shall happen among the said governors (so elected) by death, resignation or removal, such vacancy shall be filled by a special election for the purpose, to be held in the same manner as the annual elections are made and at such time and place as shall be provided for by the by-laws of the said corporation, and in case it should happen that an election of governors should not be held on any day when pursuant to this act it ought to have been made, the corporation shall not for that cause be deemed to be dissolved; but it shall and may be lawful, on any other day, to hold an election of governors in such manner as the by-laws of the said corporation shall prescribe.

And be it further enacted. That the governors shall not take or receive any compensation for their services; and for the time being shall have power, to make and prescribe such by-laws, rules and regulations, as to them shall appear needful and proper touching the management and disposition of the stock, property, estates and effects, of the said corporation, and touching the duties and conduct of the officers of the said corporation, and touching all other matters as appertain to the business, ends and purposes, for which the said corporation is by this act instituted; and shall also have power to appoint an apothecary, house pupils, matron, stewards, nurses and servants, for carrying on the business of the said institution.

Provided, that for the appropriation or disposal of any of the capital stock, a number not less than seven shall constitute a quorum, of which number the president, or in his absence, the vice-president of the board, to be appointed in virtue of this act, shall be one, provided also, that such by-laws, rules and regulations shall not be repugnant to the constitution and laws of the United States, or of this State.

And be it further enacted. That the governors, at their first meeting, and also at the first meeting in every year next after the said annual election on the second Wednesday in April, shall elect by ballot, from their number a president, vice-president, a treasurer and a secretary, and that the officers thus elected, shall immediately enter upon their respective offices and hold the same until the next election of governors, and it shall be the duty of the president or vice-president to preside at all meetings of the governors.

And be it further enacted. That the governors shall propose at one meeting and elect by ballot at the next a number of physicians, not exceeding four to attend the said hospital, and to render all necessary medical aid to the persons admitted to the benefit of this institution, and that the said physicians remain in office until the next election for governors, after which time they are to be annually elected.

And be it further enacted. That this act shall be and hereby is declared to be a public act, and shall be construed in all courts and places benignly and favorable for every beneficial purpose herein intended.

An ACT to amend chapter twenty-three of the laws of seventeen hundred and ninety-nine entitled "An ACT to incorporate the Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York," relative to subscriptions, the election of subscribers as members, and the elections of physicians and surgeons.

Became a law May 17, 1897, with the approval of the Governor; passed three-fifths being present.

The people of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly do enact as follows:

SEC. 1. Section two of chapter twenty-three of the laws of seventeen hundred and ninety-nine, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, that all persons who now are members of the said institution, or shall at any time hereafter subscribe to the same, shall be deemed and taken as members of this corporation provided such subscription is received by the society, and such subscribers are elected members of the said society by the board of governors thereof, in such manner as shall be provided by the by-laws of the said society; and that the property and concerns of the said corporation shall be managed and conducted by thirteen governors, to be chosen by ballot by a majority of the governors from the said subscribers.

SEC. 2. Section five of said act is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, that the governors of the said society, or a majority of them, shall immediately after the annual meeting of the society in each year, elect by ballot such and so many physicians and surgeons as they shall judge necessary to attend the said hospital, and to render all necessary medical aid to the persons admitted to the benefit of this institution; and in case of a vacancy or vacancies, to elect other physicians or surgeons in their places.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

BY-LAWS

of the

Society of the Lying-in Hospital

of the City of New York

CHAPTER I.

ELECTION OF GOVERNORS

1. There shall be an Annual Meeting of the Governors on the first Tuesday of April in each year for the purpose of choosing by ballot by a majority vote of the existing Governors, from the members of the Society, thirteen Governors who shall manage and conduct the property and concerns of said corporation for the ensuing year and until their successors are elected, the hour and place for the holding of such meeting shall be fixed by the Board from time to time.

2. A vacancy among the Governors may be filled at any Stated Meeting of the Board by a majority vote of quorum of the Board.

3. A person subscribing to the funds of the Society a sum not less than five dollars, provided his subscription is accepted by the Board, upon being duly nominated and elected by the Governors, may become a member of the Society.

A person subscribing at one time to the funds of the Society the sum of five thousand dollars shall become a Patron of the Society, and any person so subscribing the sum of five hundred dollars shall become a Benefactor of the Society.

4. No person shall be eligible for the office of Governor unless he shall have so subscribed to the funds of the Society at least three months previous to an election.

CHAPTER II.

1. If any Governor shall be absent from three successive stated meetings of the Board, or from three successive stated meetings of any committee of which he shall be a member, his place as Governor may be vacated.

CHAPTER III.

MEETINGS OF GOVERNORS

1. The Board of Governors shall hold stated meetings on the first Tuesday of each month. The hour and place of meeting shall be from time to time appointed by the Board.

2. Special Meetings may be called by the President, or in his absence by the Vice-President, or on a written requisition of two Governors.

3. A number of not less than five shall be a quorum for the transaction of ordinary business; but for the appropriation or disposal of any of the property or money of the Society, except for the payment of necessary expenses, a number of not less than seven shall be necessary to constitute a quorum, of which number the President, or in his absence the Vice-President, shall be one.

4. At the stated meeting in April of each year, the Board shall elect from its number, by ballot, the President, Vice-President, Treasurer and Secretary, and shall appoint the following standing committees, namely.

1. A Finance Committee, to consist of three Governors.

2. An Executive Committee, to consist of five Governors.

3. A Committee on Nominations, to consist of three Governors, to whom shall be referred the names of all candidates who may be proposed for election to the office of Governor, and of all nominations for vacancies occurring in any of the other offices of the Society, whenever they may occur.

4. A Law Committee, to consist of three Governors.

5. The following shall be the order of business at the meetings of the Board.

1. Reading of the Minutes of last meeting.

2. Reading of the Minutes of Standing Committees.

3. Reports of officers of the Board.

4. Reports of Standing or Special Committees.

5. Unfinished business.

6. Miscellaneous business.

CHAPTER IV.

DUTIES OF OFFICERS

1. The President, or Vice-President, together with the Secretary, may, on authority of the Board, upon the payment of the principal and interest of any Bond and Mortgage held by the Society, execute a certificate of satisfaction thereof, or an assignment of the same without recourse.

2. The Treasurer shall have the custody of the funds of the Society which shall be deposited with such Bankers, Bank or Trust Company as may be designated by the Board of Governors, and he is authorized to receive the interest or dividends on all securities and to give receipt therefor. In case of his absence or disability, the President or Vice-President is authorized to receive such interest or dividends.

3. The Treasurer shall keep books of account, and at each stated meeting shall make a report of the several sums by him received and expended.

4. The Secretary shall have the custody of the records and papers of the Society, other than the securities and medical records; he shall keep fair and accurate minutes of the proceedings of the Board, and notify the Governors of the meetings. He shall have the custody of the corporate seal of the Society.

CHAPTER V.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

1. The Finance Committee shall have power, from time to time, to direct the purchase, sale or exchange of investments of the Society and may authorize the Treasurer to execute and deliver in the name and under the seal of the Society all necessary papers in connection therewith, and no change shall be made in any investments without the authority of said committee. They shall as often as once in six months examine the Treasurer's accounts or cause the same to be examined.

2. The Finance Committee shall have and exercise such other powers as may from time to time be conferred upon them by the Board of Governors.

CHAPTER VI.

CUSTODY OF SECURITIES

1. All securities shall be deposited with such Bankers, Bank or Trust Company as may be designated by the Board of Governors. Securities so deposited to be withdrawn only upon the written order of the Society of the Lying-In Hospital when signed and countersigned by any two of the following officers: President, Vice-President, Secretary or Treasurer, or upon the signature of any one of the above officers, when countersigned by any other Governor of the Society.

CHAPTER VII.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

1. The Executive Committee shall have the supervision of all buildings and improvements belonging to the corporation, and shall hold stated meetings at least once in each month and as often as the exigencies of business may require.

2. They shall audit the bills on receiving them from the Superintendent, and make a draft on the Treasurer for the amount of the same. At their succeeding meeting they are to examine all such bills to see that they are duly receipted. They shall notify the Superintendent each month of the total amount of money which may be expected for all running expenses during the following month.

3. They shall keep a book of minutes, and enter therein such business as may come before them, which book must be laid before the Governors at every monthly meeting.

4. The Committee may direct the expenditure of money or clothes for the relief of patients who from extreme poverty or circumstances of peculiar distress, may need such aid.

5. Whenever they think it necessary that a special meeting of the Governors should be called they shall apply for that purpose to the President, or in his absence, to the Vice-President. In the absence or inability of both to act, such meetings may be called by the Chairman of the Executive Committee.

6. The Executive Committee shall have and exercise such other powers as may from time to time be conferred upon them by the Board of Governors.

CHAPTER VIII.

1. The Board of Governors, or a majority of them, shall, immediately after the Annual Meeting of the Board in each year, elect by ballot such and so many physicians and surgeons as they shall judge necessary to attend the said hospital and to render all necessary medical aid to the persons admitted to the benefits of the Institution, and to conduct the educational and medical work of the Hospital. In case of a vacancy or vacancies, the Board of Governors, or a majority of them shall elect other physicians or surgeons to fill the same.

2. No surgeon, officer, nurse or servant of this Institution shall accept any gift or bequest from or on behalf of any patient in the Wards or Out-Patient Department.

CHAPTER IX.

1. Persons may contribute toward the endowment of beds in the Society's Hospital by the payment of a sum not less than $7,500, the annual income from which will be applied to the cost of maintaining a free bed in one of the wards so far as such income will suffice to pay such cost. Persons making such payments shall have such rights in respect to naming patients to the Society for treatment as the Governors shall from time to time prescribe.

CHAPTER X.

AMENDMENTS TO BY-LAWS

1. Any alteration or amendment of these by-laws must be proposed in writing at a stated meeting of the Governors, but cannot be acted upon until a subsequent stated meeting; when the same may be adopted provided a majority of the Governors shall approve thereof.

2. These by-laws shall take effect immediately, and all other by-laws of the Society are repealed.

REPRESENTATIVE CASES

Case No. 1. C. M., 78 Catherine St., New York City.

Patient has four children including the new baby. Husband was committed to a mental institution during the early months of the patient's last pregnancy; and since then family has been cared for by the city.

Lying-In Hospital gave clothes for baby. Nursing care given for eight days and cleaner sent in.

Case No. 2. E. S., 418 West 17th St., New York City.

Patient was referred to Out-Patient Department by the Nursery and Child's Hospital.

Family has been cared for by the Catholic Charities for the last two years. During that time patient had several operations for varicose veins.

Husband has been unable to work for eight months due to injuries received to arm and body from burns. Patient said his clothing caught fire from a lighted cigarette, but seemed reluctant to discuss it further. He was treated at Bellevue Hospital for eight weeks and is now able to take light work.

St. Vincent De Paul Society supplies family with food and provides the six children with clothing. Bellevue Social Service gave baby clothes. Nursing care given for seven days.

Case No. 3. A. I., 625 West 42nd St., New York City.

Family of seven children living in three very poorly kept rooms. The house is very old and there is no gas or electric light, so they are using oil lamps. Patient's husband is past sixty and a heavy drinker; unemployed most of the time. Both parents are very shiftless and take little interest in their children or home. The oldest, a boy eighteen years of age, seems to be the only one contributing toward the up-keep of the home. He is a printer making twenty dollars a week.

Hudson Guild is looking after the welfare of the children. Cleaner sent in for eight days and nursing care given.

REPORT OF THE WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE

(Com. IV)

The Committee wishes to report that through the children's subscriptions of $2.00 towards running the Babies' Class, $881.00 was received, which added to balance at Bankers Trust Company October 31, 1928 made a total of $893.64, of which $500.00 was paid to the Ladies' Auxiliary, and the balance of $393.64 left in the Bankers Trust Company in order to keep the account open.

It was not necessary to raise money to make up the difference between the receipts from dues and donations and our annual running expenses, as the Board of Governors very generously volunteered to contribute the necessary amount.

Respectfully submitted,
HELEN PORTER PRYIBIL,
Chairman.

Report of the Board of Governors

The Board of Governors of The Society of the Lying-In Hospital submits herewith its report for the 132nd fiscal year of the Society, ending December 31, 1930.

The amount of the maternity service rendered by the institution during the year is only slightly less than the record of the preceding year, and has been characterized by the notably high standard of efficiency with which this service has always been performed. The educational work of the Hospital has been about the same in amount. For these most gratifying results in an economic period of extraordinary difficulty the Governors are deeply indebted to the members of the medical and hospital staffs.

Our distinguished Chief Surgeon, Dr. Asa B. Davis, in his report for 1929, described with some detail the operations of the institution during preceding years, and in the Governors' report for that year a special tribute to his able and devoted accomplishment was set forth. To our great sorrow, on August 13th, 1930, Dr. Davis' immensely valuable life came to an end. His impressive funeral service was held in St. George's Church, Stuyvesant Square, on the morning of Friday, August 15th, and was largely attended.

To succeed Dr. Davis, Dr. James A. Harrar, our senior Attending Surgeon, was elected Chief Surgeon. From his attached report it appears how well he, his associates, the Nursing Department and the entire hospital staff under the able guidance of the Medical Superintendent have continued the admirable performance of the invaluable service to the people of the city which has so long characterized the efforts of the institution.

The activities of the Ladies' Auxiliary have been unabated, and we are deeply indebted to them for all that they have accomplished.

The construction of the new Lying-In Hospital at the southwest corner of 70th and Exterior Streets has been proceeding actively, and it is hoped that before the end of 1932 we shall be established in that new and carefully designed building.

EDWARD W. SHELDON

President.

Medical Report

HAVE the honor to present the report of the medical and educational activities of the Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York, from January 1st, 1930 to December 31st, 1930 inclusive.

A report of this kind would not be complete without recording the losses which our medical staff sustained. Dr. Asa B. Davis, Chief Surgeon since 1918 and Dr. William A. Morgan, Attending Surgeon, died during the year. Both served most faithfully in conducting the affairs of the Hospital and in planning for the betterment of its service and management. We are endeavoring to continue the definite conservative policy laid down by Dr. Davis and it is a source of satisfaction to be able to report that the Associate Attending Surgeons recently appointed, have shown an earnest desire to properly perform their share of the work.

Acknowledgment is hereby made of the generous support and kindly encouragement of the Board of Governors, the efficient service and splendid cooperation of the Medical Staff, the Superintendent, the Nursing Department and Heads of Special Departments, all of whom have contributed in full measure to the satisfactory and successful results obtained by the various departments of the Hospital during the year.

The teaching, out-patient department, ante-partum and post-partum clinics, laboratory, social service, special clinics, namely: babies', luetic, cardiac, and sterility, have conducted their work as in previous years, with excellent results.

The X-ray department has been much more satisfactory than heretofore, under the able guidance of Drs. Harry Miles Imboden and Jerry S. Bell. Requests for X-ray pictures are attended to promptly.

The anesthesia department guided by Dr. James T. Gwathmey is more active. Each month Dr. Gwathmey now instructs the Junior House Staff how properly to give gas and oxygen to women in labor. In this way the pain incident to child-birth will be alleviated still further, when the gas and oxygen is administered in addition to the routine rectal ether analgesia, which was originated at the Lying-In Hospital and has been practiced so successfully here for the past eight years.

The premature ward in which we place all babies under 4½ pounds, is an outstanding feature of the Hospital, and this year has taken care of more premature babies, with better results than heretofore. Of 84 premature babies, who lived longer than 24 hours, only 7 died, the remaining 77 having been discharged well.

The credit for these splendid results is not so much due to the scientific conduct of the ward as to the careful selection by the Directress of Nurses of a capable and permanent nurse in charge, and such pupil assistants who show special aptitude for and interest in this type of work.

Regarding the educational work, some idea can be obtained by a study of the table below:

During the past year the following have received diplomas:

House Surgeons.....	9
Assistant House Surgeons.....	31
Post-Graduate Students.....	43	from 36 colleges.
Under-graduate Students.....	94	from 17 colleges.
Post-Graduate Nurses.....	58	} from 51 training schools.
Under-graduate Nurses.....	130

The year 1930 will go down in history as perhaps the most difficult year of the present economic cycle. No hospital could fail to be affected in some way or other by the experience of the year. The forces that were operating are reflected in the number of patients admitted, both in the wards and private pavilion. In spite of the fact that the number of births conducted by the Hospital has slightly diminished, the Hospital, as in previous years, cared for more than 11 percent of the entire number of confinements in the Borough of Manhattan.

Respectfully submitted,
JAMES A. HARRAR, M. D.
Chief Surgeon.

Report of Nurses' Training School

In 1930, 188 nurses were admitted for obstetrical training; 58 of these were graduate nurses, and 130 were pupils from affiliating hospitals. The number of pupil nurses was slightly less than previous years, and the number of graduate nurses increased. Two of the graduate nurses resigned before the termination of the course, but all the undergraduate students completed their service.

In addition to the student body, 83 special nurses were called to care for patients in the following services: babies in the isolation ward, or those who were very sick, needed the care of 14 nurses for 89 days; very ill mothers required the services of 44 nurses for 132 days; varied conditions, such as relief for change days, relief for ill members of the supervising staff, and the care of an intern who was operated on, required the services of 25 nurses for 58 days,—a total of 279 days service from this group.

Two general duty nurses have been added to the regular staff.

Lenox Hill Hospital, New York City.....	48
St. John's Hospital, Yonkers, N. Y.....	18
Ashland State Hospital, Ashland, Pa.....	16
St. Vincent's Hospital, New York City.....	16
St. Mary's Free Hospital for Children, New York City.....	12
New York Hospital, New York City.....	8
Post Graduate Hospital, New York City.....	9
St. Mark's Hospital, New York City.....	3

The staff of supervising nurses is composed of 17 graduate nurses who have given their cooperation and interest most consistently. Miss Clara M. Konrad, who held the position of instructor for the past four years, resigned to take charge of the new Maternity Department of the Jersey City Hospital. Miss Ethel M. Sweeney, a graduate of the Philadelphia General Hospital, has succeeded Miss Konrad.

The Ashland State Hospital, Ashland, Pennsylvania, withdrew its affiliation at the request of the Pennsylvania State Board of Nurse Examiners to send their students to the Philadelphia Lying-In Hospital. No other affiliations were discontinued. Applications for further obstetrical training are being received in large numbers from graduate nurses, and it is interesting to note that a number of student nurses still in training are asking for additional service in obstetrics immediately after their graduation. This is no doubt due to a campaign of publicity being made by groups of persons interested in nurses' training who have emphasized the importance of good obstetrical care and more thorough preparation of nurses for giving it.

The Out-Patient Department continues to be of great interest to the students, and a valuable part of their training. The work in that department with which 166 student nurses assisted was as follows:

146 normal labors in homes
39 abnormal labors in homes
240 ante-partum visits in homes
2,441 post-partum visits in homes

156 students spent one-half day each in the field observing Maternity Center methods, and graduate students particularly interested in this work were given the opportunity of attending some of the mothers' classes given at the Center.

Through the generosity of a friend, we have continued to add valuable books to our nurses' reference and fiction libraries.

The Medical Staff of the Hospital has contributed a great deal toward our nursing and teaching programmes by its helpful suggestions in the solution of our problems, and in the generous amount of time and thought they have given to the lectures and their supervision of the health of the student body.

Respectfully submitted,

LILA J. NAPIER, R. N.

Directress of Nurses.

THE BIRTHDAY FUND

The novel appeal for contributions to this Fund was first made in March 1922, and has met with generous response; 106 of the above listed subscribers, in the period covered by this Report having made donations aggregating $1,638 thereto, which amount was expended for the purposes designated.

The Governors take this opportunity to express their grateful acknowledgments to those who contributed to this, and to the General Fund of the Hospital.

Statistics

During the year ending December 31st, 1930, the Society admitted to the two branches of its service 5,330 cases, and the members of its medical staff officiated at 4,599 births. According to the returns from the City Health Department, there were 39,231 births in the Borough of Manhattan, of which 36,216 were reported by physicians and 2,915 by midwives and others. Thus, the Society cared for over 11 per cent of the total number of confinements in the Borough and more than 12 per cent of those attended by physicians. The total number of applications for treatment was 5,441. In the out-patient department, there were 1,254 applicants, 1,096 of whom received treatment either as general cases or confinements, which latter numbered 983. The number of applicants for hospital care during the year was 4,187, though, owing to the fact that many patients who had applied prior to January 1st, 1930 were admitted after that date, 4,261 were treated, 3,571 of these being confinement cases. Its own ambulance service brought to the Hospital 48 cases. Detailed figures showing the Hospital's work during the year will be found in the following pages.

Of the 4,218 patients concerning whom information was obtainable, 4,170 lived in front and 48 resided in rear tenements. 77 patients resided in basements, 391 on stoop floors, 777 on first floors, 898 on second floors, 806 on third floors, 537 on fourth floors and 666 on fifth floors and 66 not noted.

Charter of the Society of the Lying-in Hospital of the City of New York

An ACT to incorporate the Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York, passed March 1, 1799, chapter xxiii. Laws of 1799.

WHEREAS, THOMAS PEARSALL, JOHN CHRISTOPHER KUNZE, ROBERT LENOX, CORNELIUS RAY, ARCHIBALD GRACIE, JOHN STARK ROBERTSON, HENRY REMSEN, WILLIAM HOUSTOUN, ANDREW HAMERSLY, JOHN CHARLTON, DAVID M. CLARKSON, WILLIAM JAUNCEY, J. C. VANDEN HEUVEL and others, influenced by principles of benevolence and charity, associated as an institution, under the style of The Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York, for the useful purpose of establishing an asylum for the reception of women in a state of pregnancy who are unable to procure the necessary medical assistance and nursing during the period of their confinement in child-bed, by their petition presented to the Legislature, have prayed to be incorporated, the better to enable them to carry into effect the salutary object of their institution; therefore

Be it enacted by the People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly. That all such persons as now are, or hereafter shall be members of the said institution, shall be and hereby are ordained, constituted and declared, forever a body corporate and politic, in fact and in name, by the name of "The Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York" and by that name they and their successors shall and may have continual succession, and shall be persons in law, capable of suing and being sued, pleading and being impleaded, answering and being answered unto, defending and being defended, in all courts and places whatsoever, in all manner of actions, suits, complaints, matters and causes whatsoever; and that they and their successors may have a common seal, and may change and alter the same at their pleasure; and also that they and their successors, by the name of "The Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York," shall be in law capable of purchasing, receiving, holding and conveying any estate, real or personal, for the use of the said corporation. Provided that the lands, tenements and hereditaments which it shall be lawful for said corporation to hold shall be only such as shall be requisite for the purpose of erecting a public building and such houses or other buildings as may be suitable and necessary to the nature of the said institution, or such as shall have been bona fide mortgaged to it by way of security, or conveyed to it in satisfaction of debts previously contracted in the course of its business, or purchased at sales, on judgment which shall have been obtained for such debts; and with regard to all such lands, tenements and hereditaments so to be held by the said corporation as aforesaid, except such as may be for its immediate accommodation as aforesaid, or such as it may hold by way of mortgage, and whereof the actual possession shall be and remain in the mortgagors, their heirs or assigns, the said corporation shall be bound to sell and dispose of the same respectively within five years after it shall acquire the same, and shall not be capable of holding the same after the expiration of the said five years.

And be it further enacted. That all persons who now are members of the said institution, or shall at any time hereafter subscribe to the same shall be deemed and taken for members of this corporation, and that the property and concerns of the said corporation shall be managed and conducted by thirteen governors, to be chosen by ballot, by and from the said subscribers; that the following persons (that is to say) Thomas Pearsall, John Christopher Kunze, Robert Lenox, Cornelius Ray, Archibald Gracie, John Stark Robertson, Henry Remsen, William Houstoun, Andrew Hamersly, John Charlton, David M. Clarkson, William Jauncey, J. C. Vanden Heuvel, shall be the present governors of the said corporation, and shall continue in office until the second Wednesday in April, in the year one thousand and eight hundred, when a new election shall be made at the hour and place, to be appointed by the said governors; that the election for governors after the year one thousand and eight hundred, shall be held annually on the second Wednesday of April, at such place and hour as the majority of the governors for the time being shall appoint, of which election, public notice shall be given by the said governors for the space of one week, in two of the daily newspapers, printed in the said City. That if any vacancy shall happen among the said governors (so elected) by death, resignation or removal, such vacancy shall be filled by a special election for the purpose, to be held in the same manner as the annual elections are made and at such time and place as shall be provided for by the by-laws of the said corporation, and in case it should happen that an election of governors should not be held on any day when pursuant to this act it ought to have been made, the corporation shall not for that cause be deemed to be dissolved; but it shall and may be lawful, on any other day, to hold an election of governors in such manner as the by-laws of the said corporation shall prescribe.

And be it further enacted. That the governors shall not take or receive any compensation for their services; and for the time being shall have power, to make and prescribe such by-laws, rules and regulations, as to them shall appear needful and proper touching the management and disposition of the stock, property, estates and effects, of the said corporation, and touching the duties and conduct of the officers of the said corporation, and touching all other matters as appertain to the business, ends and purposes, for which the said corporation is by this act instituted; and shall also have power to appoint an apothecary, house pupils, matron, stewards, nurses and servants, for carrying on the business of the said institution.

Provided, that for the appropriation or disposal of any of the capital stock, a number not less than seven shall constitute a quorum, of which number the president, or in his absence, the vice-president of the board, to be appointed in virtue of this act, shall be one, provided also, that such by-laws, rules and regulations shall not be repugnant to the constitution and laws of the United States, or of this State.

And be it further enacted. That the governors, at their first meeting, and also at the first meeting in every year next after the said annual election on the second Wednesday in April, shall elect by ballot, from their number a president, vice-president, a treasurer and a secretary, and that the officers thus elected, shall immediately enter upon their respective offices and hold the same until the next election of governors, and it shall be the duty of the president or vice-president to preside at all meetings of the governors.

And be it further enacted. That the governors shall propose at one meeting and elect by ballot at the next a number of physicians, not exceeding four to attend the said hospital, and to render all necessary medical aid to the persons admitted to the benefit of this institution, and that the said physicians remain in office until the next election for governors, after which time they are to be annually elected.

And be it further enacted. That this act shall be and hereby is declared to be a public act, and shall be construed in all courts and places benignly and favorable for every beneficial purpose herein intended.

An ACT to amend chapter twenty-three of the laws of seventeen hundred and ninety-nine entitled "An ACT to incorporate the Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York," relative to subscriptions, the election of subscribers as members, and the elections of physicians and surgeons.

Became a law May 17, 1897, with the approval of the Governor; passed three-fifths being present.

The people of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly do enact as follows:

SEC. 1. Section two of chapter twenty-three of the laws of seventeen hundred and ninety-nine, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, that all persons who now are members of the said institution, or shall at any time hereafter subscribe to the same, shall be deemed and taken as members of this corporation provided such subscription is received by the society, and such subscribers are elected members of the said society by the board of governors thereof, in such manner as shall be provided by the by-laws of the said society; and that the property and concerns of the said corporation shall be managed and conducted by thirteen governors, to be chosen by ballot by a majority of the governors from the said subscribers.

SEC. 2. Section five of said act is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, that the governors of the said society, or a majority of them, shall immediately after the annual meeting of the society in each year, elect by ballot such and so many physicians and surgeons as they shall judge necessary to attend the said hospital, and to render all necessary medical aid to the persons admitted to the benefit of this institution; and in case of a vacancy or vacancies, to elect other physicians or surgeons in their places.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

BY-LAWS

of the

Society of the Lying-in Hospital

of the City of New York

CHAPTER I.

ELECTION OF GOVERNORS

1. There shall be an Annual Meeting of the Governors on the first Tuesday of April in each year for the purpose of choosing by ballot by a majority vote of the existing Governors, from the members of the Society, thirteen Governors who shall manage and conduct the property and concerns of said corporation for the ensuing year and until their successors are elected, the hour and place for the holding of such meeting shall be fixed by the Board from time to time.

2. A vacancy among the Governors may be filled at any Stated Meeting of the Board by a majority vote of quorum of the Board.

3. A person subscribing to the funds of the Society a sum not less than five dollars, provided his subscription is accepted by the Board, upon being duly nominated and elected by the Governors, may become a member of the Society.

A person subscribing at one time to the funds of the Society the sum of five thousand dollars shall become a Patron of the Society, and any person so subscribing the sum of five hundred dollars shall become a Benefactor of the Society.

4. No person shall be eligible for the office of Governor unless he shall have so subscribed to the funds of the Society at least three months previous to an election.

CHAPTER II.

1. If any Governor shall be absent from three successive stated meetings of the Board, or from three successive stated meetings of any committee of which he shall be a member, his place as Governor may be vacated.

CHAPTER III.

MEETINGS OF GOVERNORS

1. The Board of Governors shall hold stated meetings on the first Tuesday of each month. The hour and place of meeting shall be from time to time appointed by the Board.

2. Special Meetings may be called by the President, or in his absence by the Vice-President, or on a written requisition of two Governors.

3. A number of not less than five shall be a quorum for the transaction of ordinary business; but for the appropriation or disposal of any of the property or money of the Society, except for the payment of necessary expenses, a number of not less than seven shall be necessary to constitute a quorum, of which number the President, or in his absence the Vice-President, shall be one.

4. At the stated meeting in April of each year, the Board shall elect from its number, by ballot, the President, Vice-President, Treasurer and Secretary, and shall appoint the following standing committees, namely

1. A Finance Committee, to consist of three Governors.

2. An Executive Committee, to consist of five Governors.

3. A Committee on Nominations, to consist of three Governors, to whom shall be referred the names of all candidates who may be proposed for election to the office of Governor, and of all nominations for vacancies occurring in any of the other offices of the Society, whenever they may occur.

4. A Law Committee, to consist of three Governors.

5. The following shall be the order of business at the meetings of the Board.

1. Reading of the Minutes of last meeting.

2. Reading of the Minutes of Standing Committees.

3. Reports of officers of the Board.

4. Reports of Standing or Special Committees.

5. Unfinished business.

6. Miscellaneous business.

CHAPTER IV.

DUTIES OF OFFICERS

1. The President, or Vice-President, together with the Secretary, may, on authority of the Board, upon the payment of the principal and interest of any Bond and Mortgage held by the Society, execute a certificate of satisfaction thereof, or an assignment of the same without recourse.

2. The Treasurer shall have the custody of the funds of the Society which shall be deposited with such Bankers, Bank or Trust Company as may be designated by the Board of Governors, and he is authorized to receive the interest or dividends on all securities and to give receipt therefor. In case of his absence or disability, the President or Vice-President is authorized to receive such interest or dividends.

3. The Treasurer shall keep books of account, and at each stated meeting shall make a report of the several sums by him received and expended.

4. The Secretary shall have the custody of the records and papers of the Society, other than the securities and medical records; he shall keep fair and accurate minutes of the proceedings of the Board, and notify the Governors of the meetings. He shall have the custody of the corporate seal of the Society.

CHAPTER V.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

1. The Finance Committee shall have power, from time to time, to direct the purchase, sale or exchange of investments of the Society and may authorize the Treasurer to execute and deliver in the name and under the seal of the Society all necessary papers in connection therewith, and no change shall be made in any investments without the authority of said committee. They shall as often as once in six months examine the Treasurer's accounts or cause the same to be examined.

2. The Finance Committee shall have and exercise such other powers as may from time to time be conferred upon them by the Board of Governors.

CHAPTER VI.

CUSTODY OF SECURITIES

1. All securities shall be deposited with such Bankers, Bank or Trust Company as may be designated by the Board of Governors. Securities so deposited to be withdrawn only upon the written order of the Society of the Lying-In Hospital when signed and countersigned by any two of the following officers: President, Vice-President, Secretary or Treasurer, or upon the signature of any one of the above officers, when countersigned by any other Governor of the Society.

CHAPTER VII.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

1. The Executive Committee shall have the supervision of all buildings and improvements belonging to the corporation, and shall hold stated meetings at least once in each month and as often as the exigencies of business may require.

2. They shall audit the bills on receiving them from the Superintendent, and make a draft on the Treasurer for the amount of the same. At their succeeding meeting they are to examine all such bills to see that they are duly receipted. They shall notify the Superintendent each month of the total amount of money which may be expected for all running expenses during the following month.

3. They shall keep a book of minutes, and enter therein such business as may come before them, which book must be laid before the Governors at every monthly meeting.

4. The Committee may direct the expenditure of money or clothes for the relief of patients who from extreme poverty or circumstances of peculiar distress, may need such aid.

5. Whenever they think it necessary that a special meeting of the Governors should be called they shall apply for that purpose to the President, or in his absence, to the Vice-President. In the absence or inability of both to act, such meetings may be called by the Chairman of the Executive Committee.

6. The Executive Committee shall have and exercise such other powers as may from time to time be conferred upon them by the Board of Governors.

CHAPTER VIII.

1. The Board of Governors, or a majority of them, shall, immediately after the Annual Meeting of the Board in each year, elect by ballot such and so many physicians and surgeons as they shall judge necessary to attend the Hospital and to render all necessary medical aid to the persons admitted to the benefits of the Institution, and to conduct the educational and medical work of the Hospital. In case of a vacancy or vacancies, the Board of Governors, or a majority of them shall elect other physicians or surgeons to fill the same.

2. No surgeon, officer, nurse or servant of this Institution shall accept any gift or bequest from or on behalf of any patient in the Wards or Out-Patient Department.

CHAPTER IX.

1. Persons may contribute toward the endowment of beds in the Society's Hospital by the payment of a sum not less than $7,500, the annual income from which will be applied to the cost of maintaining a free bed in one of the wards so far as such income will suffice to pay such cost. Persons making such payments shall have such rights in respect to naming patients to the Society for treatment as the Governors shall from time to time prescribe.

CHAPTER X.

AMENDMENTS TO BY-LAWS

1. Any alteration or amendment of these by-laws must be proposed in writing at a stated meeting of the Governors, but cannot be acted upon until a subsequent stated meeting; when the same may be adopted provided a majority of the Governors shall approve thereof.

2. These by-laws shall take effect immediately, and all other by-laws of the Society are repealed.

REPORT OF IN-PATIENTS' COMMITTEE

(Committee 1)

November 17th, 1929—November 15th, 1930

We have briefly summarized the work of this committee for the past year. There were 820 cases under our care: Of these 107 were unmarried; 126 deserted or separated; 585 married; 2 widows.

Convalescent care was given to 110 patients; 121 children were placed temporarily; 60 women placed in homes after their discharge from hospital.

Every effort is made to help the unmarried mother, often bringing her into contact with an organization that will continue to give advice and help over an indefinite period of time.

Families are referred to various organizations where they are helped to maintain a satisfactory standard of living. Assistance is given to all patients, who apply, providing the case proves deserving.

The cooperation of the following agencies has helped to greatly increase the efficiency of all work done by this committee.

REPORT OF THE WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE

(Committee 4)

This Committee raises as much money as possible towards the maintenance of the Babies' Class by soliciting contributions of two dollars each from children, mostly under the age of ten years. The members of the Board of Managers of the Ladies' Auxiliary are responsible for getting these contributions. The balance on hand November 1, 1929 was $393.64, and we received during the year ending October 31, 1930 $681.00.

The funds of the Ways and Means Committee are kept in a special bank account out of which money is paid into the account of the Ladies' Auxiliary from time to time. On December 5, 1929 the sum of $300.00 was thus transferred to the Ladies' Auxiliary, leaving a balance on October 31, 1930 of $774.64.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. C. V. S. MITCHELL,

Chairman.

REPORT OF THE BABIES' CLASS FROM DECEMBER 1, 1929 TO NOVEMBER 30, 1930

Number of former patients treated.....	8,806
Number of new patients treated.....	2,274
Total number of patients treated.....	11,080
Number of calls made on patients in their own homes by the two Babies' Class nurses.....	2,794

During the last year the Babies' Class has continued its customary work with the babies born in the service of the Hospital. We have often felt that many of our patients who would have gone to the office of a private physician in more prosperous times, came to us in order to save expense. These mothers have appreciated our help greatly and have been most intelligent in carrying out the advice given to them by the doctors and nurses. Some of the mothers frankly say that they receive more help from us, who make a specialty of treating babies, than they do when forced to go to a general practitioner whose fee they can at times afford.

In some cases the fathers have brought us their babies, as the mothers are employed in earning the little the family lives on. Women can often find work in cleaning or doing other domestic work, when the man of the family has lost his position, sometimes through no fault of his own. It is surprising to see how well some of the fathers handle the babies and how faithfully they try to carry out the advice given to them.

Our volunteers not only greatly help us at the Class sessions but also are very kind in aiding the families who are in the greatest need. This is especially true during the Holidays. For some years past a friend has sent us a check at Christmas time and at the beginning of the summer months, stipulating that this shall be used directly for the babies. We have usually bought warm underwear for the babies who would otherwise be scantily clad during the winter months, and in summer we have used this money to send babies on short day trips where they could be refreshed by cool sea breezes for a little while at least. Many of the mothers are so situated that they cannot leave home for a longer stay in the country or at the seashore even if no expense is connected with this vacation. If the baby is breast fed of course it cannot leave the mother, hence the little day outings are all the change of air they have, and are very beneficial.

At every Class session inoculations of toxin antitoxin for the prevention of diphtheria have been given to all babies of suitable ages, and 188 babies were protected from smallpox by vaccination.

General Alpine Sun Lamp treatments have been given by our volunteer technician, while treatment for special cases requiring closer application of the rays, has been given by one of our staff doctors in charge of this work; 1,400 treatments were given during the seven months when this kind of aid is advisable. In warm weather we discontinue the Sun Lamp work, out of door sun baths being advised then.

It is interesting to note that many mothers come to the Hospital for confinement even if they must travel a long distance. Among the follow-up cards sent down from the wards when the babies were discharged from the Hospital, 350 cases lived on Long Island and 425 in Brooklyn. It is not possible for our busy nurses to personally call on these mothers, but some of them return to the Babies' Class voluntarily. Many of them are very loyal to the Hospital although they cannot return to the Class as frequently as those living nearby; they often say "My baby was born in the Lying-In Hospital and I want him to be under its care as long as possible."

Report of the Board of Governors

The Board of Governors of The Society of the Lying-In Hospital submits herewith its report for the 133rd fiscal year of the Society, ending December 31, 1931.

The amount of the maternity service rendered by the institution during the year is only slightly less than the record of the preceding year and has been characterized by the notably high standard of efficiency with which this service has always been performed. The educational work of the Hospital has been about the same in amount. For these most gratifying results in an economic period of continued extraordinary difficulty the Governors are deeply indebted to the members of the medical and hospital staffs.

From the attached report of Dr. James A. Harrar, our Chief Surgeon, it appears how ably the institution has been conducted and what an invaluable service it renders to the people of the city. The obstetric mortality was only four for each thousand confinements as compared with five per thousand for the entire city over the same period and of six and one-half per thousand in the United States as a whole. This demonstrates how well the Medical Department, Nursing Department and the entire hospital staff have dealt with this difficult and important service.

The Ladies' Auxiliary has continued its valuable service and we owe them a large debt for all that they have accomplished.

The construction of the new Lying-In Hospital at the southwest corner of 70th and Exterior Streets has proceeded steadily and it is hoped that by next September we shall have moved from our present home and be established in that admirably designed building.

Medical Report

NCE again I respectfully present the annual report of the medical and educational activities of the Society of the Lying-In Hospital.

The past year has been a difficult one for all of us, but the work of the Hospital has been so well sustained by the praise-worthy benevolence of the New York Hospital and the Board of Governors that the continued efforts toward alleviating the suffering of women in childbirth as well as the instruction of doctors and nurses in the art of midwifery have been in every way maintained.

This year the institution, representing the oldest maternity hospital in the United States will close its present doors and will take its place as a unit of the New York Hospital-Cornell Medical College Association where under the leadership of Dr. H. J. Stander we hope to continue to better the American maternal mortality record by means of a wider educational endeavor.

While the feelings of many of us will be tinged with sadness at leaving the wards where we have learned so much, we can but look with pardonable pride upon our results as they have improved in the past few years.

It has always been and still is the policy of the Hospital to admit to its capacity, all emergency patients whether in complicated labor or desperately ill post-partum, without restriction, except contagious or mental cases.

During 1931, among 4,239 confinements, including all emergency cases mishandled before admission, we lost but 18 mothers, an obstetric mortality of 4 per 1,000, less than one-half of one per cent. In New York City, over the same period, the maternal mortality was 5 per 1,000. In the United States as a whole, from most recent figures obtainable, it was 6.5 per 1,000.

The prenatal care of patients in the ante-partum clinics continues to be well managed and much credit is due the attending staff for their faithful work there.

The Toxemia Clinic created during the year, as an integral part of the ante-partum clinic, has been of great assistance in the treatment of toxemia of pregnancy patients and in the segregating of those needing hospitalization. By this means the occurrence of the convulsive type of toxemia, i. e.—eclampsia, has been reduced to a creditable minimum.

A definite Social Service Department has been established, systematizing and enlarging all our former activities in this line. We are indebted to the Ladies' Auxiliary for making possible the employment of a trained social service worker to head this department.

As pointed out in the report of the Directress of Nurses, we have lost the pupil nurses from several affiliated training schools but our total nursing staff has been adequately maintained by the influx of graduate nurses taking the postgraduate course. Due in part to the financial depression more nurses are thus taking the opportunity of increasing their obstetrical training.

The pathological laboratory, under the direction of Dr. Frederic E. Sondern, and conducted by Dr. Frederick A. Hem-sath, presents the following account of this work for the year.

Postmortem examinations (including 4 adults) ..	150
Pathological specimens.....	1,173
Urine, routine examinations.....	23,114
Syphilis, complement fixation tests.....	12,016
Cultures.....	95
Smears.....	1,494
Blood counts and hemoglobin.....	1,973
Chemical exam. blood, milk, etc.....	135
Blood grouping and matching.....	442
Miscellaneous.....	331
Total specimens and tests.....	40,923

In October the Hospital was honored by a visit from Dr. Kielland of Oslo, Norway, who spent a fortnight with us in almost daily instruction in the use of the excellent forceps devised by him.

Dr. Robert L. Craig has been added to the medical staff as Associate Attending Surgeon. Dr. Joseph C. Roper has been appointed Consulting Physician.

The Bulletin of the Hospital is in press and will be one of the largest and most interesting issues we have had. It will be the fourth and final number of the 13th volume. This publication of clinical articles contributed by the medical staff first appeared in May 1904.

JAMES A. HARRAR, M. D.

Chief Surgeon.

Report of Nurses' Training School

I herewith submit the report of the Nursing Service of the Lying-In Hospital for the year 1931.

One hundred and ninety-five students were admitted during the year, one hundred and five pupils from affiliating schools and ninety for Post Graduate work. Seven resignations were received from students. One pupil resigned to be married, four Post Graduate nurses left because they did not like the work, one because of illness at home, and one accepted a position. It is interesting to note that fifty per cent of the students in the school at the present time are graduate nurses.

Requests for information concerning the Post Graduate experience have greatly increased this year, a total of six hundred and sixty-four inquiries being received.

Owing to the opening of the new Obstetrical wing of St. John's Hospital in Yonkers, New York, their affiliation with this School ended, thus terminating an association of many years. The students received from that School averaged twelve per year.

Undergraduate students were received from the following affiliating Hospitals:

New York Hospital.....	8
St. Mary's Hospital for Children.....	11
St. John's Hospital, Yonkers.....	12
Post Graduate Hospital.....	12
St. Vincent's Hospital.....	14
Lenox Hill Hospital.....	48

There has been no change in the curriculum or policy of the School during the year, and the student group as a whole has been above the average in efficiency and interest in this branch of training.

The service in the Out-Patient Department has been of great interest to the students, and we believe it is a valuable part of their experience here. In this Department the nurse has the opportunity of giving the patients advice and suggestions on their personal hygiene during the ante-partum period, and by means of the demonstrations teaching them the most efficient care of their babies.

The instruction given to the patients when they visit the Ante-partum Clinics is supplemented in the Mothers' Class before they leave the Hospital. In this class the care of the baby is demonstrated and the patient is given instruction about her personal care after she goes home. These classes are attended by the patients from the Private Pavilion as well as Ward patients.

The opportunity afforded the nurse in the observation of the patient in different situations is of great value in the completion of her knowledge as to her responsibilities to the obstetrical patient.

The service of forty-four graduate nurses was required during the year for special nursing of ill Ward patients. Twenty-three were called for mothers, and ten for babies.

Nine nurses were called for relief on Wards over change days, and two were called in emergencies for the relief of Night Supervisors.

The Registry for Private Duty Nurses has had less calls than in former years, as has been the case in most Hospitals. Five hundred and forty calls were filled, and 2,631 days' service rendered to private patients.

A gift from a friend of the Hospital has made possible a number of additions to the Nurses' fiction and reference libraries.

The cooperation and support of the nursing body was liberally given in the service of the Hospital during the year, and the Medical Staff contributed most generously of its time and interest to the lectures for nurses and to the supervision of their health.

Respectfully submitted,

LILA J. NAPIER, R. N.

Directress of Nurses.

Statistics

During the year ending December 31st, 1931, the Society admitted to the two branches of its service 5,003 cases, and the members of its medical staff officiated at 4,298 births. According to the returns from the City Health Department, there were 36,238 births in the Borough of Manhattan, of which 34,055 were reported by physicians and 2,183 by midwives and others. Thus, the Society cared for over 11 per cent of the total number of confinements in the Borough and more than 12 per cent of those attended by physicians. The total number of applications for treatment was 5,372. In the Out-Patient Department there were 1,352 applicants, 981 of whom received treatment either as general cases or confinements, which latter numbered 890. The number of applicants for hospital care during the year was 4,020, though, owing to the fact that many patients who had applied prior to January 1st, 1931, were admitted after that date, 4,047 were treated, 3,349 of these being confinement cases. Its own ambulance service brought to the Hospital 49 cases. Detailed figures showing the Hospital's work during the year will be found in the following pages.

Of the 4,041 patients concerning whom information was obtainable 4,003 lived in front and 38 resided in rear tenements; 91 patients resided in basements, 420 on stoop floors, 595 on first floors, 952 on second floors, 838 on third floors, 408 on fourth floors and 609 on fifth floors, and 128 not noted.

Charter of the Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York

an ACT to incorporate the Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York, passed March 1, 1799, chapter xxiii. Laws of 1799.

WHEREAS, THOMAS PEARSALL, JOHN CHRISTOPHER KUNZE, ROBERT LENOX, CORNELIUS RAY, ARCHIBALD GRACIE, JOHN STARK ROBERTSON, HENRY REMSEN, WILLIAM HOUSTOUN, ANDREW HAMERSLY, JOHN CHARLTON, DAVID M. CLARKSON, WILLIAM JAUNCEY, J. C. VANDEN HEUVEL and others, influenced by principles of benevolence and charity, associated as an institution, under the style of The Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York, for the useful purpose of establishing an asylum for the reception of women in a state of pregnancy who are unable to procure the necessary medical assistance and nursing during the period of their confinement in child-bed, by their petition presented to the Legislature, have prayed to be incorporated, the better to enable them to carry into effect the salutary object of their institution; therefore

Be it enacted by the People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly. That all such persons as now are, or hereafter shall be members of the said institution, shall be and hereby are ordained, constituted and declared, forever a body corporate and politic, in fact and in name, by the name of "The Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York" and by that name they and their successors shall and may have continual succession, and shall be persons in law, capable of suing and being sued, pleading and being impleaded, answering and being answered unto, defending and being defended, in all courts and places whatsoever, in all manner of actions, suits, complaints, matters and causes whatsoever; and that they and their successors may have a common seal, and may change and alter the same at their pleasure; and also that they and their successors, by the name of "The Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York," shall be in law capable of purchasing, receiving, holding and conveying any estate, real or personal, for the use of the said corporation. Provided that the lands, tenements and hereditaments which it shall be lawful for said corporation to hold shall be only such as shall be requisite for the purpose of erecting a public building and such houses or other buildings as may be suitable and necessary to the nature of the said institution, or such as shall have been bona fide mortgaged to it by way of security, or conveyed to it in satisfaction of debts previously contracted in the course of its business, or purchased at sales, on judgment which shall have been obtained for such debts; and with regard to all such lands, tenements and hereditaments so to be held by the said corporation as aforesaid, except such as may be for its immediate accommodation as aforesaid, or such as it may hold by way of mortgage, and whereof the actual possession shall be and remain in the mortgagors, their heirs or assigns, the said corporation shall be bound to sell and dispose of the same respectively within five years after it shall acquire the same, and shall not be capable of holding the same after the expiration of the said five years.

And be it further enacted. That all persons who now are members of the said institution, or shall at any time hereafter subscribe to the same shall be deemed and taken for members of this corporation, and that the property and concerns of the said corporation shall be managed and conducted by thirteen governors, to be chosen by ballot, by and from the said subscribers; that the following persons (that is to say) Thomas Pearsall, John Christopher Kunze, Robert Lenox, Cornelius Ray, Archibald Gracie, John Stark Robertson, Henry Remsen, William Houstoun, Andrew Hamersly, John Charlton, David M. Clarkson, William Jauncey, J. C. Vanden Heuvel, shall be the present governors of the said corporation, and shall continue in office until the second Wednesday in April, in the year one thousand and eight hundred, when a new election shall be made at the hour and place, to be appointed by the said governors; that the election for governors after the year one thousand and eight hundred, shall be held annually on the second Wednesday of April, at such place and hour as the majority of the governors for the time being shall appoint, of which election, public notice shall be given by the said governors for the space of one week, in two of the daily newspapers, printed in the said City. That if any vacancy shall happen among the said governors (so elected) by death, resignation or removal, such vacancy shall be filled by a special election for the purpose, to be held in the same manner as the annual elections are made and at such time and place as shall be provided for by the by-laws of the said corporation, and in case it should happen that an election of governors should not be held on any day when pursuant to this act it ought to have been made, the corporation shall not for that cause be deemed to be dissolved; but it shall and may be lawful, on any other day, to hold an election of governors in such manner as the by-laws of the said corporation shall prescribe.

And be it further enacted. That the governors shall not take or receive any compensation for their services; and for the time being shall have power, to make and prescribe such by-laws, rules and regulations, as to them shall appear needful and proper touching the management and disposition of the stock, property, estates and effects, of the said corporation, and touching the duties and conduct of the officers of the said corporation, and touching all other matters as appertain to the business, ends and purposes, for which the said corporation is by this act instituted; and shall also have power to appoint an apothecary, house pupils, matron, stewards, nurses and servants, for carrying on the business of the said institution.

Provided, that for the appropriation or disposal of any of the capital stock, a number not less than seven shall constitute a quorum, of which number the president, or in his absence, the vice-president of the board, to be appointed in virtue of this act, shall be one, provided also, that such by-laws, rules and regulations shall not be repugnant to the constitution and laws of the United States, or of this State.

And be it further enacted. That the governors, at their first meeting, and also at the first meeting in every year next after the said annual election on the second Wednesday in April, shall elect by ballot, from their number a president, vice-president, a treasurer and a secretary, and that the officers thus elected, shall immediately enter upon their respective offices and hold the same until the next election of governors, and it shall be the duty of the president or vice-president to preside at all meetings of the governors.

And be it further enacted. That the governors shall propose at one meeting and elect by ballot at the next a number of physicians, not exceeding four to attend the said hospital, and to render all necessary medical aid to the persons admitted to the benefit of this institution, and that the said physicians remain in office until the next election for governors, after which time they are to be annually elected.

And be it further enacted. That this act shall be and hereby is declared to be a public act, and shall be construed in all courts and places benignly and favorable for every beneficial purpose herein intended.

Chapter 468, Laws of 1897.

An ACT to amend chapter twenty-three of the laws of seventeen hundred and ninety-nine entitled "An ACT to incorporate the Society of the Lying-In Hospital of the City of New York," relative to subscriptions, the election of subscribers as members, and the elections of physicians and surgeons.

Became a law May 17, 1897, with the approval of the Governor; passed three-fifths being present.

The people of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly do enact as follows:

SEC. 1. Section two of chapter twenty-three of the laws of seventeen hundred and ninety-nine, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, that all persons who now are members of the said institution, or shall at any time hereafter subscribe to the same, shall be deemed and taken as members of this corporation provided such subscription is received by the society, and such subscribers are elected members of the said society by the board of governors thereof, in such manner as shall be provided by the by-laws of the said society; and that the property and concerns of the said corporation shall be managed and conducted by thirteen governors, to be chosen by ballot by a majority of the governors from the said subscribers.

SEC. 2. Section five of said act is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, that the governors of the said society, or a majority of them, shall immediately after the annual meeting of the society in each year, elect by ballot such and so many physicians and surgeons as they shall judge necessary to attend the said hospital, and to render all necessary medical aid to the persons admitted to the benefit of this institution; and in case of a vacancy or vacancies, to elect other physicians or surgeons in their places.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

BY-LAWS

of the

Society of the Lying-In Hospital

of the City of New York

CHAPTER I.

ELECTION OF GOVERNORS

1. There shall be an Annual Meeting of the Governors on the first Tuesday of April in each year for the purpose of choosing by ballot by a majority vote of the existing Governors, from the members of the Society, thirteen Governors who shall manage and conduct the property and concerns of said corporation for the ensuing year and until their successors are elected, the hour and place for the holding of such meeting shall be fixed by the Board from time to time.

2. A vacancy among the Governors may be filled at any Stated Meeting of the Board by a majority vote of quorum of the Board.

3. A person subscribing to the funds of the Society a sum not less than five dollars, provided his subscription is accepted by the Board, upon being duly nominated and elected by the Governors, may become a member of the Society.

A person subscribing at one time to the funds of the Society the sum of five thousand dollars shall become a Patron of the Society, and any person so subscribing the sum of five hundred dollars shall become a Benefactor of the Society.

4. No person shall be eligible for the office of Governor unless he shall have so subscribed to the funds of the Society at least three months previous to an election.

CHAPTER II.

1. If any Governor shall be absent from three successive stated meetings of the Board, or from three successive stated meetings of any committee of which he shall be a member, his place as Governor may be vacated.

CHAPTER III.

MEETINGS OF GOVERNORS

1. The Board of Governors shall hold stated meetings on the first Tuesday of each month. The hour and place of meeting shall be from time to time appointed by the Board.

2. Special Meetings may be called by the President, or in his absence by the Vice-President, or on a written requisition of two Governors.

3. A number of not less than five shall be a quorum for the transaction of ordinary business; but for the appropriation or disposal of any of the property or money of the Society, except for the payment of necessary expenses, a number of not less than seven shall be necessary to constitute a quorum, of which number the President, or in his absence the Vice-President, shall be one.

4. At the stated meeting in April of each year, the Board shall elect from its number, by ballot, the President, Vice-President, Treasurer and Secretary, and shall appoint the following standing committees, namely

1. A Finance Committee, to consist of three Governors.

2. An Executive Committee, to consist of five Governors.

3. A Committee on Nominations, to consist of three Governors, to whom shall be referred the names of all candidates who may be proposed for election to the office of Governor, and of all nominations for vacancies occurring in any of the other offices of the Society, whenever they may occur.

4. A Law Committee, to consist of three Governors.

5. The following shall be the order of business at the meetings of the Board.

1. Reading of the Minutes of last meeting.
2. Reading of the Minutes of Standing Committees.
3. Reports of officers of the Board.
4. Reports of Standing or Special Committees.
5. Unfinished business.
6. Miscellaneous business.

CHAPTER IV.

DUTIES OF OFFICERS

1. The President, or Vice-President, together with the Secretary, may, on authority of the Board, upon the payment of the principal and interest of any Bond and Mortgage held by the Society, execute a certificate of satisfaction thereof, or an assignment of the same without recourse.

2. The Treasurer shall have the custody of the funds of the Society which shall be deposited with such Bankers, Bank or Trust Company as may be designated by the Board of Governors, and he is authorized to receive the interest or dividends on all securities and to give receipt therefor. In case of his absence or disability, the President or Vice-President is authorized to receive such interest or dividends.

3. The Treasurer shall keep books of account, and at each stated meeting shall make a report of the several sums by him received and expended.

4. The Secretary shall have the custody of the records and papers of the Society, other than the securities and medical records; he shall keep fair and accurate minutes of the proceedings of the Board, and notify the Governors of the meetings. He shall have the custody of the corporate seal of the Society.

CHAPTER V.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

1. The Finance Committee shall have power, from time to time, to direct the purchase, sale or exchange of investments of the Society and may authorize the Treasurer to execute and deliver in the name and under the seal of the Society all necessary papers in connection therewith, and no change shall be made in any investments without the authority of said committee. They shall as often as once in six months examine the Treasurer's accounts or cause the same to be examined.

2. The Finance Committee shall have and exercise such other powers as may from time to time be conferred upon them by the Board of Governors.

CHAPTER VI.

CUSTODY OF SECURITIES

1. All securities shall be deposited with such Bankers, Bank or Trust Company as may be designated by the Board of Governors. Securities so deposited to be withdrawn only upon the written order of the Society of the Lying-In Hospital when signed and countersigned by any two of the following officers: President, Vice-President, Secretary or Treasurer, or upon the signature of any one of the above officers, when countersigned by any other Governor of the Society.

CHAPTER VII.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

1. The Executive Committee shall have the supervision of all buildings and improvements belonging to the corporation, and shall hold stated meetings at least once in each month and as often as the exigencies of business may require.

2. They shall audit the bills on receiving them from the Superintendent, and make a draft on the Treasurer for the amount of the same. At their succeeding meeting they are to examine all such bills to see that they are duly receipted. They shall notify the Superintendent each month of the total amount of money which may be expected for all running expenses during the following month.

3. They shall keep a book of minutes, and enter therein such business as may come before them, which book must be laid before the Governors at every monthly meeting.

4. The Committee may direct the expenditure of money or clothes for the relief of patients who from extreme poverty or circumstances of peculiar distress, may need such aid.

5. Whenever they think it necessary that a special meeting of the Governors should be called they shall apply for that purpose to the President, or in his absence, to the Vice-President. In the absence or inability of both to act, such meetings may be called by the Chairman of the Executive Committee.

6. The Executive Committee shall have and exercise such other powers as may from time to time be conferred upon them by the Board of Governors.

CHAPTER VIII.

1. The Board of Governors, or a majority of them, shall, immediately after the Annual Meeting of the Board in each year, elect by ballot such and so many physicians and surgeons as they shall judge necessary to attend the Hospital and to render all necessary medical aid to the persons admitted to the benefits of the Institution, and to conduct the educational and medical work of the Hospital. In case of a vacancy or vacancies, the Board of Governors, or a majority of them shall elect other physicians or surgeons to fill the same.

2. No surgeon, officer, nurse or servant of this Institution shall accept any gift or bequest from or on behalf of any patient in the Wards or Out-Patient Department.

CHAPTER IX.

1. Persons may contribute toward the endowment of beds in the Society's Hospital by the payment of a sum not less than $7,500, the annual income from which will be applied to the cost of maintaining a free bed in one of the wards so far as such income will suffice to pay such cost. Persons making such payments shall have such rights in respect to naming patients to the Society for treatment as the Governors shall from time to time prescribe.

CHAPTER X.

AMENDMENTS TO BY-LAWS

1. Any alteration or amendment of these by-laws must be proposed in writing at a stated meeting of the Governors, but cannot be acted upon until a subsequent stated meeting; when the same may be adopted provided a majority of the Governors shall approve thereof.

2. These by-laws shall take effect immediately, and all other by-laws of the Society are repealed.

REPORT OF IN-PATIENTS' COMMITTEE

(Committee 1)

November 16th, 1930—November 14th, 1931

The work of the In-Patient Committee during 1931 reveals a variety of interesting factors. It insures a careful inquiry into all applications to avoid trouble arising from indiscriminate alms-giving.

A total of 823 cases have been cared for: 113 unmarried mothers, 73 deserted or separated, 637 married women, 1 widow.

One hundred and twenty-seven children have been referred to child placing agencies during their mothers' confinement at the hospital.

Eighty-four women were placed in homes upon their discharge from the hospital.

Ninety-six women and children received convalescent care.

It is with the greatest satisfaction and pleasure that we are able to announce the following agencies have enabled us to obtain excellent results:

Heartsease Home	Caroline Rest
Jewish Board of Guardians	Children's Aid Society
New York Foundling Hospital	Jewish Social Service
Dept. of Public Welfare	Charity Organization
Catholic Charities	Maternity Center
A. I. C. P.	Jewish Children's Clearing Bureau
Washington Square Home	St. Barnabas House
Burke Relief Foundation	Guild of the Infant Saviour

Respectfully submitted,

REPRESENTATIVE CASES

Case No. 1. G. S., 230 East 25th Street.

The mother was twenty-eight years of age (first baby) and the husband forty-six. They had been separated for several months, and the patient worked as a cleaner in offices up to the time of confinement.

When the doctor arrived on the case he found the home conditions terrible; nothing to work with and the patient lying on an old mattress on the floor. The police got in touch with the husband and made him get a bed. He did not seem at all interested in the baby, although he had promised to provide food and to give the patient five dollars a week.

Clothing for the mother and baby was supplied by the hospital and the cleaner's services given for ten days. The doctor advised the patient to come into the hospital but she refused.

Case No. 2. P. L., 436 East 13th Street.

The mother and new-born baby with two other children, ages two and a half years and thirteen months lived in three very untidy rooms. Her mother who lived in the same house took care of her. The husband deserted his family two months before the baby's birth, and had deserted them previous to the birth of the second child. Both parents are very shiftless.

The case was referred to the Family Court. When a nurse called a few days after nursing care had been discontinued she found that the husband had returned.

Case No. 3. 59 Forsythe Street.

The patient with her baby and fourteen months old child lived with her parents and six other children. The home conditions were poor and unkept. Patient's husband was convicted of murder after the holdup of a grocery store. The mother and babies are looked after by the Prison Welfare while the husband is awaiting sentence. He has appealed for a new trial. The hospital gave baby clothes and cleaner services were given for twelve days.

REPORT OF CLOTHING COMMITTEE

(Committee 3)

Although the demand for clothing has been considerably higher this year than last, we find a great many of our patients are still able to provide their own layettes.

The House of Industry does all sewing for the Ladies' Auxiliary.

There have been 1,047 garments given out during the year as follows:

Nightgowns.....	9
Abdominal Binders.....	2
Shirts.....	152
Dresses.....	154

While the daily attendance at the Babies' Class has not been quite as large as during some of the preceding years, the work done has been very satisfactory. As we now charge a small fee for admission to the Class many of the mothers have not attended very regularly, small as this sum is, it has seemed too much for them when carfare must be added to it, very often as much as 20 cents, because so many come from out of town homes now. If the father is out of work, every cent must be saved for food and rent, hence it has sometimes been impossible for a mother to attend the Class unless the baby is really ill.

We like to have all our babies come for examination and weighing at least once in two weeks, the sick ones coming to every session until they no longer need special treatment; in former years the mothers were quite willing to do this but in the last year or two they often attend some nearby welfare station to which they can walk, bringing the baby to our Class only when ill.

Our visiting nurses make many calls on these patients and in some instances find conditions very sad. In such cases we supply free milk, special sugar, and ice tickets during the summer, thus tiding the family over the most difficult time and insuring a good start in life for the young infant. During the summer, mothers and babies are often sent to the country or seashore for a little vacation and rest, some of those unable to leave home for long, are sent on day trips where they may be refreshed by ocean breezes.

While we have had several sets of white triplets, we have never before this year, had colored ones. We now have 3 fine babies nearly 3 months old, June, Joan and Lewis, all doing very well on milk formulae, gaining as well as single babies usually do. This family also has a little girl 3½ years of age and a boy 2 years old. The father has to take a day away from his work, to assist the mother in bringing the babies to the Class and the other children must also come because there is no one at home with whom they can be left. They make a very interesting little group and are very proud of their 3 babies who are doing so well. They attend very regularly once each month and the nurses make frequent calls on them in their home, helping them obtain milk, sugar, clothing, etc.

During the worst of the epidemic of infantile paralysis, many remained away from the Class, as they had been instructed to avoid crowds. Our babies are under the age when this disease is most prevalent, but we had one genuine case in a baby 4 months of age, who was extensively paralyzed by the time it reached us and was sent to St. Mary's Free Hospital for Children, where our diagnosis was confirmed and the baby subsequently died.

This will probably be the last report of our Babies' Class, and realizing this we cannot help feeling a little sad. It has been such a pleasure to watch this work grow from the time it was organized in 1903. We had no druggist, nurse or clerk at first, but the mothers soon came in such numbers, that before many years we needed all the help we could obtain. We are now treating a number of babies whose mothers were patients at our Class during its early years.

We hope our Class will be carried on elsewhere successfully and that those having charge of it will enjoy its direction as much as we have done.
